Foster. In consequence of the heavy rain storm of Sunday morning the house was not entirely filled at the evening service, but in the afternoon evening no space was left unoccupied. The hearts of the membership of this interest, are filled with thanksgiving to God for his continued favor, and to dear kind friends for the sympathy and substantial help, enabling us to bring to successful completion the undertaking that a little before, seemed beyond our capacity. On the day of dedication an offering of $43.00 was made to the Lord in aid of our building fund. I am at the present holding some special services at Marysville. The church has been repaired and quickened, and sinners are expressing earnest desires to be saved, acquainted with Christ.

Yours, etc.,

FROM REV. J. NOBLE.—Since writing before I have been to Stanley. I met in company with brother Bonnell who has engaged a part of his time with them. I visited a few families on Saturday afternoon had a Conference meeting, a good meeting. It ended me, as well as the brethren the place, pleasure to know they had house of their own to worship in. They have a neat comfortable home, proportionate and well built. In the morning I spoke to the people. In the afternoon Bro. Bonnell went out to Williamsburg and in the evening we were at our own house. Brother Bonnell spoke on Monday evening at the Methodist house at Greenhill, it was an interesting meeting. Tuesday morning we left for home having left an appointment at the Bird Settlement on our way out for Tuesday evening. The prospect looking somewhat encouraging, brother Bonnell made an appointment for the next evening, but I came to Caverhill and stayed all night and the next forenoon. The afternoon was pleasant after quite a snowstorm and I left and drove to Campbell Settlement, gave out appointments for Sunday, and we had two good meetings. I was reminded of other days spent there. On Sunday got home somewhat tired. I want to say a word now to my ministering brethren. I find very many of our people are very desirous to have more denominational news, and ask why more of the ministers don't write. I do believe it would be helpful. Write, brethren, write. If you don't always have on the highest boots and the tall beaver, write in the common garb, the people want to hear from you.

J. NOBLE.

Woodstock, Car. Co., Nov. 9th, 1892.

FROM REV. A. C. THOMPSON.—The weekly visits of the INTELLIGENCER are very much enjoyed by us in this section of our denominational field; there have been some complaints lately, as to the very limited space the denominational News department occupies, but Mr. Editor we are also aware, that the fault is not yours, but is rather that of the promised contributors, and as one of the least of these, I send a few notes that may be worthy of some small place in your valuable paper.

I must first note the visit made to friends, on my old field of labor the week succeeding our annual conference. To say that I very much enjoyed meeting them again but feebly expresses the feelings of my heart. My long sojourn with them, coupled with their many acts of kindness, caused the formation of strong friendship that naught but death can sunder. A reception by the Coverdale friends at the residence of Deacon A. H. Shewee was one of the pleasing events of that visit.

On my return from Conference I found the work on our church here completed. But through the courtesy of the Baptist friends at Centerville, I was permitted to occupy their pulpit, and very much enjoyed speaking to the people there. On the 22nd ult., in company with Bro. Gray, at the invitation of the people at that settlement we went to Greenhill to help dedicate our church there. The building was erected and nearly finished some time ago, and services had been held in it by Bro. Gray and other brethren. But now having finished it, a dedicatory service was in order, and on the 23rd ult. that service was held.

I tried to speak to the people in the morning, in the afternoon Bro. Gray gave us an admirable sermon, the Lord helping Him to speak to us. In the evening Rev. Mr. Stewart preached a good sermon.

It was next my privilege to attend the Prohibition Convention at Amherst, N. S., a generous purse of money contributed by the temperance people of Centerville enabled me to do this. It was my happy privilege to meet there some of the brightest and ablest leaders in that grand moral reform in these lower provinces.

The re-opening of our Tracey Mills church comes next in order. For upwards of 11 weeks the extensive repairs have been in progress, the money to pay for the same being raised by private subscription instead of by Tea Meeting, as at first proposed. He who solicited the subscription met with a generous response on every hand, over $500 being pledged.

