By an accident on the Grand Trunk Railway at Lewiston Junction, Me., David McCutcheon, of Hoyt Station, N. B., a train hand, was killed.

The condition of all those injured in the Grand Falls railroad accident Thursday morning, when a Canadian Pacific train broke through the bridge over the St. John river and went into the water, is slightly improved, but it is impossible as yet to tell how serious some of the injuries may prove. A complete list of the injured is as follows:

Hiram I. Smith, a commercial traveller of St. John, seriously injured about the head and chest.

Conductor Henderson, seriously injured internally.

Engineer J. O'Neil, seriously injured about the head.

Gen. Ticket Agent McKenna, arm fractured and internal injuries.

The dwelling of Thomas Drummond situated at Upham, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning last and the inmates had a very narrow escape from death. A dreadful fatality occurred in the Moncton yard of the I. C. R. Sunday morning. The shunters were about finishing work when it was desired to uncouple a car, and brakeman John Boyce stepped in between the slowly moving cars to draw the pin. Instead of observing such precaution of keeping his foot outside the rail, he put his left foot inside, and, it is supposed, caught it in a fish plate and he was unable to extricate himself. He was dragged down, and a car passed over the entire length of his leg and body to the shoulder, fearfully mangling it and almost severing an arm. After one car passed over him he managed to throw himself clear of the rail, but the train was not stopped until it had gone another car length. He lived for almost three hours in frightful agony, retaining consciousness until a short time before his death. He called for his mother, who lives in Salisbury, and a light engine was sent for her, but he was unconscious when she arrived. The unfortunate man was 26 years of age, powerfully built, and had been in the yard only about six months.

Consumption's Victims

Can Obtain New Health if Promptly Treated.

IT WAS THROUGH MISS LIZZIE SMITH OF WATERFORD, WAS IN CONSUMPTION, BUT HER HEALTH HAS BEEN RESTORED—ADVICE TO SIMILAR SUFFERERS.

From the Star, Waterford, Ont.

Throughout Canada there are thousands of girls who owe the bloom of health shown in their cheeks, the brightness of eye and elasticity of step to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. There are few girls in the first years of womanhood who do not suffer more or less from anaemia. We see them everywhere, and they are easily recognized by a sallowness of complexion, or perhaps extreme pallor, they are subject to headaches, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, and feel tired and worn out on the least exertion. To those who suffer in this manner Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer speedy and certain relief. Proof of this may be had in our own town. Miss Lizzie Smith, daughter of Mr. Wm. Smith, is today the embodiment of health and activity, yet not so long ago her friends feared that consumption had fastened its fangs upon her. A representative of the Star recently interviewed Mrs. Smith as to the means employed to restore her daughter's health. Mrs. Smith's unhesitating reply was that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were entitled to the credit. Mrs. Smith said: "My daughter is nineteen years of age. For some years she has not been very strong and was subject to sick headaches. Last summer she went to work in an establishment in Paris, and had not been there long when her health grew much worse. She consulted a doctor there who said that her blood was in such a bad state that the trouble was likely to develop into consumption, and on hearing this Lizzie returned home. When we saw her we feared she was in a decline. She suffered very much from headaches; was as white as chalk, with dark circles under her eyes and the eyes shrunken. Her appetite was very fickle and she ate very little. She was very despondent and at times said she did not care whether she lived or not. I decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I heard were so highly recommended in cases like hers, a trial. She had only taken the pills for a couple of weeks when we could see an improvement. By the time she had used a couple of boxes her appetite was much improved, her headaches less frequent, and the spirit of depression passed away. Four boxes more fully restored her health, and to-day she is as well and as active as though she had never had a day's illness. I really think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved her life and believe they are worth their weight in gold to girls suffering as she did."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make rich, red blood, strengthen the nerves, bring the glow of health to pale and sorrow cheeks, and make the feeble and despondent feel that life is once more worth living. The genuine are sold only in boxes, the wrapper bearing the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." May be had from all dealers or by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50, by address in the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LITERARY NOTES.

