INTERNATIONAL LESSON.

First Quarter-Lesson VI. - Feb. 5.

DEDICATING THE TEMPLE.
-Ezra 6:14-22.

GOLDEN TEXT.—I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord.—Ps. 122:1.

REBUILDING THE TEMPLE.—Ver. 14. The foundations of the temple were laid in the autumn of B. C. 536, soon after the arrival of the first company of 50,000 exiles at Jerusalem, from Babylon. But so much opposition arose and so many difficulties presented themselves that the work ceased when the foundation was laid. For 15 years nothing more was done till the autumn of B. C. 520, when the people went to work again through the prophesying of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah, as we have seen in the last three lessons. But it required four years to complete the temple. Tatnai, the governor of Syria and Palestine, interfered, writing letters to Darius, inquiring if there were any such permission given to the Jews by Cyrus as the Jews claimed. Darius confirmed the decree, and commanded Governor Tatnai to give immediate aid to the work, in money and supplies.

The Structure, if built according to the decree of Cyrus, was 60 cubits high and 60 long, while Solomon's was only 40 wide and 30 high. But it must have been vastly inferior in ornament and splendor. The Holy of Holies was empty. The ark, the cherubs, the tables of stone, the vase of manna, the rod of Aaron, were gone. The golden shields had vanished. Even the high priest, though he had recovered his official dress, had not been able to resume the breastplate with the oracular stones. The doors of the temple were of gold. In three particulars the general arrangements differed from those of the ancient sanctuary. With the rigid jealousy which rendered this period hostile to all which approached the Canaanite worship, there were no more to be seen in the courts those beautiful clusters of palm, and olive, and cedar, which had furnished some of the most striking imagery of the poetry of the Monarchy. Another feature characteristic of the period was the fortress tower built at the northwestern corner of the sanctuary, which, serving in the first instance as a residence of the Persian governor, became in later days the Tower of Antonia, from which the Roman garrison controlled the proud population of Jerusalem. Thirdly, the court of the worshippers was divided for the first time into two compartments, of which the outer enclosure was known as the court of the Gentiles. Into this temple were placed the golden vessels of the old temple, restored by order of Cyrus.

The Promise was that God would fill the house with glory, and the latter glory should be greater than the former, so that "in that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD; and the pots in the Lord's house shall be like the bowls before the altar." The Shekinah that shone in the old tabernacle and temple, that with its light guided them to the Promised Land, that showed the perpetual presence of God with them, in wisdom and knowledge and defence and blessing—all this was realized in the new temple.

The Purpose. The temple was the centre of worship for the nation. It united them more than any other power could; it lifted their minds and hearts to God, the source of every good; it constructed them by its symbols in the knowledge of the true religion; it led them to consecrate themselves to God. And all this was not for themselves alone. It was the one true light set upon a hill, seen far and wide, whose rays proclaimed the one true God for all men. The Jew's religion was a missionary religion. Every true, living, growing religion must be a missionary religion. The exile and the dispersion kindled fires of the true Light all over the heathen world. Everywhere we find proselytes as well as Jews in the synagogues in Christ's time.

THE DEDICATION.—Vers. 15-18. This house was finished on the third day of the month Adar (February), the last month of the Jewish year. This was 20 years after the laying of the foundation. And the children of Israel. Not only of Judah, but all tribes were more or less mingled with them. The priests, etc. All classes, priests and laymen, kept the dedication of this house of God with joy. "Not unto us," they said, "but unto thy name," etc., and their souls thrilled with enthusiastic joy as they took possession of the new house they had built. And they offered... a hundred bullocks, etc., 712 animals in all. A very inferior feast to the magnificence of Solomon's dedication of the first temple, when 22,000 oxen and 120,000 sheep were offered. But the sacrifice was according to his ability. It must be remembered that the larger part of these victims were eaten by the worshippers in festive gatherings, just as we eat our Thanksgiving turkeys or roast beef dinners. Twelve he goats. These were for a sin offering. In the midst of their overflowing joy they remembered that there was much in them to be forgiven, and no joy could be complete that did not include the joy of forgiveness. According to the number of the tribes. The return included members of the other tribes, so that the kingdom belonged to all Israel, although the name of Jews was given to them, since the majority were from Judah.

