

WAR NOTES.

Boers continue to strike a blow they can, and then run. They however, being cornered and captured. The latest despatches from Roberts say "The enemy is fleeing in front of Kitchener's and Buller's forces. Early Saturday morning he was trying to cross the river at Wolven station, where he was engaged by Smith-Dorrien. On Aug. 9 fought a rear guard action near Buffelschoek. He captured two ambulances."

General occupied Amerspoort the morning of Aug. 7. The enemy retired before his force about six miles before Amerspoort was reached. The casualties were 30 men wounded. Buller on the north bank of the Reitsig Aug. 9 on his way to Ermelo. Small forces of Boers have surrendered during the week. Gen. Hunter reported that he had made 4,140 prisoners in the Bethlehem-Harrismith district, a majority of whom are now en route for Cape Town. Three guns, 4,000 horses were captured and 105 rounds of ammunition were destroyed.

Advices from Cape Town give the following respecting the Canadian soldiers: Captain McDonnell, released; 502, killed August 2nd; 402, severely wounded; 339, killed; 8183, Smith, dangerously ill at Cape Town; 216, Crowe, of enteric fever at Johannesburg the 5th.

Capt. A. H. MacDonnell is battalion adjutant with "H" Company, first Canadian contingent. He hails from Nova Scotia. There is no 514, Parker, in the official list. There are eight men of that name on list. The nearest approach to the number 547, G. Parker, 10th field battery A, who has been serving with "E" battery.

It is winter in South Africa, and the troops often suffer from cold and army nights. Recently one officer perished from exposure.

British prisoners in the hands of the Boers are in a pitiful condition. Forced marches in South Africa are on quarter rations for horses and all rations for men.

The Boers are still accused of mistreating the white flag whenever opportunity offers. They seem eager to shed as much blood as they can.

Lady Roberts, in a letter to a friend in London, mentions that the sorrow of the Commander-in-Chief at the loss of his son is still as deep as ever. "Nothing," her ladyship adds, "that anyone can do will make him the same again. His grief has added years to his appearance."

Major Burnham, the American scout who was with Lord Roberts, has on his return from the Cape, dined with Queen Victoria and spent the night at Windsor Castle. The major says that the secret of the greater mobility of the Boers consisted in the fact that their own native horses were stronger than the imported English ones, when the latter were fed on native food. If a mounted Boer had half a mile start it was practically impossible for an English trooper to overtake him. The English commanders made use of native horses whenever they could get them, and but for these hardly a scout could be mounted. Nothing could exceed his admiration for Lord Roberts's colonial bodyguard. He had seen them lying down, holding their unsaddled horses, and at the sound of the bugle they had saddled up, mounted and rode past within thirty seconds.

Lord Roberts reported to the War Office, Aug. 8th:

"As Warren has pacified the western districts of Cape Colony, I am allowing him to return home and am placing the whole of the troops in the Colony under Forester-Walker." "General Sir Charles Warren commanded the Fifth Division of the South African field force."

The Hamilton Spectator aptly remarks that the brave boys of the Canadian contingent are having a novel experience—something like three winters all in one, as they left Canada in the winter, are now enjoying a winter in South Africa, and the chances are they will get home just in time to begin another Canadian winter. We fancy they will like the Canadian winter better than the African one, but we hope they will all live to spend many summers in Canada after the war is over.

The Toronto World has the following: "It looks as if Col. Sam Hughes is on his way back to Canada, entirely of his own accord, and that his return is in no way due to the influence of Major-General Hutton or anyone else. Writing from Kalkfontein, on June 23, Colonel Hughes states that he is desirous of getting back to Canada, and that he has officially asked the General to be relieved of his command. His request was probably complied with, as it was made nearly a month before it was announced in Canada that he had been retired."

This bit of miserable news came last week from Col. Lessard to the Department of Militia: "I am very sorry to report that two of my battalion, Private J. A. Hopkins and Private W. Pearce, have been awarded each ten years penal service for collecting arms from burghers without authority and selling them back to the enemy. Both of these men were members of A. squadron, R.C.D., Toronto, before they enlisted. I have no excuse to offer for their rash act, except that I think they were led by another man, who styled himself as Sergeant Jones, of French's scouts." One of the men is from Bradford, Ont., and the other from Toronto. It is only fair to assume even if the worst be true, that these inexperienced young fellows were led astray. Their friends—especially those of Hopkins, declare it impossible for them to believe him guilty of a crime knowingly. Let us hope that it may be discovered that a great mistake has been made in these cases.

Letters received from Russell C. Hubby, son of Rev. Mr. Hubby, Sussex, who is in hospital at Naauwpoort, South Africa, state that his lungs are affected and that he has been advised by the medical authorities to remain in that country if he wishes to recover. The hardships of the campaign have caused serious injury to his constitution, and it will probably be some time before he is restored to health.

