Within the memory of middle aged people CONSUMPTION and other Lung troubles were much more prevalent and fatal than they are to-day. The existing improvement in the public health in this respect is, in considerable measure, due to a more widespread appreciation of sanitary laws; but PUTTNER'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, and Pancreatine, may justly claim to have largely aided in the good work. Many persons who, some years ago were in a most critical state of health, are to-day sound and well, as a consequence of a faithful use of this valuable remedy.

Literary Notes.

Among the new periodicals from the Christian press is one, the Medical Mission Herald. It is published in the interest of the International Mission Institute which has been recently established for the purpose of sending out medical missionaries to foreign fields and depraved districts at home. Every Christian should take an interest in such a cause. Office of publication, 2221 Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

Several very interesting articles appear in the May number of The Missionary Review of the world—among others two on the country, peoples, and missions of "Siam and the Laos." Both articles are illustrated and form a valuable addition to the literature of missions. "The Negro as a Missionary" is an interesting sketch of William H. Sheppard, an African, born in Virginia, who has lately been thrilling audiences in the United States with an account of his wonderful experiences in endeavoring to carry the gospel to the people of his own native land. Among other noteworthy articles in this issue are: "Idolatry in India; "Railroads in Turkey;" "The Growth of the Christian Church in Japan;" "Dr. Gordon's Relations to Missions; and "In Darkest Africa." Current topics of interest and recent book on missions are discussed in the International and Editorial Departments, and the General Intelligencer Department gathers items of interest from all countries of the world.

THE EDITOR'S EXPERIENCE

A Sufferer for Several Years From Acute Dyspepsia.

FOOD DISTRESSED HIM AND IT BEGAN TO HAVE A WEAKENING EFFECT ON THE HEART—MANY REMEDIES FAILED BEFORE A CURE WAS FOUND.

From the Canso, N. S., Breeze.

While newspaper men are called upon in their capacity as publishers to print from week to week words of praise spoken in favor of proprietary medicines, it is not often that the editor himself feels it his duty to say a good word on behalf of any of these preparations. And yet if a newspaper man has actually found benefit from the use of a proprietary medicine, why should he not make it known to his readers, and thus perhaps point out to some of them the road to renewed health. The editor of the Breeze believes it his duty to say a new words of praise in favor of a remedy that has proved an inestimable boon to him, and to say them without any solicitation on the part of the proprietors of the medicine, who, as a matter of fact, had no reason to know that he was ailing or was using their medicine. For several years the editor of the Breeze had been subject to that distressing complaint, dyspepsia, and only those who have been similarly troubled can know how much misery this trouble entails. He had but very little appetite, and what he did eat caused an unpleasant feeling of fullness, and made him feel languid and heavy, often causing intense pain in the stomach only relieved by vomiting up the food which he had taken. He was also troubled with palpitation of the heart, brought on no doubt by the dyspepsia. Numerous remedies alleged to cure dyspepsia were tried, but without success, and the trouble was approaching a chronic state. At the suggestion of a friend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were tried and relief soon followed their use, and after a few boxes had been taken the editor was able to assert positively that he had been cured of his dyspepsia by this remedy that has proved so great a blessing to mankind. To any one troubled with this complaint he would strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. To newspaper men particularly they will be found just the thing to impart health and vigor to the whole system and enable them to pursue their work free from that tired, despondent feeling so prevalent among the craft. The editor of the Breeze firmly believes that what they have done for him they will do for others, and he gives them his hearty and unsolicited endorsation.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an unfailing cure for all troubles resulting from poverty of the blood or shattered nerves, and where given a fair trial they never fail in cases like that above related. Sold by all dealers, or sent postpaid at 50 cents a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. See that the registered trade mark is on all packages.

BROUGHT HOME FOR BURIAL.—The body of Dr. Sharp, of Millstream, who died last fall at Minneapolis, was brought back to-day for interment. Mrs. Sharp and her daughter accompanied the remains.
