We have not had a series of special meetings yet this year, though all our meetings in a good sense, are special.

THE DIFFERENCE.—The "faith-cure" movement, says the Guardian, should not be confounded with the misnamed "Christian Science" folly.

The "faith cure" people teach that there is no such thing as bodily disease; that bodily ailments are a product of the mind, and can be removed by mentally disbelieving their existence.

The "faith cure" leaders teach that Christ came to save the body as well as the soul, and that God is as willing to heal the diseases of the body as those of the mind, if we have faith that he will do it.

In common with most Christians who reject this theory, we do not deny God's power to heal bodily disease. We do not deny that he has healed bodily disease in answer to the prayer of faith.

We admit that he is the author and sustainer of all life. We deem it eminently proper to ask God to bless the means used in any case, as far as it may be in accordance with his will.

But what we do object to is the assumption that faith, without the use of any human remedies, is the divinely appointed means of healing all bodily disease. This cannot fail to lead to a fanatical and false trust.

If human agency is unquestionably proper in the case of a broken limb, why may it not be equally proper in the case of a disordered stomach?

OTTAWA NOTES.—A despatch from the capital says: The Minister of Marine and Fisheries has under consideration the project of establishing lobster hatcheries in connection with the fish hatcheries of the Dominion.

CHRISTIAN CONFERENCE.—The General Conference, under the auspices of the Evangelical Alliance of the United States, was held in Tremont Temple, Boston, last week, beginning on Wednesday and closing Friday.

Rev. Dr. Gordon for the Boston Alliance made an address of welcome saying among other things that this century which has been a period of development of sects has also been one of the widest missionary activity.

Over 1,000 Protestant sects support 146 missionary societies and 6,000 missionaries. He earnestly protested against the greed that grinds the laborer between the upper and nether millstone.

Rev. Dr. Josiah Strong, general secretary of the Alliance, spoke on the progress of Christian co-operation. The signs now all point to an era of unity among the sects.

C. T. A. Notes.—The Guarantee fund, begun the night of the election, is steadily increasing. Michael Dorhan, charged with perjury for having sworn his name was Thos. Dorhan, has been before the Police Magistrate.

SANTA CLAUS.—Fred B. Edgecomb's large show room is just now a great attraction to the many who are looking for suitable gifts to bestow upon their loved ones, and friends at Christmas.

A FATHER'S NEGLECT AND REGRET.—Bishop Coxe of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States is the son of Rev. Dr. Coxe a Presbyterian divine.

THE CADETS of Temperance at Marysville now number 120. Mr. A. Rowley has charge of the Section.

Literary Notes.

The November Wide Awake is likely to be sought and preserved, on account of its portrait of Helen Hunt in her young womanhood. The accompanying article is full of fresh anecdote and gives the story of "The Naughtiest Day of my Life," as H. H. one day related it to her friend.

November begins the twentieth year of The Century Magazine. The opening pages are devoted to a generous installment of the autobiography of Joseph Jefferson.

His funeral, which was attended by many people, was on Sabbath last inst., the pastor preaching from a text selected by our deceased brother, viz. "Finally, brethren, farewell. BABY ONE SOLID RASH.—Ugly, painful blotched, malicous. No rest by day, no peace by night. Doctors and all remedies failed. Tried Cuticura. Effect marvellous. Cured his life.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched and malicous. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. This cure was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion, your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

My boy, aged nine years, has been troubled all his life with a very bad humor, which appeared all over his body in small red blotches, with a dry white scab on them. Last year he was worse than ever, being covered with scales from the top of his head to his feet, and continually growing worse, although he had been treated by two physicians. As a last resort, I determined to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and an happy to say they did all that I could wish. Using them according to directions, the humor rapidly disappeared, leaving the skin fair and smooth, and performing a thorough cure. The CUTICURA REMEDIES are all you claim for them. They are worth their weight in gold.
