

Cottolene

A SHORTENING.

Down the street through the busy way
A lady passed on marketing day.
Who, pausing at a grocery store,
Stopped quickly in at the open door.
With bated breath and anxious mien
She queried: "have you COTTOLENE?"
The grocer, leaving off his work,
Interrogated every clerk;
But none up to that time had seen
An article called "COTTOLENE."
"What is it?" said he to the dame,
"That answers to this curious name."
"What is it made of? What's its use?"
"My ignorance you'll please excuse."
"You're not the merchant for my dimes,
I see you're quite behind the times."
For COTTOLENE, I'd have you know,
Is now the thing that's all the go,
An article of high regard;
A healthful substitute for lard.
Its composition pure and clean;
For cooking give me COTTOLENE."

As from his store the lady fled,
The grocer gently scratched his head—
On his next order, first was seen,
"One dozen cases COTTOLENE."

Bicycles.

We have several Bicycles on hand from last year which we will sell at a Bargain to any one in want on easy terms. We prefer having other goods and are reminded of the woman in "Harvey's settlement" who is now living happily with her ninth husband, a convincing proof of the wisdom of the old injunction "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." Now this is our last try and if not sold this month we will either auction them off or send them to Newfoundland.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON.

Third Quarter-Lesson XIII. — Sept. 24

REVIEW.

GOLDEN TEXT.—So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.—Rom. 10: 17.

In order to have a profitable and an enjoyable review day, two things should have previous thought and attention; namely, the fixing in advance upon some distinctive plan of review, and its announcement to the school at the beginning of the quarter, so that the various lessons can crystallize in the minds of the scholars and teachers in accordance with the plan proposed. "A good quarterly review is like an apple—it takes three months to ripen." "If one takes care of his pennies, we are told the dollars will take care of themselves; and so, too, if the weekly review is properly taken care of, the quarterly review will manage itself."

REVIEW FACTS.

SCRIPTURES.—The lessons extend over the last half of the Acts, chaps. 16 to 28.

TIME.—22 years. From A. D. 50, the great council at Jerusalem, to A. D. 63, the close of the first imprisonment of Paul at Rome.

PERSONS.—Paul, Barnabas, Luke, Silas and Timothy, the missionaries, stand in the first rank. We have also King Agrippa, Governors Felix Festus, and Gallio, the commander Claudius Lysias, the captain Julius, and an unnamed sea-captain. Of women we have Queen Bernice; Drusilla, the wife of the governor; Priscilla, a most intelligent woman who trained a preacher; Lydia, a pious merchant; and four prophetesses, daughters of Philip the Evangelist. Among Paul's helpers were Agabus, Apollos, Aquila, Erastus, Jason, Mnason, Philip, Paul's nephew, Publius. Other persons are the jailer, Eutychus, Ananias, Scæva.

PLACES.—Athens, Berea, Caesarea, Corinth, Ephesus, Europe, Italy, Jerusalem, Macedonia, Malta, Mediterranean Sea, Miletus, Philippi, Rome, Thessalonica.

EVENTS.—The third missionary journey; the Macedonian call; the Gospel introduced into Europe; Paul and Silas singing songs in the night; miraculous deliverance; conversion of the jailer; the noble Boreans; Paul on Mars' Hill; a year and a half at Corinth; three years at Ephesus; the baptism of the Holy Ghost; burning the Ephesian books; the Ephesian mob; return to Jerusalem; attempts at reconciliation; mob in the temple; a conspiracy discovered; Paul at Caesarea; before Agrippa; the voyage to Rome; the wreck; Paul at Rome.

NOTE the new developments; the progress of the kingdom; special providences.

REVIEW BY THE AID OF A MAP.

Since the lessons of this quarter are largely associated with various places, one of the best methods of review will be by means of a map.

In Tom Brown at Oxford the best scholar is represented as studying his Greek history by means of a map and pins with large heads made of differently colored sealing-wax. The red-headed pin represented one army, the black another. And as the text described the movements of the armies, the pins were moved to the places designated on the map. During the late war several of us ministers did the same thing with the various armies.

