CAPE ISLAND, N. S.—Rev. Benj. P. Parker of West Yarmouth, has accepted a call to the Centerville pastorate, Cape Island, to commence labours next month.

COM.

FROM REV. S. K. WEST.—I have been spending a few days with the pastor of the Temple church, Barrington, and visiting old friends and forming some new ones. There is much in connection with Barrington, my native place, that deeply interests me. As the scenes of my childhood are presented to me, I live over a good deal. One thing that has been of interest is the repairing of the "old meeting house," situated at Barrington Head. It is one of the oldest places of worship in the township, and has a history extending over a hundred years. Though I do not attempt to write that history, there are some events that may be of interest to some of the readers of your valuable paper. The first public temperance lecture, the first temperance pledge written and signed, were within its walls; the first Sunday school organized in the county of Shelburn, was organized in it, it was an undenominational school; many of God's servants have, from its old fashioned pulpit spoken the word of life and salvation, and have passed on to their reward. It speaks well for the religious principles of the place, and of the veneration for things devoted to the service of the Lord that it is still preserved as a place of worship. It is wrong, I think for an old place of worship to be converted into a work shop or a horse stable. The old house is to maintain its former character; it is being repaired by subscription. Brethren how would it do for our Conference, which is to be held on the Island in September next, to hold one meeting in the "old meeting house?" I think arrangements to that effect could be entered into with the committee.

THE FREE BAPTIST CONFERENCE of Nova Scotia met at Advocate Harbor on Saturday. Rev. C. F. Cooper, of Yarmouth, presided. Rev. Joseph K. West, of Maine, who was recently installed in the church at Barrington, was received by letter. Sermons were preached on Sunday by Rev. C. F. Cooper and Rev. E. A. Crowell, of Canning. A large delegation from the Free Baptist churches of Kings is in attendance.—Kentville Chronicle.

Don't You Know

That to have perfect health you must have pure blood, and the best way to have pure blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier and strength builder. It expels all taint of scrofula, salt rheum and all other humors, and at the same time builds up the whole system and gives nerve strength.

Hood's Pills may be had by mail for 25c. of C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

THE BORDEN CASE.—In the trial of Miss Borden, Fall River, Mass., for the murder of her father and mother, the evidence was all in on Saturday. The counsel are now addressing the jury. One reading the evidence gets the impression that the case against her is not nearly so strong as the prosecution claimed it would be.

Teachers attending the Institute on the 27th, 28th and 29th instant can find good accommodation at the Eureka House, corner King and Westmorland streets, at 50 cts per day.

A CAUTION.—The manager of the Bank of Montreal utters the following word of caution: "If the banks will only act with caution and circumspection, neither encouraging speculative adventures nor refusing judicious assistance, there is no reason why the coming year should not be a satisfactory one for Canada. It must be a year of caution, however, as the condition of affairs in the United States is not reassuring, and we may be more or less affected by it owing to our commercial relations with that country. It should also be a period of economy, and that applies to governments, cities and municipalities, as well as the commercial community; for we have been spending too much money; there have been too many subsidies to railways, too many expensive works, and too much good money wasted."

Do you read the testimonials published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla? They are thoroughly reliable and worthy your confidence.

PERSONALS.—Mr. A. F. Randolph and members of his family arrived home from Europe last week. They had been away more than a year.

Mr. H. H. Pitts M. P. P. is home from a five weeks visit to the Pacific coast.

Rev. Wm. Downey, we are sorry to know, is not so well as he has been. For a week or more he has been very weak and suffers much distress.

Rev. G. A. Hartley is, we regret to learn, suffering from throat trouble. He has not been able to preach for three or four Sabbaths, and will not, it is thought be able to undertake pulpit duties for some weeks yet. His health in other respects, is good as usual, we hear. His many friends hope that he may soon be able to resume preaching.

NORMAL SCHOOL.—The final examinations at the Normal School were completed on Friday. By a new regulation applicants for admission to the School will hereafter be examined at different points throughout the Province. The examinations will be held July 4th. Already there are over four hundred applications.

POLITICAL.—The Liberal Convention is being held this week in Ottawa. The attendance is large.

BATHURST SCHOOLS.—The taking of evidence in the Bathurst schools case is completed. The court is to meet in this city in August to hear the arguments of counsel.

EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTE.—The annual meeting (the fourteenth) of the N. B. Educational Institute will be held in the Assembly Hall of the Normal School, this city, on the 28th, 29th and 30th inst.