Capt. W. C. Good, who went to South Africa with the New Brunswick section of E. Battery Royal Canadian Artillery, has evidently been sick. A late despatch reports that he has just been discharged from the hospital at Cape Town.

Many residents of Pretoria have been sent into exile for having behaved cruelly or shamefully to British subjects before or during the war. The terms of exile vary, in one instance reaching twenty-five years.

A Pretoria despatch tells of the discovery there of a plot to kill all the British officers in town and make Lord Roberts a prisoner. A plot at Johannesburg was exploded some ten days ago. Ten of the Pretoria conspirators have been arrested.

DENOMINATIONAL NEWS.

QUARTERLY MEETING.—The Yarmouth County Free Baptist Quarterly Meeting met at Argyle Sound Friday, Aug. 3rd, and continued in session over the Sabbath. At the opening service Rev. J. K. West preached a helpful sermon. Saturday morning was devoted to business. The usual routine work was gone through. It was voted to give $10.00 from the Quarterly Meeting funds to the Educational Society. Reference was made to the death of the late Rev. Wm. Miller, a vote of sympathy for the bereaved family was passed, and the Secretary instructed to send a letter of condolence expressing the same. Rev. W. C. Weston was appointed a delegate to attend the next session of Quarterly Meeting in Shelburne County. At 2.30 p. m. we met for social conference. There were a goodly number present, and a deep interest manifested. About fifty took part in this meeting. Saturday evening Rev. F. S. Hartley preached a short sermon, at the close of which many testified. Sunday morning Rev. W. C. Weston preached, in the afternoon Rev. Edwin Crowell, and in the evening Rev. J. K. West. All these services were largely attended and very helpful. At the close of the afternoon service the Lord's Supper was partaken of. Sunday evening's meeting proved to be a general waking up time; several rose for prayers for the first time, and several more who had been in back ground expressed desire to get back to "Father's House." A service was announced for Monday evening. It was evident that the Spirit of the Lord was at work, and it is our prayer that many may be brought to righteousness.

FROM REV. J. NOBLE.—Again I write a few lines for the INTELLIGENCER. As my friends were kept very well acquainted with my whereabouts from the last time I wrote up to the Sixth District Meeting, held at Penobscot, I will begin there. From that District Meeting I went to Cornhill, where I remained over Sunday. I visited all I could while there, preached Sunday morning and attended the young people's prayer meeting in the evening. I was very sorry to find the condition of the church not so good as I would desire. They very unwisely permitted a man named King, who calls himself an "evangelist," but who is not, so far as I can learn, a minister of any religious body, to hold meetings in their midst, without the consent of the pastor. I endeavored to show them that in this day of well organized Christian denominations, the man who does not find a home in one of them, and secure therefrom authorization as a preacher, is not a safe leader of the people in religious things. The more I see of the work done by such irresponsible preachers the more I am sure that they are wrong—the makers of unchristian strife and division. I trust our brethren may recover from the ill effects of their mistake. . . . From Cornhill I went to Portage to see an old friend whom I had not seen for more than thirty years. At the same time I saw, also, another old brother and sister whom I had not seen for some years. I do not expect to see them again in this life, for I am not likely to ever again be in that part of the country. Next day I went to Sussex, where I called on some old friends, and remained over night. As the following day I drove down the river. I changed my plan and decided to go over the mountain and visit an old brother and his family there. I tarried with them to dinner; we had a season of prayer, and I went on again. I reached the Narrows before dark, and visited some old friends. Next day I drove to the river, and crossed it. Deciding to go home, I kept moving along slowly, reaching Prince William Saturday night. There I met bro. S. J. Perry. He had three appointments for Sunday, and would have to drive over some of the road twice; so I consented to take one of the appointments. There was a tent meeting in the vicinity, and I, also, went to that. It was not a particularly strong affair. I am now at home. Next week I will (D. V.) go up river as far as Bath. I have not yet decided about attending the Seventh District Meeting; if I do go, I will drive.

