In the province of New Brunswick no one shall fish for, catch, kill, buy, sell, or have in possession, any speckled trout between the 15th day of September and the 31st of March in each year, both days inclusive.

The spool factory at Jacques River owned by the Restigouche Spool Co. was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. The spool wood piled close to the mill was saved. The loss will probably reach thirty thousand dollars. A large number of men will be thrown out of employment. It is reported that a man named Arseneau was badly burned.

Fred Purves of Carleton, met with a serious accident in Purves' mill, Carleton, Thursday afternoon. He was lacing a belt and used a very sharp knife to make the incisions through which the thong was passed. In some way the knife slipped cutting a deep gash on the inside of the left thigh and nearly severing an artery. The young man came very near bleeding to death.

Prof. Murray has resigned the Professorship of Philosophy in the University and accepted the position tendered him by Dalhousie College, Halifax, at a salary of $2,000. One of the children who is only four years old fell off the rocks into the water. She had sunk twice before her sister, missed her. When she rose to the surface the other one jumped in and soon had the infant safe on the rocks again. No one could have shown greater presence of mind or courage than this young girl.

A three year old little girl, child of Dominick Melanson, who lives on the Fox Creek road, fell from a chair on Sunday, and one eye was so badly injured by coming in contact with the hook of an old-fashioned iron pot that it is feared the sight of the eye is permanently lost. The eye was virtually dragged out of the child's head.

Mr. Fred Marshall, a young man who works in the wood working factory of Messrs. Scott, Law & Love, met with a severe accident Wednesday evening. In some manner one of his hands came in contact with a buzz planer, and three of his fingers were cut off.

A man named William Fenby met with rather a painful accident, in Josiah Fowler's spring axle factory on the City Road. A new trip hammer was being tried and in some way he was struck on the top of the head by some part of the machine. He was badly stunned and his head was cut on the top.

On the evening of Aug. 1st while attempting to arrest two burglars, officer Sedgman of Moncton was shot dead. Great excitement prevails and there is talk of lynching the prisoner. The murdered man was a nephew of Judge Steadman of Fredericton.

Captain Camille Daigle was drowned during a heavy rain and wind storm Aug. 9, near Dion's Point, five miles from Buctouche, at the entrance of the harbor.

Nova Scotia.

The barn of Isaac Doucette, at Plympton, was burned to the ground Wednesday morning, together with a large quantity of hay and all farming implements. The place is a total loss, there being no insurance. It is believed that the fire was started by some suspicious character seen lurking about the premises.

James Waters, carpenter on board the steamer "Coruna," and hailing from Pictou, N. S., jumped overboard and was drowned at Montreal Wednesday. Deceased had been sick for some days.

Everett Smith, farmer of Shinimiss, near Amherst after ordering four tramps from off his premises, Aug. 2 was set upon by them and beaten about the head and shoulders.

Fire Wednesday morning totally destroyed Kelly Bros. steam saw mill at River Hebert, the first originating, it is thought, in the engine house. The loss is estimated at about twelve thousand dollars.

Three desperate tramps, supposed to be part of a gang of burglars who have been terrorizing the provinces during the past month, were arrested at Truro Tuesday night. One of them drew a revolver and attempted to shoot the policeman.

Latest reports from Digby Neck state that the mackerel have struck in all along the shore in great numbers. Every trap and seine working is taking from fifty to one hundred barrels of number one fish each tide. There is much excitement among the long shore fishermen over the incident.

On Monday of last week, a woman giving her name as Mrs. Sturk, went to the house of Alfred Late, near the mouth of the Falkland Ridge road, Springhill, N. S., and asked for something to satisfy the pangs of hunger, which was given her. She said that her husband was at work at or near Nictaux, and hearing that he was sick, and not having any means to carry her through by rail, she had started from her home at Mahone Bay to walk where he was, a distance of about seventy miles. She carried an infant in her arms.

The cricket tournament at Halifax has had a tragic end. F. S. Dickey came with the Ottawa team. He now lies at the Queen Hotel dead, shot by his own hand. Mr. Dickey had been in poor health and some of the Ottawa team complained that through his bad work they lost the Philadelphia match. This evidently caused despondency, for no other reason can be imagined for the terrible act. Mr. Dickey is a son of Senator Dickey of the Canadian senate, and a brother of A. R. Dickey, member of parliament for Cumberland Co., N. S. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that F. S. Dickey came to his death by a pistol shot fired by his own hand while laboring under a fit of temporary insanity.

While working in his office at Ottawa Wednesday the premier was attacked with a slight vertigo and weakness which compelled him to go to his rooms. Dr. Powell, who attended him, attributes his attack to too close attention to public business and thinks that the recent prolonged session has told upon Sir John's strength. Late in the evening Dr. Powell reported his patient as feeling much better in every way.

It is said to be probable that a movement will be inaugurated in Toronto before long looking towards the abolition of separate schools in Ontario. The opponents of separate schools have been greatly encouraged by the decision of the privy council.

The dwelling of a family named Smith at Windsor, Ont., was burned Aug. 1st. In the effort to save her married sister's baby Florence Smith was fatally burned. Several other members of the family were badly burned, but it is thought they will recover. The baby is all right, with the exception of a slight burn on the forehead.

An old man named F. Frier, a Quebec stableman, was found dead in his bed on Monday. On the previous evening he was sent on a message to a neighboring grocery where a number of loafers were congregated, who forced the old man to partake of so much strong liquor for their amusement that he had to be carried home and put to bed, from which he never rose.

