

Canada, had stood loyal to England, and a feeling of pity comes over one for the gallant young officer sacrificed in such a cause.

As I walked out through the gate through which, in the early grey of morning, Montcalm led out his troops to meet Wolfe on the Plains of Abraham, and as I stood on those plains and saw the very spot where Wolfe fell, the whole tragedy enacted here in 1759 all seemed very real and vivid to me. And standing on such a spot, with such surroundings, and with such a flood of thoughts continually forcing themselves upon one, it was strange if he did not feel a thrill of patriotic spirit run through him, deepening and intensifying his regard for his country and his country's heroes. Here is the place where the French sentinel uttered his last warning "Qui Vive" before being struck down by the Highlander. Over there the two armies met in bloody fight, and just at our feet, by the side of a little spring, Wolfe breathed his last, his spirit rushing out, triumphing in victory. On the very spot where he fell a monument has been erected, bearing the inscription, "Here Wolfe fell, victorious."

But although over a century and a quarter has rolled away since the English came into possession, French feeling and sentiment seem as strong as ever in Quebec. On holidays the "Tri-color" (the French national flag) not the "Union Jack," flies at the staff. Frenchmen, and Frenchmen only are eligible for office. In fact one cannot fully understand the bitterness and hate with which they regard everything English without coming in contact with it personally. It seems strange that such should be the case after more than 100 years of English institution and free English law. It is unfortunate too and lamentable in such a young country as Canada that everybody is not united, irrespective of creed or nationality, for that one grand end, the upbuilding of the land they call home.

Religious Miscellany.

—The great revival which has occurred in connection with the Turco-American Mission at Aintab in Armenia, has resulted in the addition of 534 new members of the church.

—A leading Japanese newspaper, the Hochi Shimbun, declares that Christianity is slowly but steadily making progress in Japan, never retrograding for an instant. The future of Buddhism, it says, is indeed in peril.

—The Salvation Army in Europe has organized "a corps of cavalry" for campaigns in the rural districts. The troop flies about in large wagons, carrying along kitchens, tents, etc. The Army is preceded by bicycle messengers, announcing the meetings in the villages.

—The report of the Bible Carriage Mission in England shows that this society is doing an important work in the rural parts of the country. Over 49,000 Bibles and Testaments, and about 367,000 books, tracts, etc., were circulated in two hundred and seventy villages and towns. In these places the Gospel was preached, with many conversions as the result.

—The Christian Standard is authority for the statement that a hundred years ago the number of professing Christians of all the three great sections of the Christian Church was less than 200,000,000; now they are over 450,000,000; and of this great increase in a hundred years by far the larger share falls to the Protestant Church. While the Roman Catholic and Greek Churches only double their numbers, the Protestants multiplied nearly four-fold.

—The following is from the Christian at Work: "This is a new thing in dedications. The Detroit Journal is authority for saying that four-fifths of the $40,000 Congregational church in Kalamazoo, Michigan, was dedicated Sunday before last, and that the other fifth will be dedicated when paid for. It is a good plan not to dedicate that which the church does not own, but this idea of setting apart a fractional portion of a church to Divine use, and leaving the remaining portion to hustle along with the world as best it can, had better be carefully considered before being imitated."

DENOMINATIONAL NEWS.

SEVENTH DISTRICT MEETING.—The Seventh District held its annual session with the church at North Head, Grand Manan, commencing on Friday morning, 15th inst., at 10 o'clock. As usual the first meeting was a conference, and proved to be a season of much spiritual strength and enjoyment.

There are fourteen churches belonging to this District; every one of them was reported, and all but one was represented by delegates. The reports as a whole, were fairly encouraging, some of them especially so. The reports show an increase of fifty-nine members. The revision of the books of some of the churches would make the total less than last year, but the facts are as stated—an increase of fifty-nine. While this is not a large number, yet it is cause for great thankfulness that this number have entered the ranks with those that are laboring to advance the Kingdom of God.

Each church in this District has a comfortable house of worship; that belonging to the Fairhaven church was dedicated during the year. The value of these houses and lands in connection with them as reported amount to twenty-five thousand nine hundred and fifty dollars. The amount raised by the churches, exclusive of Conference fund and for educational purposes, was a little over six thousand dollars.

All the churches except one have had pastoral care all or a part of the year; four have had a pastor each during the whole year. Eleven of the churches have Sabbath-schools, and it is to be hoped that the labor expended in this department will yield a rich harvest.

In the business session our mission work, both Home and Foreign, was prominently brought before the meeting, also the Union Baptist Seminary at Saint Martins, and we think an increased interest was awakened in its behalf; the scheme of the dollar per head we think will receive a very general response.

