THE CAUSE OF MISSIONS is to-day marshaling the great forces of the Christian church as never before. The most intelligent and progressive laymen vie with the most diligent and efficient ministers in their efforts to send the Gospel to the heathen.

THERE HAS BEEN little mission work accomplished in Patagonia, but the Roman Catholics have a mission center at Viedma, in the Southern part of the country. -AN AWFUL WARNING. - Some good people think that because parents and children in European countries go to the taverns together, drink their beer, and eat their lunch without becoming drunkards, it is safe for parents and children to do so in this country; but they make a grand mistake. Years ago an industrious, well-to-do German Morris and Robert Thorburn, swore mechanic, an honored member of church, was accustomed to send his little boys for beer and have them drink with him. He thought there was no harm in it. The boys grew up, and one of them became a drunkard. One day his father reproved him for his drunkenness, when in turn he said, 'Father, why do you scold me? You taught me to drink!" The remark made a deep, painful impression on the father's mind; and when a few years later the son killed himself drinking, ENGLISH MISSIONARY WORK began in the calamity and the son's remark so preyed upon the father's mind that, although a very healthy, strong man, reason was dethroned and he but re-1881 they had increased to 601 stations, cently committed suicide. GRAVES SETTLEMENT. -God has very raciously blessed the little Graves Settlement church this spring. Thirteen have been baptized, and sixteen united to the church; five of the accessions being heads of families. If it had not been for the excdus to the United States that began before the meetings were fairly closed, that church would now be quite strong; as it is, it is very much stronger than it was; for which we thank God and take courage. Never in my life before was the leading of Providence so clearly manifested. It was all the work of the Lord; His power and presence were wonderfully manifested the second meeting we held. Truly the Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad.

C. T. A. NOTES .- The trial of Edwards, for rumselling, began on Tuesday. Mr. J. W. McCready conducted the prosecution, and Mr. J. A. Vanwart represented Edwards. Several witnesses were examined. Those who are employes in the hotel didn't appear to know much about the place or what goes on there. Two witnesses-Harry that they had got drinks there during the time specified in the complaint, and Morris said he had paid. Mr. Murphy, an employee of the hotel, was called, but did not respond, and the case was adjourned till Friday, to give time to look him up. When the case came up on Friday, Murphy was still absent. He is the fellow that sells for Edwards, and, of course, has been sent away or is kept in hiding, probably by advice. The trial went on without him. Mr. Vanwart had no witnesses for Edwards, but asked the magistrate to dismiss the case. The magistrate could not dismiss the case as there was evidence enough to convict Edwards of keeping liquor for sale, and he would be held responsible for his employes. The court adjourned till Wednesday. On Friday another case was begun, John Welton of St. Mary's Ferry being the accused. Mr. Vanwart had charge of the rum man's case, and Mr. McCready conducted the prosecution. Wm. Austin testified that he bought hquor from Welton and paid him for it; also that he had seen others drink there. After hearing his evidence the case was adjourned till Monday.

-Rev. DR. LORIMER has been unanimously called to the pastorate of Tremont Temple Baptist church, Boston, for several years been in Chicago.

-IN INDIANA there are some very zealous people who call themselves rant with the spirit of missions. Then "Evening Lights," who are making considerable stir. They teach that people should give up all their property and put it into God's treasury, and become perfect. They also declare that the second coming of Christ is very near.

-SPURGEON, commenting on the statement in Job about the oxen plowing and the asses feeding beside them, says that in most of the churches a few do the work and bear the burdens, and the rest rather hinder than help them, though particularly anxious to feed themselves. Some few enter the church for service, as into a vineyard to be cultivated ; others enter it mere. ly for enjoyment, as asses into a field of clover, to feed without limit.

-AN AGNOSTIC admirer of Mr. Gladstone sent him, lately, a phamphlet to read, accompanied by an expression of surprise that he(Mr. G.)should by his attitude towards theology en courage what the agnostic regards as superstition. Mr. Gladstone replied that he would read the unbeliever's pamphlet, and added : "I honour every sincere effort in the pursuit of truth; but my own long and trying life has convinced me in the principles of the revealed word, and the solidity of those foundations on which rest the fabric of belief."

-PASTORS receive good advice from a western paper about the new members of the churches. Study your converts, and classify them in your own mind. Some you need give yourself little or no concern about. They will not backslide nor lose ground. Others will need attention. Their perseverance or retrogression will depend on the amount and kind of supervision exercised to them. With a moderate amount of pastoral oversight they will cling to the church and persevere in the Christian life. A third class will tax you to the uttermost; and if after you have done all you can half of them are saved, you may rejoice. They will need attention, encouragement. employment, kind words, a little praise, pastoral visits, and all forms of help. The bulk of your care of converts must be bestowed upon these; and in their cases different treatment will be needed by different men. But at the very start make your own study and classification.

Mr. Gorton, Travelling Secre tary for the Maritime Provinces, has been in the city several days and, asisted by a committee of young men, is having a good degree of success in the preliminary steps. We hope the movement may succeed. There is room here for an Association, and much good would surely be done by one properly managed.