When news came of any change we marked it with the pins. This plan gives great vividness to the history and assists the memory. Suppose now that we have a large map on the wall. Prepare a pin with a large sealing-wax head for Paul, and smaller ones of different colors for the other missionaries. Take the initial letters of the principal places printed on cardboard, so as to be seen across the room, and with a pin fasten them in their proper places on the map as fast as the journey is made. Some scholar or class can tell where the next movement is to be made, and all the events or incidents clustering around each place can be noted or described. Pins with fliers of other colors may designate the places to which Epistles were written, and still others the places from which the history given in the Acts be enacted before our eyes, and when all is done, there will be a picture of the extent of the progress of the Gospel during the first 33 years, so far as represented by Paul. The review should close with the PRACTICAL TEACHINGS of the history as a whole.

OTHER METHODS OF REVIEW.

THE REVIEW BY EVENTS. Call for the leading events, locate them on the map, state the time, and their effect on the spread of the Gospel. The Epistles may be noted under this method of review.

THE WORD-PICTURE REVIEW. A descriptive word-picture of the more striking events being made by the superintendent, or by some teacher, and the school naming the event, with time, place, and circumstances. WRITTEN REVIEWS in answer to select questions. DOCTRINAL REVIEW. The review centring around the leading teachings of the quarter.

W. C. T. Union.

OUR MOTTO.—If God be for us who can be against us.

Wed. Sept. 6th '93.

The Local W. C. T. U. resumed its meetings today. There was a fairly good attendance. This being the appointment for the regular monthly prayer meeting; for a half hour the sisters engaged in devotional exercises. Many earnest prayers were offered, especially for those who are sick, among them our Maritime pres. Mrs. E. J. Archibald and sec. Mrs. Atkinson of Moncton.

We were glad to have with us again our loved and well tried pres. Mrs. Sleadman, who has been in ill health for some time. We hope to continue our work with renewed energy and more enthusiasm, hoping not to grow weary in well-doing knowing that in due season we shall reap if we faint not.

The Maritime W. C. T. U. which was to meet in Truro Sept. 15th has been postponed until the 20th of October on account of the illness of the President.

From the benefit of all who are interested in the work, we give the official announcement in the column.

Official Announcement.

By invitation of the W. C. T. U. of Truro, Nova Scotia, the Eleventh Annual Convention of the Maritime Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet in that town (D.V.) September 15th to 19th, inclusive.

Meetings will be held at the Immanuel Baptist Church, Prince St.

The usual reductions in railway rates will be arranged for by the Secretary, who will notify all local unions of the same.

Officers and delegates desiring entertainment will please communicate without delay with G. O. Fulton, Cor. Sec. W. C. T. U., Truro, N. S.

No effort will be spared to make our Convention meetings profitable and helpful; good speakers and prominent workers from other provinces are expected.

Short papers on different subjects will be given by some of our Maritime Superintendents.

There will be daily Bible Readings during the devotional half hour from 11.30 to 12.

A Sunday afternoon man's meeting for children will also be held. Tuesday morning will be devoted to 'School of Methods' conducted by the Maritime Supt., which will include the following departments: Evangelistic Work, Juvenile Work, Narcotics and Press Work; closing with an open discussion on "What our Local Union Most Needs."

It is confidently expected that our beloved Dominion President will be with us, and conduct a short Parliamentary Drill.

On the afternoon of Tuesday the work of the "Y's" will be fully presented.

Superintendents will please take notice that reports are strictly limited to ten minutes.

Local Unions in organized counties will please bear in mind that they report only through their County Superintendents.

And now let every White Ribboned woman in our three Maritime Provinces pray daily and earnestly for the influence of the Holy Spirit upon the heart and life of each member of the W. C. T. U.; that, at this coming Convention, we may have the blessing of our Heavenly Father, a deep and abiding sense of the presence of Christ with us, and the power and anointing of the Holy Ghost for our service for "God and Home and Native Land."

Abstain for a Week to Try Your Appetite.

A young man carelessly formed the habit of taking a glass of liquor every morning before breakfast. An older friend advised him to quit before the habit should grow too strong.

"Oh, there's no danger; it's a mere notion. I can quit any time," replied the drinker.

"Suppose you try it to-morrow morning," suggested the friend.

"Very well; to please you I'll do so; but I assure you there's no cause for alarm."

A week later the young man met his friend again.

"You are not looking well," observed the latter; "have you been ill?"

"Hardly," replied the other one. "But I am trying to escape a dreadful danger, and I fear that I shall be ill before I shall have conquered."

