First Quarter-Lesson VI. - Feb. 7. THE GRACIOUS CALL.—Isa. 55:1-13.GOLDEN TEXT .- Seek ye the Lord

him while he is near.—Isa. 55:6. THE THINGS PREPARED FOR GOD'S PEOPLE. The Messiah's coming and bearing the sins of the people, opened the way for every heavenly blessing. Chapter 54, and the remaining chapters of the prophecy, are full of the promises and pictures of what God had in store for them. Such were the blessings waiting for blessings waiting for God's people to-day. THE INVITATION AND WELCOME. -Vers. 1-3. Ho. A call to excite attention. Every one. Without distinction. That thirsteth. No wants are so keen as those of hunger and thirst. Such is the thirst men should have for salvation; such would be their thirst if they realized its value. Come ye to the waters. In countries like Palestine, where the want of water is frequently experienced, this image would be well understood. These waters typify whatsoever satisfies the thirst of the soul. Jesus Christ alone has the living waters which can satisfy the thirst of the soul. Just as manysided as man is, so many-sided is the religion of Christ, to meet the wants of all. And he that hath no money. The poorest can obtain these living waters. Come ye. Salvation is free to all; still there is something to be done by him who would enjoy it: he must come and take it. The fountain may be overflowing, but it will not quench the thirst of any one, unless he comes a price, but obtain. And eat. Food and drink are essential to the life of the body: so are the spiritual blessings Christ gives essential to the life of the soul. Buy wine and milk. Regarded by the Jews as the choicest article of diet, satisfying and defore fermentation contains, it is said,

The sense is, that the blessings of the Gospel are fitted to nourish and support the soul Without money and without price. The freeness of the offer is again repeated, that there may be no mistake. The best things in this world are those which money cannot buy, and which are absolutely free to all. Forgiveness, the gift of the Holy Spirit, the blessings of atoning love, heaven, must be received as free gifts from God. Wherefore do ye spend money? Weigh money; for money was originally not coined, but weighed. For that which is not bread. For that which will not satisfy. Men expend labor and toil and energy in obtaining riches, honors, worldly good, pleasure, and many other things, which yet do not satisfy the heart, or give the conscience peace, or bring salvation. Men inflict painful penances on themslves, perform burdensome rites, or slavishly seek to work out a legal righteousness, though pardon and peace are not thus to be obtaind. They are spending their money for that which is not bread. And your labour for that which satisfieth not. Nothing but God can meet the It is exceedingly desirable that stu- boundless desires of the soul. Eat ye that which is good. Come and obtain that which will satisfy.
