keep it running. He advocated enlarged trade relations, not with the antipodes, but with our immediate neighbors to the south. He did not know how much of the hostility to the United States was from pure downright stupidity. He contended that our condition was one of arrested development, and he prescribed as a remedy unrestricted reciprocity. The moment was opportune to seek such extended trade relations in view of the olive branch extended a few days ago by the house of representatives. He thought that the United States were quite prepared to meet us in a friendly spirit and as an amendment to the notion to go into committee supply he moved.

"That in the present condition of affairs and in view of the recent action of the house of representatives of the United States, it is expedient that steps should be taken to ascertain on what terms and conditions arrangements can be effected with the United States for the purpose of securing full and unrestricted reciprocity of trade therewith."

Hon. C. H. Tupper followed Sir Rich. Cartwright, and the debate was continued, participated in by Messrs. Charlton, White, Armstrong, Porter, McMillan, Ferguson and others.

The Local Legislature.

The Legislature was opened with the usual ceremonies on Thursday at 3 p. m. The speech of the Lieutenant Governor spoke of the encouraging condition of the business of the country. "Although there was a partial failure of crops last season in some localities, yet the increase in the earnings of vessel property of all kinds, the enhanced value of our wood products and the remunerative returns of our coast fisheries, have created a feeling of general hopefulness and contentment among our people." It intimated that measures relating to elections and to extend the electoral franchise; for the better protection of public lands from fires; to make additional provision for the care of the insane; to amend the act relating to the registration of births, deaths and marriages; relating to the public departments; for the establishment of District Courts; and concerning the solemnization of marriage, would be submitted.

In the Assembly, suitable reference was made to the death of the late Clerk, Mr. Geo. J. Bliss, by the Speaker, the Attorney General and Mr. Hanington. Mr. Emerson, the new member for Albert Co., was sworn in and took his seat. The address in reply to the Governor's speech was delivered by Mr. Emerson in a well delivered speech. Dr. Alward seconded the reply. Mr. Hanington and the Attorney General also spoke. The address passed.

Mr. Lablanc called attention to the fact that many French people had to depend on the two French papers in the Province for information of the work of the Assembly, and suggested that the Government make an arrangement with the editors for translation of the debates.

Hon. Mr. Blair said that while the Government did not pay any paper for publishing debates, and could not furnish a French reporter, if the French papers translate the debates and send in their accounts he had no doubt they would be allowed in the usual way.

ICELANDERS IN CANADA.—No fewer than 46 Icelanders were married in Winnipeg last year, or 13 per cent. of the total number of persons who assumed the yoke matrimonial. The clergyman who performed the great number of marriages, Rev. Mr. Björnsen, is an Icelandic. The fact was also either that the Icelanders are a numerous population in and around the capital of Manitoba, or are exceptionally enterprising in matrimonial adventures. Many of the marriages are between Icelanders and English people, and the readiness with which these unions take place suggest that these sturdy Norse settlers, despite the strong national traits their interesting history and surroundings have induced amongst them, are likely to be speedily assimilated by the Canadians.—Empire.