THE FIRST.—A young lady in St John, Miss Hannington, has asked permission to be enrolled as a law student. She is the first young lady in this province to seek to enter the legal profession.

A Remarkable Affidavit Made
By a Well-known Business Man.

AFFLICTED WITH LOCOMOTOR ATAXIA FOR FIFTEEN YEARS—DID NOT WALK A STEP FOR FIVE YEARS—WAS GIVEN UP BY THE LEADING PHYSICIANS OF NEW YORK CITY DISCHARGED FROM THE MANHATTAN HOSPITAL AS INCURABLE—HIS MARVELOUS RECOVERY IN DETAIL.

From the New York Tribune.

For some time there has been an increasing number of stories published in the newspapers of New York City, telling of marvelous cures of various diseases. So remarkable are many of the stories in their nature, that much doubt has been aroused in the minds of the masses as to their authenticity. If they are true in detail, surely the occupation of the physician is gone, and there is no reason why anyone should die of anything but old age. If they are not true, it would be interesting to know how such testimonials and statements are obtained. The first question that arises is, Are there any such persons? If so, were they really cured as stated, or are they liberally paid for the use of their names? The latter explanation is the one that no doubt suggests itself to the average thinking newspaper reader, and not without reason.

It has long been the intention of the Tribune to investigate one of the most interesting cases that could be found and give the truth to the world as a matter of news. An especially good opportunity for investigation offered itself in the shape of the following letter, which came into the hands of a reporter from a most reliable source:

February 221, 1893.

Gentlemen:—I feel it my duty to inform you what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have done for me. I have been cursed with locomotor ataxia for fifteen years, and have been unable to walk without assistance for nearly five years. I was turned away from the Manhattan Hospital, Forty-first street and Park avenue, by Dr. Sequin, as incurable, and told I was in the last stages of the disease. I have been using the pills with water treatment since September last, and been improving since about November 1st. I can now go up and down stairs with the assistance of my wife, which is something I have not been able to do for the past three years. My pains have decreased so I may now say they are bearable, and I expect by fall to be able to attend to business.

Yours,
Geo. L'Hommedieu.

Sec'y Marchal & Smith Piano Co.
Residence, 271 W. 134th St., New York City.

When the reporter called on Mr. George L'Hommedieu, at the residence of his cousin, Mr. Edward Houghtaling, 271 W. 134th street he found him resting on his bed; he had just finished some writing for the Marchal & Smith Piano Company, with whom he had been connected as secretary for ten years. He met the reporter with a hearty greeting and a grip of the hand that certainly did not show any signs of weakness or loss of power. To look at him no one would suppose that he had been afflicted for fifteen years with one of the most terrible diseases known to medical science and pronounced incurable by some of the best known physicians of New York City. He expressed his perfect willingness to give a statement of his case for publication.

"In fact," said Mr. L'Hommedieu, "I feel it my duty to give my experience to the world for the benefit of my fellow men and all those who may be suffering with the same affliction, many of whom, no doubt, have long ago abandoned all hopes of ever being relieved."

"I am 51 years of age and was born in Hudson, N. Y. I served my time in the army, being corporal of Company A, 21st N. J. Volunteer, and I believe the exposure of army life was the seed from which has sprung all my sufferings. It has been about fifteen years since I noticed the first symptoms of my disease. The trouble began with pains in my stomach for which I could find no relief. I consulted Dr. Allen, of Yorkville, and also Dr. Pratt, since deceased, and with remarkable unanimity they pronounced it smokers' dyspepsia. This seemed probable, for at that time I was a great smoker. The pains, however, gradually became more severe and began to extend to my limbs. The attacks came on at intervals of about a month, and while the paroxysms lasted I was in almost incredible misery."

I did not leave a single stone unturned in my search for relief, but grasped at every straw. Finally I was advised by Dr. Gill to go to the well-known specialist, Dr. Hamilton. He gave me a most thorough examination, having me stripped for a full half hour, and told me he could find no trace of any disease excepting one nerve of the eye. A year later my friend told me that Dr. Hamilton privately said that I had a very grave disease of the brain.

"My condition continued to grow more critical and I was barely able to walk when I went to the Manhattan Hospital, at 41st and Park avenue. I continued treatment there for six or eight months, under Dr. Sequin, who treated me chiefly, with injections."