Types and Symbols. Most of the value of this lesson will be lost unless we get at the underlying principles and their application to our times. Church Building. "A true church is an echo of God," says Joseph Cook. Its foundation must be Jesus Christ. Its structure should, with the best beauty and costliness at our command, be as perfectly as possible adapted to accomplish the object for which it was built. It should be better adapted to its work of teaching the children, of reaching the masses, of helping the poor, of training its people in Christian work, than the best machinery in the best factory in the town, is adapted to its work. And being for all the people it should be as beautiful and cheerful as possible. The poorest have a part in it as much as the richest. The worship must best express our devotion and gratitude to God, must train in spiritual life, and proclaim the true God to all men.

The Temple is a Type of the Individual Christian. The foundation is Jesus Christ, the rock that, like the rock under the temple, the same in all ages, never can be moved. He has prophesied with messages from God to aid and encourage in the building—the Bible, the Holy Spirit, with teachers, pastors, and friends to bring the message. It is possible for us to build a poor temple on this foundation, "wood, hay, stubble," or a most beautiful and costly temple, "gold, silver, precious stones." The true Christian character when complete is beautiful and costly.

The Temple is the Type of God's People. In its foundations; in the preparations made for it,—all the world is made tributary to its work; distant kings, often unintentionally, are led to prepare the way for it.

In the old Greek legend of the founding of Thebes, Cadmus had to slay the dragon which guarded the site. He took the dragon's teeth and sowed them in the field like wheat, when from each one sprang up an armed giant. Cadmus threw a stone among them, which set them to fighting among themselves, and all were slain but one mighty giant, who aided Cadmus in building the city. So the giant powers around the returned exiles wrote to the central government, with the result that they brought back the decree compelling them to aid in building the temple. So, many theories arose about geology, and unbelieving men urged them against the Bible. Kept the passover upon the fourteenth day of the first month. The regular time for this feast. It was six or seven weeks after the dedication ceremonies described in the previous verses. Were purified... all... were pure. The priests and Levites took special pains to be pure from defilements, according to law. Separated themselves. Those who were proselytes, and those descendants of the Jews that had been left in the land, who separated themselves from heathen alliances and worship, and had joined the returned exiles.

BORDERING ON CONSUMPTION. When a cold is neglected it frequently develops a condition bordering on consumption. No other remedy will so quickly relieve and cure cases of this dangerous kind as Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, because no other remedy possesses such perfect curative powers as does this prince of pectoral remedies.

PRISONERS LIBERATED. Many who have been confined to their beds for years by rheumatism, lame back and kidney complaints, have been liberated from their sad prisons by the wonderful regulating and purifying action of Burdock Blood Bitters which drives out the acid poison from the blood and restores health to the afflicted.

OUR MOTTO.—If God be for us, who can be against us.

Another year has just closed upon us, and as we stand upon the threshold of the New Year, we look two ways, and while in the retrospect, we regret that more has not been accomplished. We are thankful that in a small degree we have been enabled to lighten the burden of human woes, or contribute in the least towards the bringing in of the reign of purity and righteousness.

The first meeting of the year was held on Wednesday January 4th. Notwithstanding the cold, a goodly number assembled in the parlour. The first half hour was given to praise and prayer followed by reports from the different departments of work, the treasurer's eliciting especial commendation, and a vote of thanks was given heartily to Mrs. Phillips, for the satisfactory manner in which the accounts were rendered.

The balloting for officers resulted as follows: Mrs. Hatt declining to act as president for another year, Mrs. Steadman who formerly filled the office so acceptably was elected; Rec. Sec., Mrs. Sampson who is growing old in the service; Treas., Mrs. Phillips; Vice presidents, Mrs. McLeod, Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Johnston, Miss Smithson, Mrs. Biggs; Cor. Sec., Mrs. Chestnut; Auditor, Mrs. G. Hatt.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. Hatt, the retiring President, for the able and faithful manner in which she had filled this responsible situation.

