The freight shed at Newcastle was destroyed by fire on Monday with all its contents.

Archie Green and Jarvis Northrup, the two lads charged with larceny from the store of Mr.F. Beverly, were tried before Judge Peters on Monday, under the Speedy Trials Act. They both pleaded guilty and were sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the jail, with hard labor.

While digging a sewer from Queen street to St. John street, Carleton, mear Mrs. Thompson's house on Queen street, some workmen discovered the end of a box. The end was broken in and a piece of a skull found. To-day the remainder of what is supposed to be a coffin will be dug out. The place at which the sewer is being made is where a house owned by the Robinson estate stood before it was burned down some seven years ago.

This has been a good season for the lumberman as far as getting their about eight millions are hung up at the upper St. John, and the amount remaining in the Aroostook would not exceed five millions.

Mr. Aldran Allen, A. B., son of the Rev. J. S. Allen of Richibucto, who has spent nearly four years in Chili as a teaching missionary, has been compelled to leave that country on account of failing health. After a very pleasant passage of more than a month's duration he arrived home safely on last Saturday evening.

James Walton fell over a cliff at Moss Glen the other night and sustained injuries from which it is feared he cannot recover.

A severe hail storm visited Madawaska in the vicinity of St. Ann's toes were entirely cut down and destroyed by the fall of hail stones.

Rev. John Prince one of the fathers of the Methodist denomination in Moneton had a paralytic stroke on Saturday evening about supper time. He was about the house but was feeling unwell, and while an attendant was out of the room getting some soda with which to relieve his distress he fell off his chair to the floor. His face was considerably cut by the fall and he remained unconscious for some time, but is now greatly improved.

On the night of the 18th inst. Dr. Cameron's residence at Woodward's Cove, Grand Manan, in which was the government telegraph office, caught are and was burned to the ground. The origin of the fire is unknown. The doctor and his niece, Miss Annie Gordon, lost all of their personal effects, and all the furniture and bedding were destroyed, as well as most of the aoctor's books and the public library.

The man James Walton who fell from the cliff at Moss Glen last week is, strange to say, recovering. He fell a distance of seventy-five feet and would have been killed but for his presence of mind in grasping a tree, which broke the fall.

A farmer named Angus Campbell, of Campbell's Mountain Whycocomagh. had three horses and a colt killed recently by lightening. The animals were out in a pasture during a heavy thunder storm on the night of the 11th inst, and the next morning were found dead lying in a row a short distance from each other. Another horse which was in the same field escaped.

The engineer saw him but had not time to reverse his engine. The body which was not badly mangled, was taken to the annex.

What might have caused a serious accident occurred on the Intercolonial railway near Maccan on Wednesday. Some section men left a trolley on the side of the road near Springhill Junction. Two tramps passing there placed the trolley on the line and started off on it down the incline towards Gildart of Athol, died at Amherst, Maccan. After going a short distance Aug. 23, from the effects of blood they saw, fast approaching them in the poisoning. The most daring burglary that has is no doubt that the thieves were experts. The thieves were after silver only, and the way in which they selected the solid from the plate leaves no doubt in the minds of the police that the burglars are not novices. In many cases they would break a fork or a spoon to satisfy themselves as to its quality. If this test showed it to be plate, the thieves left the broken pieces behind.
