The Deer Island fishermen strongly commend the course of the department in strictly enforcing the regulation preventing fishing on the spawning grounds at Grand Manan. They say that if this policy is continued the sardine fishing will never give out, but the supply increase every year. The supply is larger this year than for many years past.—Cadiz Times.

The court in Halifax has delivered judgment in the crown cases reserved. The conviction in the Queen versus Preper for the murder of Peter Doyle was sustained. The chief justice and McDonald dissented, holding that the evidence of Dr. McKay, who gave an opinion as to the distance of the gun from the wound, was improperly received. The chief justice thought that this was only McKay's opinion, and it was not part of the science of surgery but of trajectory. The case will be taken to the supreme court of Canada.

A Utah despatch says that "Apostle George Q. Cannon, who has evaded the officers of law for over two years, surrendered himself yesterday in answer to the charge of unlawfully cohabitation. Nothing that has occurred in the territory for a number of years created such a sensation as this news when it became known throughout the city. Cannon was at one time delegate to Congress, and has been the virtual head of the Mormon church for years. He was arrested several years ago in Nevada a fugitive from justice and his sensational leap from the trait and his subsequent forfeiture of a forty-five thousand dollar bond are matters of history. The Court sentenced Cannon to seventy-five days imprisonment and a fine of $200 on the first indictment and $250 fine on the second indictment. Cannon was taken to the penitentiary.

At a meeting of radical unionists at Bradford, Hon. Mr. Chamberlain said he believed a rupture in the liberal party improbable and almost impossible. The Gladstonians carefully avoided putting their programme before the country because they did not know themselves what the unstable politicians leading them might next propose. The speaker defended the action of the Irish executive, claiming that the course pursued had been strictly in accordance with parliamentary legislation. He denied that evictions were unfair. They might fall harshly upon victims of the plan of campaign, but greater injustice would be done to the cause of social order if the people were allowed to defy the law with impunity and evictions were stopped on account of threats of members of the national league. The unionists would continue in the exercise of their plain duty of protecting the minority in Ireland and preserving intact the faith, honor and integrity of the country.