Wednesday, Jan. 11th, Mrs. Johnston, as chairman of committee gave report of New Year's dinner for the children, showing a balance of six dollars to be added to the relief fund, on which there is considerable demand this inclement weather. Superintendents of Departments were appointed as follows: Scientific Temperance Instruction Mrs. L. W. Johnston; Superintendent of Y. work, Mrs. A. F. Randolph; Purity in Art and Literature, Mrs. Biggs; Evangelistic Work among lumbermen, Mrs. G. Hatt; Superintendent Literature, Mrs. Steadman; Mother's Meetings, Mrs. Johnston; Superintendent of Franchise; Press Superintendent, Mrs. C. Burt. Animated discussions as to best methods of carrying on the work of departments followed, a resolution was offered and carried unanimously, that each Superintendent should in turn bring the work of her department before the union, in order that all the members become better acquainted with the departmental work and endeavour to mutually assist each other, one afternoon out of each month being appointed for this purpose. The hour for closing having arrived the Doxology was sung and the meeting adjourned, a few of the ladies remaining to entertain the men of the Military School, who, this winter, as last, have been invited to spend Wednesday evening of each week in the union parlors.

[We publish Miss Steadman's report again, as through some mistake a part was left out of the column.]

A PEEP AT THE WORK IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

It has been my privilege recently to visit some of the unions of New Brunswick, viz., Fredericton, Gibson, Fredericton Junction, Newcastle, Bathurst, Campbellton, and Chatham, lecturing, addressing gospel temperance meetings and union meetings; giving Bible readings and taking counsel with the sisters concerning the work that the Lord has so graciously put into our hands.

At Fredericton Junction the union has not met for a long time, so long that they hardly know whether they had a union or not; but we had a meeting that afternoon and before it closed we were pretty sure that we had a union too. Five new names were added to the list of members, the Woman's Journal subscribed for, and some reports and leaflets purchased.

At the children's meeting at Newcastle we received a very "delicate attention" from some of the temperance boys. In the midst of our talk the door opened to admit a small crowd in which the gleam of burnished metal was easily distinguished and we knew the band had come, and as we soon learned with "hospitable thoughts intent," to give us a musical treat which was fully appreciated and enjoyed by the speaker of the evening as well as by the other children. Bathurst union holds its own right bravely in the midst of "a wicked and perverse generation."

At Campbellton they assured me that only once before had they had the pleasure of receiving a visiting white ribbon, and never once before had the Loyal Legion assembled to hear the voice of a stranger in all the four years of its existence; but I trust that in less than four years I shall have the pleasure of meeting them again, for be it known Campbellton is a good place to go to. Chatham is the happy possessor of a goodly number of honorary members, who dutifully as one of themselves expressed "pay their dues and do as they are told."

Besides visiting the unions named I organized two in Restigouche County, Bel River Crossing, Miss E. Miller, Cor. Sec., and Upper Charlo, Cor. Sec. Miss Annie Craig. I went to these places scarcely expecting to do more than address a public meeting, but the readiness with which the sisters and brothers too, took up the work seemed to indicate that they had been all ready and waiting for me. I have returned from my trip rich in pleasant memories, in larger hope for our work and greater faith in our women, and in the possession of many new friends, who by their kindly words and deeds have found an abiding place within my heart. May our Father be with them all to comfort, sustain and direct them and grant that some day I shall be able to accept their kind invitation to "come again."

C. A. STEADMAN, Fredericton.

Minard's Liniment relieves Neuralgia.

No article takes hold of Blood Diseases like Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. It works like magic. Miss C., Toronto, writes: I have to thank you for what Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery has done for me. I had a sore on my knee as large as the palm of my hand, and could get nothing to do any good until I used the Discovery. Four bottles completely cured it.

There are so many cough medicines in the market, that it is sometimes difficult to tell which to buy; but if we had a cough, a cold or any affliction of the throat or lungs, we would try Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. Those who have used it think it is far ahead of all other preparations recommended for such complaints. The little folks like it as it is as pleasant as Syrup.
