

quickest and surest method of bringing about a reform. And this, we are glad to know is rapidly being done. The miserableness of such selfish, arbitrary government cannot long withstand an awakened public sentiment. The Christian world is becoming agitated over just such humane questions. In Philadelphia alone, there are eighty societies organized and at work, which have for their object this same end.

More Boston Notes.

Prohibition is at the front. I attended a rousing meeting addressed by some of the leading workers of the city. Drs. Gordon and Miner made happy and effective speeches; Rev. E. J. Grant (Baptist) also gave a rattling speech; but a colored speaker, a Rev. Mr. Hector, gave us the cream. Out of 57 ministers in Boston who had been asked how they purposed voting, 46 answered for the prohibition ticket. I dropped into a Christian Alliance meeting, now being held in Park St. Church. It was soon clear that we were in a convention well known as to purpose and character in N. B. and N. S. The meeting began at 2.30. About 700 were present. A number of testimonies were given, then we had an address by a Rev. Mr. McBride, of New York. He took for his text 1 Thessa. 5-23. He told us that before he came to the meeting he had thought out another subject, but the Holy Spirit told him to take the text named and the subject "what is entire sanctification?" Before naming some strange things said, what bothered us was that, making such a claim, he should have been so illogical, profuse and uncharitable. Method, manner and substance were strange for one who claimed to be filled—wholly filled, by the Holy Spirit. Also let it be said that, honestly, we desire to be just and true, and, before God, receive the truth in righteousness. Now for some of his statements:

"Three fourths of the members of the Christian church know nothing experimentally of regeneration."

"Justification does not remove inbred sin."

"Sanctification is a second work. To be entirely sanctified is to be freed from all sin. He who is entirely sanctified cannot commit sin."

"Sin is a voluntary, wilful transgression of God's law. Mistakes are not sin."

"Justification has to do with the past; sanctification with the present and future."

As he had spent half an hour in telling us what we have given in substance, his time and our time was up. Crossing the street we again listened to Father Ignatius. It was an after-school service. Subject, "The Lord our righteousness." He treated it with skill. "This righteousness"—he said—"is a robe and an indwelling power. A vital grace and a peaceful rest. A gift, appropriated by simple faith, imparting rest and peace. A harbor of refuge and a living bread. You ask what is it? 'The Lord our righteousness.' For us, and in us, the power of God unto salvation." There was much more in the address; it was rich in expression, thought and manner.

One central thought was with us as we attended, a second time, the Christian Alliance. "If salvation is intricate, surely few indeed will be saved. Then, why is it that men, when they pray to the Lord, should be anxious to let Him know all about special theology? Also when they speak and pray why be forgetful of their interests and claims? Two or three occupy two hours, when others have brought something for mutual edification. 'Much speaking' is a name to the modern convention, and sanctification is at a discount. But, dear friends, what a lot a man needs to know, to be wise in the Lord. To know that to say and how to say it means a knowledge of true wisdom easy to see, hard to possess."

Rev. A. C. THOMPSON, who is visiting his parents in Lowell, Mass., writes that he is having a very enjoyable holiday. We make some extracts from his letter:

"I am enjoying a multitude of religious privileges; each night finds me some religious service."

"I meet a number of N. B. people here and I am inclined to think that the Maritime Free Baptists are the leaders to the Massachusetts F. B. churches, and I am glad to be able to report that the ministers here speak highly of those coming to them from the Provinces."

"Bro. Mearns is doing a good work here. On Nov. 7th I attended his week night prayer-meeting, and it was an enjoyable season, a large proportion of the 75 present being N. B. and N. S. people. I met acquaintances there from St. John, Penobscot and Petitcodiac. The three other F. B.

churches in the city are all doing well and have good men for pastors.

"I met Bro. Rogers, of our Conference, who is still supplying for the Amesbury church, a promising field. They are anxious to settle him as pastor, and if the way does not soon open in N. B. we may lose him."

"Last Sabbath (9th inst.) I occupied the pulpit of the Paige St. F. B. church. It is the largest and wealthiest church of the denomination in New England. Rev. Geo. Howard is pastor. The Sabbath previous I assisted him in the services throughout the day, conducting the evening Gospel service. The closing meeting of the day was grand, five seekers being gathered in the Gospel net."

DENOMINATIONAL NEWS.

NORTH RIVER, S. C.—We have closed the special meetings at second N. R. church. Eleven more were baptized and received into the church, making in all 25. A number of others professed conversion, but could not see their way clear to be baptized just now. They are in sympathy with us. I have received a call from all the churches I laboured with last year, but have not decided what I shall do.

ABRAM PERRY.

Nov. 7th.

A REQUEST.—The Home Mission Executive desires that every church needing missionary labour or help communicate the fact, stating particulars. Churches needing pastors are, also, asked to make the fact known to the H. M. Executive; and they would like, too, to have the names and P. O. addresses of all unengaged ministers who desire engagements. The Executive desires, as far as possible, to aid in supplying all the unoccupied parts of our field. All correspondence for the H. M. Executive should be addressed to the undersigned at Indian-town, St. John.