Here Mr. L'Hommedieu pulled up his trouser leg and showed the reporter the scars of innumerable punctures; continuing, he said:

"I must confess I felt relief for the time being and gained some hope; urgent business matters, however, compelled me to give up the hospital treatment, and it was but a short time until I was as bad as ever. From this on I grew rapidly worse. The pains were more intense, my legs were numb, and I felt I was growing weaker every day. I returned to the hospital, and this time was under treatment by Dr. Sequin. He treated me for about three months, and then, for the first time, I was told that I had locomotor ataxia and was beyond the aid of medical science. Dr. Sequin also told me with a firmness that there was no hope for me in the world and to expect my death at any time. I was now a complete physical wreck; all power, feeling and color had left my legs, and it was impossible for me to feel the most severe pinch, or even the thrust of a needle."

"If my skin was scratched there would be no flow of blood whatever, and it would take fully six weeks to heal up. In the night I would have to feel around to find my legs. My pains were excruciating and at times almost unbearable. I would take large doses of morphia to deaden the pains and be nearly dead the next day from its effects. About five years ago I learned that Dr. Ciotot, of Paris, claimed to have discovered a relief for locomotor ataxia in suspending the body by the neck; the object being to stretch the spine. I wrote to Dr. Lewis A. Sayre, of 285 5th Ave., about the matter, and at his request called to see him."

He was so interested in my case that he made a machine, or rather a harness for me, free of charge. It was fitted with pads and straps to fit under the chin and at the back of the neck, and in this position, I would be suspended from the floor twice a day. Although I received no benefit from this treatment, I shall always feel grateful to Dr. Sayre for his great interest and kindness.

"So severe had my case become by this time that I could not walk without assistance, and was almost ready to give up life. I had a great number of friends who were interested in my case, and whenever I read anything pertaining to locomotor ataxia, they would forward it to me with the hope that it would open the way to relief."

It was in this way that I first learned of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Mr. A. C. James, of the well known piano firm of James & Holstern, 335 E. 21st St., with whom I had business connections, read in the Albany Journal of a case of locomotor ataxia that had been cured by Pink Pills. Mr. James showed me the statement and urged me to give the pills a trial. I confess I did not have the least faith in their efficacy, but finally consented to try them. I sent to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., for my first supply in September last. I took them rather irregularly at first with the cold water treatment. In a very short time I was convinced that I was getting better and I began the use of the pills in earnest, taking about one box every five days.

The first sign of improvement was in November, 1892, when I had a rush of blood to the head and feet causing a stinging and prickling sensation. Feb. 22d, 1893, was the first time in five years I had ever seen any sign of blood in my feet. From this time on I began to improve. My strength and appetite have gradually returned; I now have perfect control of my bowels, and the pains have gradually left me. I can sit and write by the hour and walk up stairs by balancing myself with my hands. Without doubt I am a new man from the ground up, and I have every reason to believe that I will be hale and hearty in less than six months."

GEORGE L'HOMMEDIU,
JENNIE E. L'HOMMEDIU.
Sworn to before me this Eleventh day of March, 1893.

H. E. MELVILLE,

Commissioner of Deeds,
New York City.
[Seal] Any one having heard Mr. L'Hommedieu's narrative could not for a moment doubt its entire truthfulness, but such a remarkable story is likely to be doubted by a sceptical public, and as a safeguard against even a shadow of doubt, a Notary Public was called in and both Mr. and Mrs. L'Hommedieu made affidavits to the truth of the statement.

Still greater force is added to the story by the fact that Mr. L'Hommedieu is widely known in business circles. His long connection with the well known piano firm of Marchal & Smith, 235 E. 21st street, has brought him in touch with some of the best known business men in New York and other large cities, and his case has created wide spread interest.

The reporter next called on Mr. Robert W. Smith, a member of the firm of Marchal & Smith. Mr. Smith was found at his desk busily engaged, but when the reporter mentioned Mr. L'Hommedieu's name, and stated the nature of his call, Mr. Smith cheerfully gave the following information with but little questioning on the part of the reporter.

"I have known Mr. George L'Hommedieu for twenty years and always found him a most estimable gentleman, a business man of great energy. He became connected with our firm as secretary in 1879, and attended strictly to his office duties until 1881, when he was stricken down with his trouble. I distinctly recall the day when he was taken with his first spasm, and we had to send him to his home in a carriage. Even when he lost control of his legs, so great was his interest in business affairs that he would drive to the office and direct the work he had in charge."