The subject of temperance received consideration, and we were able to congratulate ourselves that as Free C. Baptists we were among the foremost, as our church covenant contains a total abstinence pledge; it was thought it would be well if all our S. Schools would introduce a pledge in the school and teach a temperance lesson each quarter and, as far as practicable, have the pastor preach a temperance sermon once a quarter. The subject of holding protracted meetings with the several pastorates during the year was considered, and the hope is that the plan will be carried into effect. A vote was passed to recommend the principle to the General Conference.

As to the services held during the time of the session, we may report that at the last seat of the D. M. there was preaching on Thursday evening by Rev. Wm. Downey theme "Character Building;" Friday morning, conference; afternoon, reports from the churches; and Friday evening preaching by Rev. G. W. Foster; Saturday during the day business in connection with the churches; Saturday evening, a missionary meeting, presided over by the ladies and said to be one of the best meetings of the kind we have had in the District; a fuller report of this meeting will doubtless be sent you by the Secretary of the Woman's Society; Sunday morning preaching by Rev. B. H. Nobles, afternoon by Rev. J. T. Parsons, evening by Rev. G. A. Hartley. All of these sermons were listened to with great interest, pleasure and profit. The several F. C. B. Churches on the Island were supplied with preaching on the Sabbath. In addition to the meetings named a prayer-meeting was held in the early morning each day. It was considered that this District has seldom if ever, had a more pleasant or profitable session.

The ministers present were Revs. J. Perry, W. Downey, G. A. Hartley, J. T. Parsons, T. O. DeWitt, B. H. Nobles and G. W. Foster, and Licentiate Long. Campobello friends met the members who went by steamer at Eastport, and took them to Campobello and kindly entertained them for the night. Bro. Nobles preached there. Bro. Hartley went to Deer Island and preached.

As to the reception given the members of District by the people of Grand Manan it could not be exceeded in warm-hearted kindness, and as old friendship was renewed and new friendships made all felt it to be a time that it would be pleasant to remember. The next session was asked for by the Fairhaven church, and is to be held with them on the fourth Saturday in August 1891.

TO SABBATH SCHOOLS.—Only a few weeks now intervene between this and the session of General Conference. And yet much of the statistical information required by Conference from our Sabbath Schools remains to be received and compiled.

So far as I have means of ascertaining about 30 per cent of our schools have reported to me at the date of this writing. It may be that in some of the Districts Sunday School reports have been sent to the District Clerks. If so, will the clerks kindly forward them to me at once.

Not being in possession of the addresses of a large number of the Superintendents I find it very difficult to correspond directly with them for the information required. Trusting however, that the INTELLIGENCER will reach all of them I make its columns the medium of communication with the officers of the Schools. I should be glad to have the pastors of the several churches whose schools have not reported urge them to do so at once. It is desirable that the report, when presented shall contain the name of the church and Superintendent of every school in the denomination.

FROM REV. J. NOBLE.—It has been some time since I contributed anything to the Denominational Column, and a few lines now may be of interest. On my circuit of carethings are very peaceable. The meetings as a general thing, are quite encouraging. I am still able to attend my regular appointments. There has not been any revival, but we have had good reviving meetings. On Monday last I left here to go to Perth to help Brother J. J. Barnes. I drove as far as Newburg, where I left my horse and carriage and took the train to Perth, where I found a home with my old friend, B. Armstrong Esq. I was made as welcome as ever. He drove me to the meeting. Although the place was much excited over the pending election, we had a very good congregation, I appointed a meeting for the next evening, and enjoyed myself well in preaching the word of life. As there had not been any meeting in the church for some time, it needed some renovation; the lamps required cleaning, new wicks and fresh oil; all this had been attended to and, in addition some beautiful flowers had been placed about the house and a fine one in front of the pulpit and two beautiful bouquets on the pulpit. When the hymn was announced, it was good to hear the old familiar voices, although I missed many that used to join in the service of praise sixteen years ago when I used to be there. The next morning Brother Armstrong took me to Andover to catch the early train. Arriving at Newburg I started at once for my field of labor and am now at brother George Ebbett's one of my old homes and old friends, and here I write these lines. Although my visit was short, it was very pleasant to see old friends and their children. I met old bro. Bacon and found him still holding his faith, or his faith holding him up; he is now 90 years old. I should have mentioned on my way up I met with brother William Reud in one of his meetings in Lower Brighton. He has had some encouragement there, and his health is quite good.

A Hard Corner.
The age of 30 is a hard corner for a woman to turn, and 35 is still harder. She feels that she is still leaving her youth behind her. But there is no reason why a woman should be faded and passe at 35, or even at 45. The chief cause of the early fading of American women is found in the fact that many of them suffer from some form of female weakness or disease which robs the face of its bloom, draws dark circles about the eyes, brings early wrinkles and shallowness, and stamps the face and figure with signs of ill-health. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure all these troubles, will bring back the lost bloom, and remove the pains and ailments which make women grow old before their time. Guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or price ($1.00) refunded.