FREDERICTON JUNCTION.—I have entered another year's work with the Fredericton Junction and Tracy Station churches. I have been holding special services at the Junction for some little time with good results; there have been several conversions, and, pastor and church, feel encouraged and rejoice together. Looking back over the past, we thank God that the seed sown from the pulpit and Sabbath school has borne fruit to His glory and the good of precious souls. Last Sabbath six were baptized. The meetings still go on. I spent Nov. 5, (Guy Fawkes day) with the brethren of Sunbury L. O. A. No. 145, of which I am a member, and had a very pleasant and enjoyable day. Sometime ago they asked me to speak to them in the church on the above named day, which I did, and in return received a tangible token of their appreciation and esteem; for which I feel grateful.

A GREAT AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

THE SUCCESS OF "THE CENTURY" AND ITS PLANS FOR 1891.

THE CENTURY MAGAZINE is now so well-known that to tell of its past success seems almost an old story. The N. Y. Tribune has said that it and its companion, St. Nicholas for Young Folks, issued by the same house, "are read by every one person in thirty of the country's population," and the evidence of its reach is sent beyond the seas. It is an interesting fact that a few years ago it was found that seven thousand copies of The Century went to Scotland, quite a respectable edition in itself. The question in England is not, "What does it read an American book?" but "Who does not see the American magazines?"

A few years ago The Century about doubled its circulation with the famous War Papers, by General Grant and others, adding many more readers later with the Lincoln history and Kennan's thrilling articles on the Siberian Exile System. One great feature of 1891 is to be "THE GOLD HUNTERS OF CALIFORNIA," describing that remarkable movement in the gold fields in '49, in a series of richly illustrated articles written by survivors, including the narratives of men who went to California, and the adventures of the counts of the gold discovery, and the mines, the work of the vigilance committee, by the chairman of the committee, etc., etc. General Fremont's last writing was done for this series. In November appears the opening article, "The First Emigrant Train to California,"—crossing the Rockies in 1841, by General Bidwell, a pioneer of pioneers. Thousands of American families who had some relative or friend among "the Argonauts of '49" will be interested in these papers.

MANY OTHER GOOD THINGS ARE COMING—the narrative of an American's travels through that unknown land Tibet (for 700 miles over ground never before trod by a white man); the experience of escaping War-Prisoners; American Newspapers described by well-known journalists; accounts of the great Indian Fighters, Custer and others; personal anecdotes of Lincoln, by his private secretary; "The Faith Doctor," a novel by Edward Eggleston, with a wonderful rich programme of novelettes and stories by most of the leading writers, etc., etc.

It is also announced that The Century has purchased the right to print, before its appearance in France or any other country, extracts from advanced sheets of the famous Talleyrand Memoirs, which have been secretly preserved for half a century—to be first given to the world through the pages of an American magazine. All Europe is eagerly awaiting the publication of this personal history of Talleyrand—greatest of intriguers and diplomats.

The November Century begins the volume, and new subscribers should commence with that issue. The subscription price ($4.00) may be remitted directly to the publishers, The Century Co., 33 East 17th St., New York, or single copies may be purchased of any newsdealer. The purchasers offer to send a free sample copy—a recent back number—to any one desiring it.

CHILDREN'S LITERATURE.

WHAT "ST. NICHOLAS" HAS DONE FOR BOYS AND GIRLS.

Victor Hugo calls this "the woman's century," and he might have added that it is the children's century as well, for never before in the world's history has so much thought been paid to children—their schools, their books, their pictures, and their lives. Childhood, as we understand it, is a recent discovery.

Up to the time of the issue of the St. Nicholas Magazine seventeen years ago literature and children's magazines were almost contradictory terms, but the new periodical started out with the idea that nothing was too good for children, the result has been a juvenile magazine genuine with conscientious purpose,—the greatest writers contributing to it, with the best artists and engravers turning to beautify it,—and everything helped to the keynote of youth.

It has been the special aim of St. Nicholas to supply unhealthful literature with stories of a living and beautiful interest. It will not do to take fascinating bad literature out of boys' hands, and give them in its place Mrs. Barbauld and Peter Parley, or the word of writers who think that any "good" talk will do for children, but they must have strong, interesting reading, with the blood and sinew of real life in it,—reading that will awaken them to a closer observation of the best things about them.

In the seventeen years of its life St. Nicholas has not only elevated the children, but it has also elevated the tone of contemporary children's literature as well. Many of its stories, like Mrs. Burnett's "Little Lord Fauntleroy," have become classic. It is not too much to say that almost every notable young people's story now produced in America first seeks the light in the pages of that magazine.

The year 1891 will prove once more that "no household where there are children is complete without St. Nicholas." J. T. Frowbridge, Noah Brooks, Charles Dudley Warner, and many well-known writers are to contribute during this coming year. One cannot put the spirit of St. Nicholas into a prospectus, but the publishers are glad to send a full announcement of the features for 1891 and a single sample copy to the address of any person mentioning this notice. The magazine costs $3.00 a year. Address The Century Co., 33 East 17th St., New York.
