

liberty so to do; their only punishment is the divine retribution which follows marrying, or any other declension from the "harvest life." They claim to be the first to sell good garden seed, to make broom brush into brooms, to make and use the buzz saw, planing machines and metallic pens. There are in our country seventeen communities of these quaint people; but their numbers are smaller than they were forty years ago. This is distinctively an American sect, although Mother Ann Lee was an English woman. The existence of this strange community is a wonderful testimony to her power. This little woman of fair complexion and light hair and blue eyes was once the wife of a blacksmith named Abraham Stanley, and although without education she possessed great power in public addresses; she swept her audiences with her emotions of joy and sorrow. The Shakers put her on the same plane with Jesus Christ; but her power is clearly waning, and the time will come when this strange sect will take its place among the almost forgotten organizations of American history.

Temperance Notes.

—A German saloon-keeper says the letters W. C. T. U. mean "women constantly torment us."

—The king of Italy, a total abstainer, has recently given up tobacco, with marked benefit to his health.

—The new Earl of Carlisle is a strict total abstainer; so is Lady Carlisle. Both wear the Blue Ribbon.

—Chicago has eighteen breweries, whose average yearly product is one and a half million barrels of beer.

—The Danish Government has absolutely prohibited the liquor traffic in Greenland.

—It is said there is family prayer in a larger proportion of the homes of Fiji than of Christian America.

—The death-rate in the case of brewers, commercial travellers, and others exposed to the temptation of frequent alcoholic drinking, is six times greater than in all other industries combined.

—NEWCASTLE, Eng., shows a conviction for drunkenness annually for each fifty-two of its population. Liverpool is disgraced by one in forty. Norwich, which is the least drunken city in England, boasts of only one conviction in nine hundred and eighty-seven of the population.

—In the town of Bessbrook, Ireland, where John G. Richardson employs 3,000 people in the manufacture of Irish linen, no liquor has been sold for forty years; and, as a result, there is neither policeman, prison, pawn-shop, nor pauper in the town.

—One head of a public school said he could always tell when a boy commenced to use tobacco by the record of his recitations. Professor Oliver, of the Annapolis Academy, said he could indicate the boy who used tobacco by his absolute inability to draw a clean straight line. —Medical Record.

—Intemperance has spread to such an extent among boys and girls in Austria that the Vienna School Board is again moving to have a law enacted prohibiting the sale of intoxicants to children under fifteen years of age. The appearance of a boy at school in a state of drunkenness is said to be by no means a rare sight in Vienna.

—The Rev. C. E. Bentley, a Baptist minister, of Nebraska, says: "In Omaha and Lincoln, wine rooms are now attached to saloons, where people of both sexes meet regularly and drink in a fashionable way. One of the blighting curses of our high-license law is the demoralization of women through these channels."

—The romantic history of a temperance tract has just come to light. One of Mrs. Mary Leavitt's printed leaflets was translated into the Siamese language while she was at Bangkok, and extensively circulated. A man connected with one of the Buddhist temples chanced to read it, liked it, and rendered it in verse. A nobleman who owns a press had the verses printed, and distributed five hundred copies at the "hair-cutting festival" of his son. An immense number is now being sold.

B. U. TAYLOR.—The Olean, N. Y. Board of Trade has issued a book descriptive of the city, its natural advantages, and its growth. It has many illustrations, and the portraits of a number of representative men. Among the portraits we find one of a gentleman in whom many of our readers will be interested. It is that of Mr. B. U. Taylor, son of the late Rev. A. Taylor who was so well known and loved by our churches, and whose memory is tenderly cherished.

A sketch of him says:

"Mr. Taylor is one of the leading supply dealers, contractors and builders in the city. He has a practical knowledge of work from excavation to chimney top, as well as of the price of all kinds of materials used in the construction of a building of any kind. Among the features of his business to which he gives particular attention is setting boilers and the construction of tan-burning ovens and sawdust furnaces. He has remodelled or built nearly all the furnaces for tanneries and saw-mills in this region, and gained for himself the reputation of an expert among users of power and consumers of fuel."

We are glad to have this evidence of Mr. Taylor's success.

RUSSIAN RAILWAYS.—Russia is showing great enterprise in the construction of railways. The Czar sees that railways are necessary to his schemes of territorial aggrandizement. The building of the Trans-Caspian railway was a great triumph, and now it is proposed to build a Siberian railway to connect with Pekin. The Russian Minister of the Interior says that eleven years will be required to complete the enterprise. But Gen. Annenkoff says that he can build the road in three years, and at a cost of 300,000,000 roubles. The surveys have already been made, and if Gen. Annenkoff should succeed, according to his estimates, the merchants of London will be able, in the autumn of 1892, to reach Pekin in eighteen days. It now takes forty-five days by way of Brindisi and Suez.

John J. Weddall's Bargain sales last week were very successful and large numbers visited his store. His new advertisement announcing arrival of seasonable goods has unavoidably been held over until next week.

ALL SORTS.

Sailors believe that the frigate bird can start at daybreak with the trade winds from the coast of Africa, and roost the same night on the American shore. Whether or not this is a fact has not yet been conclusively determined, but it is certain that the bird is the swiftest of winged creatures, and is able to fly, under favourable conditions, 200 miles an hour.

An engineer of the Comstock Mines recently came upon an enormous tree of the Sequoia species, in the wilds of the Sierras, in Tulare county California, which he believes to be the largest on the continent. The party had no rule with them, but one of them measured the tree with his rifle, which is four feet long, and found it to be forty-four lengths of the gun in circumference, at a point above the ground as high as he could reach. The top of the tree is broken off, but it is still of immense height.

