God Grant I May Not Live in Vain-

God grant I may not live in vain, Some useless part fulfilling; Like water, gathered not again. Which careless hand is spilling.

May I but add my being's force To that eternal river, Which has in God's own love its source, And flows to him forever.

Some Christian song may I but write, And to his altar bring it ; Some hymn of praise to Christ indite, And after-ages sing it.

To some lost soul the gospel preach, Give him kind exhortation ; Some little child the way may teach, And bring it to salvation.

By some lone couch may breathe a prayer Or send some tender token. To save the tempted from despair, Or blind the heart that's broken ;

Thatme, at last, my Lord may know, And give me recognition. Because I walked with him below, And kept the great commission. -Rev. J. E. Rankin, D. D.

Sensational Preaching.

Every minister of the gospel is a builder 1 Cor. 3: 10, and the material he puts into the building will determine its character and his wisdom. The foundation for the building is Christ, but we choose the material with which we build. Now as ever the great object of preaching is to lead men and women to Christ, and then instruct them in their Christian duties. Again, ministers are the spiritual fathers of those converted under their labors; and that children are like their parents is no truer physically than it is spiritually ; and too, that we are influenced by the surroundings of home in church as well as family is proven, by the experience and the observation of all.

Matthew in giving the commission says, "Go ye therefore and teach all nations," but Mark says "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." If, then, preaching

Christian Conduct.

Oftentime a young Christian may b ouzzled about how he should act as Christian. I have this much to sayone who is very anxious to do God's will is prayerful and reads his Bible daily, is not often troubled by this question. We must take it for granted that everybody who is a Christian wants to do the will of Christ.

The new Testament furnishes general rules for Christian conduct. The whole law is, love to God and love to man. This comprehends everything. We give some rules founded on the ARRANGEMENT OF TRAINS Scriptures :

1. Do nothing if you doubt its being right : "Whatsoever is not of faith is sin."

We see hence why some them, and how many prayers are people are happy religiously only when offered in their behalf without ever they are in the midst of excitement, thinking that they might be brought while others demand the opposite to the church and to Christ by each member being thoroughly revived and filled with the Spirit. On the day of Pentecost the one hundred and with it a conviction of right from an twenty were first blessed, and through them the thousands. The reviving of the church by the Holy Spirit is the precursor of all aggressive work. There is nothing that witnesses so powerfully for truth as an earnest, consecrated life. The world has no time to read the Bible. It reads men and judges Christ and the church by them.

The work of revival must be begun in prayer. The promise of God to little thought as to what constitute the Father answering in love the requests of the child. Money, means and methods, are good in their place, but are of no avail without prayer.

Whatever progress may be made in other lines, no progress can be made in church-life without prayer.