On Sunday the 6th inst., a beautiful sunny day, the house was opened for Divine worship. The pastor was anxious to secure the help of some of the ministering brethren, and took it upon himself to invite Bro. Phillips and Bro. Gray. But as they could not come on that day, at the request of the people I had to do the best I could alone. Alone did I say, no, not alone for the dear Lord met with us; and morning and evening very interesting services were held.

The house has been shingled, new flue built, and inside, the ceiling has been sheathed and nicely painted in different colors in large diamonds, the walls newly papered, the pews, and all the woodwork inside painted, two six-light chandeliers bought by the ladies, a fine new carpet for the pulpit, and choir platform, bought by the young ladies. Pulpit remodeled, and a new Bible for it presented by Leonard Cronkite, Esq. These repairs were all sadly needed, and now the church looks more as it ought for the congregation worshipping in it, and all seem to be glad, and pleased with the work that has been done.

Wednesday evening a very interesting ceremony occurred in the re-opened church; it being the marriage of two members of our famous Tracey Mills choir, the contracting parties being Mr. Frank A. Page and Miss Effie M. Steeves. The bride looked charming as she stood before me. With the assistance of Bro. Grey the happy pair were made one. A number of us then adjourned to the home of the groom; and scarcely were we seated at the table, when outside and all around the house an awful noise came to our ears. Bells, horns, shells, and pans helped to form the terrible chorus, and amid this awful racket we tried to eat as best we could. Spiritually we are holding on our way, a sort of holding the fort, but we are praying and hoping for a better state of things.

Yours, etc.,

A. C. THOMPSON.

PRESENTATION TO REV. WM. DEWARE.—The residence of Rev. Wm. DeWare was the scene of a very pleasant event last Tuesday evening, when about twenty-five or thirty of his admiring parishoners met there and presented the Rev. gentleman with a very handsome fur coat accompanied by an neatly worded address. The company was well entertained by Rev. and Mrs. DeWare, the latter presided at the organ and rendered a number of choice selections. At about nine o'clock the ladies prepared a tempting repast.

After all had partaken of the good things, the company repaired to the sitting room when W. D. Fenwick, Esq., then read the following address: REV. WM. DEWARE,

Dear Friend and Brother:—We, the members of your congregations in the different parts of your circuit, wishing to give some tangible expression of our thankfulness for your continuance among us, and for the very appreciable manner in which you have ministered to our spiritual wants, have taken this opportunity of meeting with you and presenting you with this address and coat, trusting that they will be received in the same kindly manner in which they are presented, but, however, for their intrinsic value not as a slight token of our esteem and general appreciation of your services.

During your stay in our midst you have never once ceased to impress upon our minds the great need of a divine Saviour. You have ever been ready to favor us with good christian advice and when the dark clouds of adversity and trial hovered over us, you have pointed unto Him who suffered as no man suffered and lo! in the darkest cloud there appeared a silver lining. We humbly hope and pray that you and your good lady may long remain in our midst, and that our Heavenly Father who has so abundantly blessed you in the past may continue to manifest His divine approbation of your labours, and that you by His Almighty power may be instrumental in leading many precious souls into greener pastures and beside the waters of rest.

In an impromptu reply Mr. DeWare said:—
Dear Christian Friends.—I thank you most heartily for those kind words of encouragement and also for the very handsome gift which has accompanied them. Since coming to Millstream two years ago I have met many warm friends who have encouraged and assisted me in the discharge of my duties. A strong man would fail in a community where the people are cold and unappreciative, while a weak man would be successful were he assisted by kind words of encouragement and appreciation such as I have received since coming among you.

As I look back to-night over my ministerial life, I fully realize that I have had many friends wherever my lot has been cast, not only was this true during my fifteen years residence in Carleton county, but on first coming to this county I found many warm friends at Midland and at Norton. Since coming to Millstream I have had many expressions of kindness and brotherly feeling, as this beautiful gift has only been one of many that I have received. I again thank you for the address and for this valuable gift which has accompanied it. The money to procure the coat was raised by subscription in the upper part of the circuit, and to the people of Upper Millstream is due the honor of heading the list.

