McMeniman's home is in St. John and he had been at Tobique only about two months.

Ellis runs the engine used in hoisting, and in some way got struck with a bar, was thrown about fifteen feet and dropped through the wharf, striking the timbers as he fell, inflicting a cut in the chest and sustaining bruises on the body and face. Fortunately it was high tide, or he would have been killed on the rocks.

On Thursday Liverpool, N. S., was struck by a blizzard, accompanied with hail and rain. In less than fifteen minutes the streets were flooded, and upwards of twenty trees, from 3 to 4 feet in diameter, along the main street, were torn up by the roots; the Methodist church was damaged to the amount of $100; windows in nearly every house in town were smashed; fences are blown down in every direction.

Sunday morning the Intercolonial railway bridge across the Narrows to Dartmouth collapsed. No one knows why, except that it was weak or badly built. It fell in the darkness and none knew that it was down till daylight came, when the basin and harbor were seen strewn with wreckage of the bridge. At 8.30 Saturday night the Dartmouth train crossed the bridge and it seemed to be all right. There was no wind and the tide was not at its highest when the bridge fell. In September, 1891, the same section was carried away by a severe wind storm. It looks as though a stone and iron bridge will have to be built if it is to be made safe.

WILL WONDERS NEVER CEASE?—The Cosmopolitan Monthly Magazine of New York City has been considered for some time the brightest periodical in the list of great magazines and it has always been in the first rank of illustrated publications. Its subscription price for one year is $3, and on this account the wonderful offer made by the publisher of PROGRESS of St. John comes in the nature of a surprise. It is well known that PROGRESS has built up a great circulation at a subscription price of $2 and now it proposes to still further increase its readers by offering the Cosmopolitan for one year for 85 cents additional. To explain further, any one not now a subscriber to PROGRESS who sends $2.85 to the publisher of that bright weekly, will not only receive the Cosmopolitan Magazine for one year but PROGRESS as well for the same time.

Literary Notes.

The contents of late numbers of The Living Age exhibit the usual wide range of subjects, and discrimination in their selection.

Foremost in value and interest is "Literary Discoveries in Egypt." The land of Egypt is ever of deepest interest: around its name cluster memories of bygone ages, and from its bosom are drawn from time to time, literary treasures of untold value. The article mentioned gives a full account of numerous clay tablets, some of them made of Nile mud, covered with cuneiform inscriptions, unearthed within a few years at Tell el-Amarna, and which prove to be a correspondence between certain kings of Egypt who lived in the 15th century B. C., and their contemporaries and dependants. From these letters the reader will gain a fair insight into the social life of that time in Syria, Babylon and Palestine.

Prominent articles of the issue of the present month are "The Chatham Islands and Their Story," "Aspects of Tennyson," "The Influence of Climate on Race," "The East India Company's Military College," "A Walk in Alexandria." There are also short stories and poetry. The price of The Living Age is $8.00 a year. A specimen by sending 15 cents to Littell & Co., Publishers, Boston, Mass.

The Missionary Review of the World for August covers a broad field of thought and study. It opens with a sermon preached by the editor-in-chief, before the London Missionary Society, subject, "God's Season—Man's Opportunity Time." A missionary to Cuba contributes a very interesting article on Missions to Romanists, discussing their necessity, the extent of the field, the importance of the work, the difficulties in the way, and the power of the Romish church. There is a biographical sketch of Louis Harms, the African missionary. A New Movement Among the Students of the Old World reviews the organization of College Young Men's Christian Associations in foreign lands. Dr. A. J. Gordon, writes on "Education and Missions." "The Present Aspect of Missions in India" is of interest. The other departments are full of interest, as usual. Published monthly by Funk & Wagnalls Company, 18 and 20 Astor Place, New York, at $2.00 a year.

W. H. ROGERS.

AMHERST, N. S., May 27, 1893.

THE GRODER DYSPEPSIA CURE CO.
GENTLEMEN:—I am 71 years of age. Have been afflicted with sick headache most all my life, which developed into Dyspepsia of a mild type about twenty years ago, and has continued to grow worse until during the past seven or eight years I have not been able to take a drink of cold water or milk, as they would produce severe pains and sometimes vomiting. I have been subject to severe pains in the chest, with dizziness, which have been more frequent during the past three or four years. My mouth was furrowed up in the mornings, accompanied with bad breath. My case was yearly growing worse.

During all this long period I have tried many popular medicines, as well as prescriptions from the regular medical practitioners, but without producing any improvement.

In the fall of '92 I concluded to try a bottle or two of your medicine and such were its effects that I continued it and now I can drink cold water or milk without any inconvenience. Those dizzy pains are all gone and my mouth is as sweet as a baby's. In short, your medicine has cured me and I am sure that all Dyspeptics can be cured by its use.