Application for a patent on an electric light method of instantaneous photography has been made by two gentlemen recently. The apparatus is designed especially for the detection of burglars. It can be so arranged that a burglar on entering a bank, office, or dwelling will, in his operations, touch something which will cause a flash and result in his being photographed. A number of cameras may be placed in a room and a variety of views taken simultaneously. The tell-tale wire can be fastened to the knob of a safe or door, so that the intruder cannot avoid touching it, thus disclosing his identity.

Certain railroad companies in London employ horses for switching cars, at which business a heavy horse, weighing about two thousand pounds, can do good service. They soon become very expert, and start the car by standing with the trace chain slack, and then, without moving their feet, throw their shoulders forward, when their weight starts the car. They also learn to judge when the car has acquired sufficient speed, and step aside without a word of command, letting the cars come gently together.

An invention to prevent collisions at sea, consisting of a small plate fixed at the side of the vessel, has been very successfully tried on the Thames. Electricity is the active agent.

The approach of another vessel within two miles causes a bell to sound, and an indicating arrow shows the direction whence it comes.

Mr. Gladstone is said to be an excellent sleeper, usually putting in about seven hours' sleep in every twenty-four hours, and having the happy art of dismissing his public cares upon going to bed. This is one of the causes to which he attributes his good health and bodily vigor. Brain-workers must be good sleepers, or they will soon break down.

A report comes by way of Germany that a novel use of electricity has been made in India, for the prevention of intrusion of snakes into dwellings. Before all the doors and around the house two wires are laid, connecting with an induction apparatus. Should a snake attempt to crawl over the wires, he receives a shock of electricity, which either kills him, or frightens him into a hasty retreat.

In New York City there are three women who are well-known as butchers, and one has followed the business at the same place for twenty-five years. Another has been a butcher for twenty years. One would naturally expect such women to be coarse and masculine; but one of them is said to be "a delicate and refined-looking little woman, and in or out of her store would hardly be supposed equal to so robust an occupation." —Treasure Trove.

A witty as well as a soft answer will sometimes turn away wrath. Charles Burleigh, the Abolitionist, in the midst of an anti-slavery speech, was struck by a rotten egg full in the face. Pausing to wipe away the contents of the missile, he said, calmly: "I have always contended that pro-slavery arguments are very unsound." The crowd roared, and he was no longer molested.

The total population of Bulgaria and Rumelia strangers included, was ascertained on January 1st, 1888, to be 3,154,575. Of these 2,336,250 were Bulgarians, 904,000 Turks, and only 86,000 Greeks. The Turkish race in Bulgaria exhibit a singular predominance of females, who number 607,000, and 58,000 of the Greeks are females. Among the Bulgarians and other races the males are in excess.

Egypt employs 1500 convicts upon its public works at a very small cost to the country. When the plans of Dr. Crookshank, Director-General of Prisons are completed, the time of 4,000 other prisoners will be profitably employed. This is rather better than supporting prisoners in idleness, as has been done on New York State for so long now. But perhaps there is no labour reform party in Egypt.

Miss Nightingale says that efficient women doctors are sorely needed now in India for the forty millions of women who must be treated by them or not at all. The consideration, and the hope of securing really good hospital experience for the ladies who propose to devote their lives to professional work in India, are the motives for earnest efforts to build and establish a new and larger Women's Hospital in London.

A woman at Scranton, Pa., whose son had a toothach, took him to a faith healer. "Look at me in the eyes," said the doctor, fixing a fascinating gaze on the weeping youth. "Now your toothache has entirely disappeared. You haven't a bit of toothache about you." "You lie! I have," yelled the boy, with a fresh howl. The mother then took him to a dentist. She says Christian science is intended for older people, who can grasp it.

In South America, one sees great fields, acres in extent, thickly covered with oats, among which no other plant appears. This crop has not been sown by men, but is a spontaneous growth of bearded oats from Southern Europe, called tatiana by the Chilians. The common white clover is also spreading more and more widely in Chili, and suppressing native plants as it goes. As European man drives out the native American man, so European plants drive out those indigenous to the soil.

A substitute for laughing-gas has been found in the seeds of an Arabian shrub. The seed-pod contains two or three black seeds of the size and shape of a French bean. Their flavor is a little like that of opium, the taste is sweet, and the odor from them produces a sickening sensation, and is slightly offensive. These seeds, when pulverized and taken in small doses, operate upon a person in a peculiar manner. He begins to laugh loudly and boisterously, and then sings, dances, and cuts up all kinds of fantastic capers. The effect continues for about an hour, and the patient is extremely comical. When the excitement ceases, the exhausted individual falls into a deep sleep, which continues for an hour or more; and, when he awakens, he is utterly unconscious that any such demonstrations have been made by him. —Springfield Republican.

Literary Notes.

The leading article in the August Missionary Review of the World on Islam and Christian Missions is one of extraordinary interest. It covers 17 pages. There is a paper of deep interest on evangelical work in France. Dr. Pierson writes in his usual earnest and eloquent style on The Attitude of the Papal Church towards Progress, and on Spain, the Land of the Papal Inquisition. The other departments as usual are full of intelligence and correspondence and brief papers and statistics from all parts of the world. Two of the Editorial Notes will attract attention and remark: President Harrison and Missions, and The Fight with Jesuitism in Canada.

WM. PETERS, Clerk.
St. John, July 25, 1889.

P. S.—Will the several churches see to it that the Conference fund is forwarded. Twenty-five cents from each member is a small matter for each individual but would make a fund that would give large chances to help forward the work of the denomination.