My eyes were opened to an imminent peril when I gave you that promise a week ago. I thank you for the timely suggestion. "How did it affect you?" inquired the friend. "The first trial utterly deprived me of appetite for food. I could eat no breakfast, and was nervous and trembling all day. I was alarmed when I realized how insidiously the habit had fastened on me, and resolved to turn square about and never touch another drop. The squaring off has pulled me down severely, but I am gaining, and I mean to keep the upper hand against this. Strong drink will never catch me in his net again."—Ohio Church Life.

Spectacled.

The earliest known reference to the invention of spectacles is found in a manuscript dating from Florence in 1299, in which the writer says: "I find myself so pressed by age that I can neither read nor write without those glasses they call spectacles, lately invented, to the great advantage of poor old men when their sight grows weak." Giordano da Rivalto in 1305 says that the invention of spectacles dates back twenty years, which would be about 1285. It is now known that they were invented by Salvino d'Armato degli Armatti, a Florentine, who died in 1317. He kept the secret for profit, but it was discovered and published before his death. But there is a singular evidence that a lens used for the purpose of magnification was in existence as early as 1513 and 1520, for at that time Raphael painted a portrait of Pope Leo X, which is in the Palazzo Pitti, Florence. In this picture the pope is drawn holding a hand magnifier, evidently intended to examine carefully the pages of a book open before him.

There is in the British Museum a remarkable piece of rock crystal, which is oval in shape and ground to a plano-convex form, which was found by Mr. Layard during the excavation of Sargon's Palace at Nimrod, and which Sir David Brewster believed was a lens designed for magnifying.—Carpenter's "The Microscope and its Revelations."

How to Help Each Other.

We have met with this illustration: "The cobbler could not paint the picture; but he could tell Apelles that the shoe-latchet was not quite right, and the painter thought it well to take his hint. Two neighbors, one blind and the other lame, were called to a place at a great distance. What was to be done? The blind man could not see and the lame man could not walk. Why, the blind man carried the lame one: the former assisted by his legs the other by his eyes. Say to no one, then, I can do nothing without you, but be ready to help those who ask your aid; and then, when it is needed, you may ask theirs."

Be filled with love, and you will be ready helpers of the needy. And love is wonderfully ingenious to devise ways of help. A little suggestion like that of the shoe-latchet to the painter may contribute to the weaving of a destiny. Do what you can.—Christian Standard.

WHY THE THIRD FINGER WAS CHOSEN.—How many women who fondly love the golden symbol of their wedding vow, know why they wear it on the third finger of their left hand? That particular digit was chosen because it was believed by the Egyptians to be directly connected by a slender nerve to the heart itself, and these ancient worshippers of Isis held this finger sacred to Appolo and the sun, and therefore gold was the metal chosen for the ring.

THE FOUR CARDINAL POINTS. The four cardinal points of health are the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. Wrong action in any of these produces disease. Burdock Blood Bitters acts upon the four cardinal points of health at one and the same time, to regulate, strengthen and purify, thus preserving health and removing disease.

OFF IN PERIL.

LIVES of children are often endangered by sudden and violent attacks of cholera morbus, diarrhoea, and desentery and bowel complaints. A reasonable and certain precaution is to keep Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry always at hand.

The Brightest Flowers must fade, but young lives endangered by severe coughs and colds may be preserved by Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, in short all affections of the throat and lungs, are relieved by this sterling preparation, which also remedies rheumatic pains, sores, bruises, piles, kidney difficulty, and is most economic.

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills: they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry

Extract of Wild Strawberry is a reliable remedy that can always be depended on to cure cholera, cholera infantum, colic, cramps, diarrhoea, dysentery, and all looseness of the bowels. It is a pure

of Wild Strawberry

Strawberry were known by the Indians to be an excellent remedy for diarrhoea, dysentery and looseness of the bowels; but medical science has placed before the public in Dr. Fowler's Ext. of Wild a complete and effectual cure for all those distressing and often dangerous complaints so common in this changeable climate.

It has stood the test for 40 years, and hundreds of lives have been saved by its prompt use. No other remedy always

Cures summer complaints so promptly, quiet the pain so effectually and allays irritation so successfully as this unrivalled prescription of Dr. Fowler. If you are going to travel this be sure and take a bottle with you. It overcomes safely and quickly the distressing summer complaint so often caused by change of air and water, and is also a specific against sea-sickness, and all bowel Complaints.

Summer