As the disease advanced he was obliged to succumb and reluctantly gave up his office work. From that time on his sufferings were almost incredible, and yet, so great was his fortitude, that he bore them without a murmur. I know that he tried various physicians and their treatments without the least success, and he states that he was finally discharged from the Manhattan Hospital, and told that he was in the last stages of locomotor ataxia and was beyond the hope of human aid. About six months ago, or so, he was advised by Mr. James to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, with the cold water treatment. He commenced to take Pink Pills about September last, though not regularly, for like myself, he had very little faith in proprietary medicines, and was very sceptical about their merits. So great was his improvement that he was entirely converted and commenced to take the pills as directed. The last time I saw Mr. L'Hommedieu he had gained the use of his limbs to such an extent that he could walk up stairs with the help of his wife, and is now doing much important work for us at his home."

Notary Public, New York County.

When asked to make affidavit to the story he smiled, but expressed his perfect willingness to do so, if it would induce any poor sufferer to follow the same road that lead Mr. L'Hommedieu to relief. After securing the affidavit of Mr. Smith, the reporter called on Mr. A. C. James, who has offices and warehouses in the same building. Mr. James has known Mr. L'Hommedieu for a number of years, and was able to verify all the above facts.

"The last time I saw Mr. L'Hommedieu, which was two months ago," said Mr. James, "he was able to walk with his wife's assistance. This I consider remarkable, for I remember when he had to be carried from one chair to another. I was one of those who helped to suspend him with the arrangement made by Dr. Sayre and I never knew anyone to suffer more than he did at that time. I understand that Mr. L'Hommedieu has taken nothing but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills since last September, he has improved rapidly since he commenced their use, and I believe his condition is due to their good qualities."

Still on investigation bent, the reporter interviewed one of the leading wholesale drug dealers of New York City, and elicited the following facts about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., a firm of unquestioned reliability. Pink Pills are not looked upon as a patent medicine, but rather as a prescription. An analysis of their properties show that they contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, and the tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases depending upon vital humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, over work or excesses of whatever nature.

Pink Pills are sold in boxes (never in loose form, by the dozen or hundred, and the public is cautioned against numerous imitations sold in this shape) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

GARRATT.—At Woodstock, on the 4th inst., Rev. Edwin Garratt, aged 80 years. He leaves a wife three sons and three daughters, regretting their bereavement. Brother Garratt professed religion some fifty years ago, and was baptized by Elder Gore and united with the F. C. Baptist church at Lincoln. Early in his christian experience he had the impression that the Lord was calling him to more public work. Accordingly, as opportunity served, he went out on the Lord's Day to places adjacent to his home and held meetings. His visits were gladly received and productive of good. As early as 1877 he received license from the F. C. Baptist Conference to improve his gift publicly among the churches, and for a number of years continued doing so with acceptance; but it was not until 1872 that he was set apart, by ordination, to the work of the ministry. He from time to time, held short pastorates, but his work, for the most part, seemed to be that of an evangelist, for which work his pleasing address, and superior gift of oratory, peculiarly adapted him. His visits to a large number of churches, both in our own Province and Nova Scotia, in this capacity, were productive of good and appreciated. And now that he has gone to swell the number of the "great majority," he will be kindly remembered. For a few years, towards the close of his life, through age and infirmity he has been prevented from much active labour; and for the last year has been incapacitated from any work. The last three months of his life was passed largely under a mental cloud, but as he neared the end, the mists were cleared away, and for the last fortnight his mind was never clearer, nor his faith in Christ stronger. When interrogated in reference to his hope in the Saviour, he would triumphantly reply "Clear as the Sunlight." "Jesus is my abiding Saviour," and so happily and peacefully, he passed away. His remains were brought down to his old home at Lincoln for interment, and an appropriate funeral service was held by the writer, in the old church where for so many years he worshipped.

HAMMOND.—June 3rd, at his residence, Lockport, N. S. Mr. Ross Hammond, Postmaster, in the 55th year of his age, entered into rest after over four years of suffering, which he bore with Christian patience and resignation. He leaves a widow, and one son and daughter to mourn their loss of a kind, affectionate and devoted husband and father. Thus one of the best citizens of Lockport has passed away. It can truly be said he was a good man; his daily life, commanded respect from all who knew him.

HODGSON.—At Rustigornish, S. Co., on the 20th of May, Mrs. Maria Hodgson, in the 55th year of her age, leaving a sorrowing husband, nine children several grandchildren and a large connection to mourn their loss. Sister Hodgson never publicly professed religion, but in sickness the Saviour was very near to bless and comfort her. She suffered very much in her last sickness. She was highly respected by her neighbors and friends, which was apparent by the large congregation that attended her funeral. Elder John Perry preached from "The last enemy which is death, shall be destroyed."