July 31st. QUARTERLY MEETING.—The Kings and Cumberland Quarterly Meeting was held at Canning, N. S., Saturday, June 30th, and Sunday July 1st. Nineteen persons attended from Advocate and Port Greville, being conveyed to and from Canning by Steamer Beaver. The Kings County churches, with the exception of Black Rock church, were represented. The ministers present were Rev. Wm. Millar, delegate from Conference, Rev. E. C. Wall of Kingsport, and Rev. D. T. Porter, of Advocate. As the delegates arrived on Friday 29th, they attended the regular prayer meeting in the evening, which was led by Rev. Wm. Millar. The Quarterly Meeting opened on Saturday at 2 p. m. The first service was a conference meeting, led by Rev. D. T. Porter. The power of the Spirit was strongly felt on the hearts of the people, and a large number of testimonies were given. At the conclusion of the service a business meeting was held. Rev. D. T. Porter was appointed Chairman, and S. R. Canning, Secretary for the ensuing year. Reports from churches were received, and were listened to with great interest. . . . Social service was held on Saturday evening at 7.30, led by Rev. Wm. Millar. It was a good meeting. . . . The order of services on Sunday was as follows: Preaching, 10.30 a. m., by Rev. Wm. Millar; 3 p. m., by Rev. E. C. Wall; 7.30 p. m., by Rev. D. T. Porter. The weather was fine and the services were much enjoyed. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered at the close of the morning meeting. The session was helpful and encouraging to all who attended. . . . We were sorry to hear, a few days ago, of bro. Millar's death. We enjoyed meeting and hearing him very much. . . . The next Quarterly Meeting will probably be held at Port Greville, Cumberland County.

S. R. CANNING, Secretary. ADVOCATE, N. S., Aug. 9. MINISTERS.—Rev. Gideon Swim would be glad to supply any vacant churches for a month or so. His address is Apohaqui, K. Co. Rev. F. S. Hartley, Yarmouth, N. S., is open to correspondence with churches needing a pastor.

SOMETHING LEFT.—The Christian Advocate, the leading Methodist paper in the United States tells this story. An old lady, fearful of the deterioration of her beloved denomination, questioned a leading man as to whether there was anything left distinctive of Methodism. Preachers can stay as long as the people wished. The class meetings are almost a dead letter. Episcopal ritual is being adopted, and no one dares say "amen" above a whisper. The layman was completely nonplussed. At last he rallied and exclaimed, "We still have plenty of collections."

There is no great achievement that is not the result of patient working and waiting.

P. O. BOXES.—The postmaster general has decided upon the establishment throughout the cities of Canada of a system of boxes for newspapers such as are now in use for letters. The scheme will be inaugurated as soon as the boxes can be turned out.

THE CHINESE.—We are apt, says the Presbyterian Witness, to speak harshly of the Chinese as a race—as if there were no good in them. This of course is wrong and unchristian. A few weeks ago some Chinese in a Presbyterian Church in San Francisco heard about the famine in India. They at once undertook to do something to relieve distress, and by hard work they raised $10 which was at once forwarded where it has been so sorely needed.

Dyspepsia and Headache

An Elderly Lady Tells of Her Cure Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills After a Score of Other Remedies Had Failed.

Dyspepsia causes more genuine distress than most diseases that afflict mankind. In this country from one cause or another, its victims are numbered by the hundreds of thousands, and those afflicted always feel tired, worn out and miserable, and are subject to fits of melancholy or ill temper without apparent cause. It is obvious that the human body, in order to perform its functions, must be properly nourished, and this cannot be done when the food is improperly digested. Those who suffer from indigestion should exercise care as to diet, and only easily digested foods should be taken. But more than this is required—the blood needs attention in order that the stomach may be strengthened, and the secretion of the gastric juices properly carried on. There is no other medicine offered the public that will act so promptly and effectively as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Proof of this is given in the case of Mrs. F. X. Doddridge, St. Saviour, Que. In conversation with a reporter, Mrs. Doddridge said:—"For quite a number of years I have been a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia, accompanied by the sick headaches that almost drive a body crazy. I suffered from terrible pains in the stomach, bloating and belching wind. All food seemed to disagree with me, and as a result of the trouble, I was very much run down, and at times I was unable to do even light housework. I am sure I tried a score of different medicines, but without success, and as I am sixty years of age, I had come to believe that it was hopeless to expect a cure. A friend who had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with good results, urged me to try this medicine, and my husband brought home a couple of boxes. Before they were finished, I felt much better, and we then got another half dozen boxes and these have completely restored my health, and I not only feel better than I have done for years, but actually feel younger. I very cheerfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to similar sufferers. If your dealer does not keep these pills, they will be sent postpaid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SUNDRIES.—More than three-fourths of the offices in Cuba are now filled by natives. . . . Harvard University lacks but fifty-three of having five thousand students. . . . There are 1,213 women clergymen, 208 lawyers and 279 detectives at the present time. . . . Married couples in Norway are privileged to travel on railways at a fare and a half.

THE CORRECT PRONUNCIATION.—Recently, in answer to a correspondent, it was stated by a contemporary that the correct and generally accepted pronunciation of the word "khaki" is "car-kee." Another paper then came out with a statement that there was no authority for using the "t" sound in pronouncing the word. There is at least the warrant of English sanction for it, as we may illustrate, by quoting the following from the Globe of London, Eng. A correspondent asks us: "If a Briton and a Boer were struggling at Cape Town to enter a tram-car, the doors of which were locked, which man would be the first to enter the car?" Answer—"The man with the Khaki."

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS. AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success.