REV. D. LONG.—Some time has elapsed since I have contributed anything to the INTELLIGENCER. Looking back over the past year, I can say, God has been good in granting us so many blessings. We are entering upon the duties of another year praying to Him who is the great Teacher, to lead us in the right way. Sunday 6th Nov., was a good day at Midland, for some months past the Lord's house has been closed, while undergoing repairs, which add greatly to its beauty and comfort. Some three hundred and thirty dollars have been expended and the church was again reopened clear of debt. Pastor and people were glad to say, Let us go up to the house of the Lord. Brother Wm. DeWare preached an interesting and powerful sermon in the morning. Brother J. H. Erb preached a very impressive sermon at 3 p. m., subject, Christians suffering for Christ. At 7 p. m., Brother J. W. Clark gave a very practical discourse from the 122 Psalm, 7th verse. There was a full house at each service and I believe all went away feeling that God was with us.

The Church at Long point has been nicely painted on the outside which adds greatly to its appearance. This church has only a few members but some are energetic workers, and I am glad to say that those who were added to the church last spring continue to be faithful and may the Lord help them to be steadfast until death. At Norton we are trusting and looking forward for a spiritual awakening. I purpose holding some special meetings here in a few weeks and pray that God may pour out his spirit upon us and bless us. Our Sunday school and prayer meetings are quite well attended. This church has been burdened with a debt which was contracted at the time of building, but we have paid two hundred dollars of it during the past year. May the Lord help us in all our undertakings for good. Brethren pray for us.

D. LONG.
Norton Station, Nov. 10th, 1892.

FROM REV. JOHN HENDERSON.—Permit me to say I am sorry that I could not conveniently attend the general Conference but I was glad to hear and know through the denominational organ that the brethren and sisters had a good conference, and I feel I have met with a loss by not being there. Seeing the notice given in the paper to ministers that are without circuits I would say that I have given up my pastoral care of the churches in Nashwaaksis and Kingsley where I reside and am now ready to correspond with any church that is without a pastor.

JOHN HENDERSON.
Nashwaaksis, York Co. Nov. 6th.

The past is the INTELLIGENCER's promise for the future. In no respect will it be permitted to fall below its standard. In every respect the aim will be steadily upward.

TO FREE BAPTISTS.

The INTELLIGENCER is the only Free Baptist paper in Canada. It was established in their interest, has been devoted to their work, and never more heartily and loyally than now.

It would like to go into every Free Baptist family in the whole country, and believes it ought to. But it cannot do this without assistance. The ministers and members of the denomination can do much to extend its circulation by presenting its claims, and the benefits to be derived from it, to those who are not now subscribers. No religious paper can be successful unless it is properly pressed upon the attention of the people. The success or failure of a denominational paper depends much more upon the ministers and other friends of its work than upon the editor.

Is it too much to expect to begin the new year with a list of subscribers which will include all the Free Baptist homes in these Provinces? There are more than a thousand homes which need its visits, as the organ of the denomination with which they are connected, but which it does not now enter. And these can be reached by active effort, in every part of the field, by the ministers and others interested in denominational work.

Brethren, give us at least a thousand new subscribers before the New Year.

Read the offer below, one which gives every subscriber a good chance to canvass new subscribers, and then begin the work of securing them at once.

Pastors may help greatly by speaking from their pulpits about the INTELLIGENCER, and soliciting their people to subscribe. Please do so, brethren. Do it now.

RENEWALS.

The INTELLIGENCER hopes to retain every present subscriber for 1893. It needs them, and thinks they need it. FROM ALL PROMPT RENEWALS ARE ASKED. From this time on renewals should come in steadily. It is not well to delay renewing till the very close of the year. It is better, both for the paper and the subscribers, that they should be made before the year ends.

Our friends will do us a favour if they will renew now.

SPECIAL OFFER

Any Subscriber sending a new subscriber with his own renewal can pay for both one year, with $2.50.

Do not delay taking advantage of this offer. This is the time of year when families are determining what paper they will have for next year. This is, therefore, the time to secure them for the INTELLIGENCER.

Let there now be renewals from all subscribers, and a general and vigorous canvass for new names, enabling the INTELLIGENCER to begin the new year with a wider circulation and larger opportunity for usefulness than ever in its history.
