A DUFFERIN CO. MIRACLE

WENEST DUKE'S GREAT PERIL AND WONDERFUL ESCAPE.

HOW HIS LIFE WAS SAVED AFTER HI CONDITION HAD BEEN DECLARED HOPE-LESS BY THREE DOCTORS-AN INTER-ESTING NARATIVE GIVEN TO A POST REPORTER BY THE BOY'S MOTHER AND

THER WITNESSES. Dufferin Post, Orangeville. The great Edmund Burke once exclaimed in a moment of sadness and despair that the age of chivalry was gone forever, and on every side of us we hear it remarked that the days of miracles are part of the dim, superstitious and romantic past. We are not going to enter into a discussion on the merits of either statement. Much of the chivalry that we read of had a great deal of the wild and grotesque about it, while not a little that was attributed to miraculous agencies was the work of men of talent and genius, wiser and greater than their generation, who had explored and comprehended the treasures of Mother Nature within whose Pills. Ernest is growing stout and bosom is said to be locked a panacea for every ill of fallen flesh. A newspaper's chief mission is to faithfully and attractively record interesting current events and to make such comments and suggestions as it deems advisable, and at is this role The Post is desiring to fill in this article. The neighboring township of Mono furnishes an instance of a marvellous cure, which in less enlightened times would undoubtedly have been credited to supernatural in-Muences, and which has even in this stern and practical era created a genuine sensation. In a recent issue we gave the particulars of the restoration to physical strength and activity of George Hewitt, of Mono Mills, through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which are now household words on this continent. Many who read the article on Mr. Hewitt might be disposed to doubt, but the least credulous were silenced and convinced by the striking evidence of the patient | himself, evidence which was corroborexted by several reliable persons who had an intimate knowledge of the fact's. The fine banner township of Mono supplies equally striking and conclusive testimony of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as an effectual remedy where the phyzician's skill and knowledge have been atterly baffled. Men may be disposed to be sceptical, and to fancy that much that is said in praise of these pills is mere hyperbole, but it is hard to con-Front the logic of facts, and in this respect an enduring monument is fast being built in support of the merits and claims of this greatest medical preparstion of the century. Mr. Wm. Duke Let 1, concession 6, Mono, is one of the best known and respected pioneers of this section. A few weeks ago we meard that his little 12 year old boy had been snatched from the very jaws of death by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, sand we determined to fully investigate | playing in the yard, and in answer to the reported cure. Mr. Duke resides about six miles from Orangeville, and as one of the most prosperous farmers throng. We asked him if he was the of the banner township. When the representative of The Post called at his guiet and comfortable home, Mr. Duke was at a neighboring threshing, but the reporter was courteously received by Mrs. Duke. We enquired as to the condition of Ernest, the little boy who was reported to have been cured, and were somewhat nonplussed when told that he was at school. From our in-Formation as to his state of health last

"Oh! to nothing but Dr. Williams Pink Pills," was the ready and emphatic response of Mrs. Duke, who is a very intelligent lady, and who then gave the interviewer the following ineteresting and well-nigh incredible narrative: "Last winter Ernest had the grippe, and he never seemed to fully pated that our mission would be dis-recover from the effects of it. trouble seemed to be in the nerves. I need not tell you how grieved we felt over the prospect of losing our boy, and would have tried anything to save his life. We had been reading in The Post about the wonderful cures made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and often thought of trying them as we were told they would do no harm if they did not do any good. Nearly every week we read about miracles wrought by the Pills, and one day I determined to ask the doctor if we might try them. 'Well,' said he, 'The boy can't get better, and the Pills are not likely to hasten his end. You can do as you like.' Shortly after we bought a box of the Pills. This was in May last. Little Ernest had not been taking them two weeks when we noticed a wonderful change. We quit the doctors medicine altogether, and kept using the pills only. The boy improved so rapidly that in a short time he was able to be out of bed. One can hardly believe a story like this, but every word of this is true. I tell you there is a wonderful change in our boy and we ought to be thankful to the Pink strong, and this is the first day at school. The doctor said he would be dead before the last Toronto exhibition, but my little fellow was so well then that he was able to be around, and even went with his father to the exhibition. We have been buying the pills from Mr. Stevenson one of the Orangeville druggists, and Ernest is still using them although not so often as at first. It would not be much out of your way to call at the school, and there you will find Ernest who will be able to speak for himself."

Just as Mrs. Duke was concluding her interesting narrative the teacher of the school, Mr. Thomas E. Lang ford, who boards at Mr. Duke's enter ed the house. It was the dinner hour, and the reporter expected that Ernest would turn up, and save him a visit to the school. He was informed, however, that the boy had taken his lunch with him in the morning and would spend the dinner hour at play. Mr. Langford accompanied the reporter to the road and on the way the teacher said that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills could not be too widely known. "I have been boarding all along at Mr. Duke's, said he, "and I tell you little Ernest ever thought he would get better, and doctors pronounced his case hopeless, a bright little boy, and the Pink Pills saved his life.

The reporter was full of thought as he hastened to the school to interview the little fellow who may be said to have heard the summons of death, and to have been saved from an early grave by Dr. Williams' wonderful Pink Pills which the teacher had truly described as a simple remedy. When we reached the school several children were our call for Ernest Duke a bright little boy started out from the romping boy who had been so sick, and he answered with a mild and clear "yes." 'Are you well now?" "O, yes, I'm, as well as ever again." "What cured you? "Pink Pills!" was the ready and smiling response. The little fellow did certainly appear to be in the full enjoyment of health, and no one who did not know the facts would think that he had so recently been in such a feeble and precarious condition as to be despaired of by three local physicians of standing and experience. We shook hands with the boy and started for Orangeville fully convinced that there was a good deal in the stories we had been reading of miracles wrought through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

He is, indeed," replied Mrs. Duke, and to tell you the truth, we had at al of Mr. Duke's neighbors, and found ing. one time no hope that he would ever them all of one opinion. This was that his son would now be sleeping in the silent churchyard had it not been for the timely use of Pink Pills. He also learned that many others were using the pills with gratifying results, while many more had made up their minds since the miraculous saving of young Dvke's life to try the great remedy for lesser ailments with which they were troubled.