The knitting mill and Roman Catholic church at Strathroy, Ont., were burned Tuesday evening. Seven female employees of the former were hemmed in the sixth story. One of them, Miss Esther Davidson slid down the exhaust pipe to 20 feet from the ground and jumped, escaping without serious injury. Her clothes ignited as she was descending and she was badly burned. The others jumped for the roof of the adjoining storeroom and all alighted upon it; but Miss Maggie Head, who fell to the ground, was probably fatally injured. Her sister, Lizzie, is also believed to be fatally injured. The others escaped with broken limbs and bruises and will recover. Two hundred persons are thrown out of employment. The loss will be $150,000. There was an insurance of $65,000.

Trenholm, Muddy Creek, on Wednesday forenoon, the 27th ult., by which Mr. Henry Trowsdale, and five of Mr. Trenholm's family nearly lost their lives. Mr. Trowsdale was up there for a day or two overhauling some cases that had been put up by a previous sealer and one of the cans had been opened and eaten by these persons. About two hours afterward they began vomiting severely.

On Saturday, about noon, Sir Richard Cartwright, left Kingston, Ont., in a skiff to row to his country house on the St. Lawrence, a few miles down. When rounding Point Frederick he was caught in a terrific squall, which was accompanied by hail and torrents of rain and his boat was capsized. Sir Richard was thrown out. The accident was witnessed by the men of "A" Battery at the barracks, and Major Drury and Capt. Gaudet hurried to the rescue of Sir Richard, who clung to the overturned boat tenaciously, and was in the water nearly half an hour, the storm peeling fiercely about him. He was completely exhausted when rescued.

The weather the past few weeks has been very favorable for growing crops, and as a result the Manitoba harvest will be on the farmer's earlier date than anticipated. Hot weather has matured grain, while cooler nights and occasional cloudy days has permitted the development of the kernel. A farmer in the vicinity of Emerson commenced cutting last Thursday, and grain men say, from reports received, that wheat will be ready for the self-binder by the middle of the month.

Six boys, sons of James H. Farney and Rev. Henry Brock, were drowned in the Kentuck river, near Winchester, by the overturning of a skiff. The boys, whose ages ranged from 9 to 16, were bathing in the river, climbing in and out of the boat, and were thrown into a panic by the boat overturning.

Five thousand people, at Iver Grove, just south of St. Paul, Minn., were horrified spectators July 31 of a terrible fall to death of Prof. Hobe, the aeronaut.

When the balloon reached the usual altitude, Hobe could be seen tugging at the valve cord which would not work. Before he could manipulate it the balloon was at least 3,000 feet above the earth.

In the regular way he cut loose the parachute and shot rapidly earthward, but the parachute did not expand and the unfortunate aeronaut fell like a shot toward the ground.

So great was the force of the fall that he was driven in the soft ground to a depth of 10 feet, and instantly killed.

There is a general belief that Wm. B. Robbins, attorney and conveyancer of Philadelphia, late accounting warden of St. Mark's Church, is a fugitive, and it is alleged that the total sum of discrepancies in which he is involved will reach $150,000. Robbins recently made a confession of crookedness. He has not been seen for several weeks.

Five Russians, captured by Afghan troops among rebellious Hazaras, have been sent in chains to Kabul.

The Hazaras rebellion is assuming formidable proportions. The discovery of the Russians among the insurgents is regarded as conclusive proof that Russia is instigating the Hazaras to rebellion.

It is officially stated that the cholera prevails in Poland, having been brought there by emigrants from Russia. A Russian medical commission states one of the chief causes of the spread of cholera is the postal system of transmitting money. There are no postal money orders in Russia, and remittances are made in paper money that is frequently in a filthy condition, and well calculated to carry infection.

The queen's speech, as communicated to the chiefs of the ministerial and the opposition parties, is the briefest speech from the throne ever read in parliament. It formally intimates that parliament does not meet for the transaction of business. It contains no reference to the prospective legislation, and is almost silent in regard to foreign affairs and Ireland. The queen simply says that no immediate work can be expected of the members so soon after the labors of the last session and the fatigues of a general election.

While the world is startled and wide awake, with all eyes on the dreaded anarchists, it might be well to inquire what it is that produces such deadly social fruit. Anarchism is lawlessness in its most hideous, most murderous form. But while the anarchist, intoxicated by one form of the spirit of diabolism, recklessly destroys life and property with dynamite, how is he worse than the brute who, intoxicated with the spirit of diabolism in another form, goes home and kills his wife with a club? The one attacks the public, and so inspires popular terror; the other confines his vengeance to a helpless woman, in private, and so there is not much public alarm. But the same influences which made them both conscienceless brutes, made them both possible anarchists. There are several institutions and agencies in our midst, tolerated and supported by society, and protected by law, which are preparing the soil for anarchy, by encouraging young men in vice, stimulating their animal passions and brute instincts, and killing their consciences. It is no time to mince matters. The saloon, the race track and other legalized forms of vice are bringing thousands of youths to the moral conditions which fit them for "treasons, stratagems and spoils"—for anarchy. It is from among these that the bombthrowers are to find their recruits. It is about time to close the nurseries.—Standard.

Are a nuisance and we think it behooves publishers to examine into the merits of many articles puffed up in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from severe suffering by the use of Polson's Nerviline; would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far-famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nerviline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain, penetrates to the nerves, soothes them into quietness, and affords prompt and permanent relief.