Rudyard Kipling, Dr. S. Wier Mitchell, Ian MacLaren, Cyrus Townsend Brady, Julia Magruder and Mrs. Burton Kingsland are among the contributors to the June Ladies Home Journal. Some of its notable features are: "The Passion Play This Year," "The Riches Woman in America" and "How Some Familiar Things Come to Be." "When the College is Hurtful to a Girl," is sure of a wide reading; so is "The Minister and His Vacation." The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. One dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

"The Problem of Increasing Human Energy," is contributed to the June number of the century by Nikola Tesla, the electric investigator. Mr. Tesla regards mankind as a body in motion and addresses himself to the problem of increasing its force. In the department of pure literature, the current Century is notable as containing hitherto unpublished poems by James Russell Lowell, and new poems by Edmund Clarence Sédman and Thomas Bailey Aldrich. Governor Roosevelt writes of reform and reformers. Miss Dorothea Klumpke, the American astronomer, tells of her night ride in a balloon, last November, from Paris to the coast. The number abounds in fiction, including Dr. Mitchell's "Dr. North and his Friends," and five short stories. Chief among the illustrations are reproductions of an unpublished portrait of Alexander Hamilton, accompanying a letter containing a characterization of his slayer, Aaron Burr; and an unpublished photograph of Lincoln.

Methodist Magazine and Review for June completes the fifty-first volume. It has thus maintained a longer continuous existence than any other Canadian monthly. It has nine well illustrated articles, among them being, "Campaigning with Kitchener," "A Day in Thrums," "Low Water Levels in Canada," "The Utlander's Ride," describes the truculence and tyranny of the Boers.

Toronto; William Briggs. $2.00 a year; $1.00 for six months.

The June number of the Homiletic Review completes Volume XXXIX. The number is unsurpassed in breadth and variety, in freshness, timeliness and living interest. Dr. John G. Paton, "the Apostle to the New Hebrides," relates the thrilling story of his experience among the savage cannibals of the South Sea

Islands. Dr. George C. Lorimer discusses on "The Dream of Plato's Wife, or Woman's Place and Power in Religion," and the Archbishop of Canterbury, "The Twofold Education of Women."

"The Prayer-Making Service," and "Religious and Social Thought and Movement at the Close of the Nineteenth Century,"—regular features of the Review—will amply repay careful study, as will also the editorial discussions.

The most momentous and practical of all the subjects discussed is probably that by Dr. Gregory, "Is the World of This Generation to be Evangelized?" The number is replete with life for the preacher.

Published monthly by Funk & Wagnalls Co., 30 Lafayette Place, New York. $3.00 a year.

Among the thirteen articles in the June Forum, there are some which will be widely quoted and discussed: "Do We Owe Independence to the Filipinos?" Sir Charles W. Dilke's paper on "U. K., U. S., and the Ship Canal"; Edward Henry Hill's essay on "Teaching in High Schools as a Life Occupation for Man"; Professor Hall's arraignment of "College Philosophy" and the Hon. John Charlton's paper on "American and Canadian Trade Relations."

Hamlin Garland's vigorous story of Western life, entitled "The Eagle's Heart," draws a remarkable strong picture of the adventurous life in cow-towns and mining settlements, and shows every phase of the aggressive existence of miner, plainsman and cowboy.

This story, superbly illustrated will begin in The Saturday Evening Post for June 16 and run through the summer numbers of the magazine.

Woman's Welfare.

Paine's Celery Compound

Gives and Maintains a Perfect Condition of Bodily Health.

The great susceptibility of women to nervousness and worry is heightened by the fact that, in the majority of cases they lead a confined and monotonous life, narrow down to the four walls of home the greater part of the day.

Paine's Celery Compound is just what such nervous and depressed women need to restore their nerves to energy and to lift them out of their cooped-up, dyspeptic habit of body.

No other remedy known to medical men is so rich in flesh-forming and energy-producing constituents for women as Paine's Celery Compound. It is also a true and unfailing regulator, keeps the blood pure and rich, and maintains an even condition of good health that makes a woman contented and happy. Mrs. Wilcox, of Oremore, Ont., writes:

"For years I have suffered from constant sick headache and nervousness. At times I have been so bad that I have been unable to sleep two hours a night for weeks. I have tried many medicines and doctored a great deal, but never received a hundredth part of the value from a hundredth part of Paine's Celery Compound. After using three bottles I can sleep well, my headaches have ceased, and I feel healthier and fresher than I have been for years."

JOHN A. ROBERTSON.

WHY NOT? Money flows freely for political purposes, why not for religious? One hundred thousand dollars will be spent by Philadelphia alone for the entertainment of the Republican nominating convention for President and Vice-President in June, yet the followers of Christ hold back in raising that much in city evangelization. Millions are expended in public improvements, yet the Christian pocketbook lacks the consecration that will expend proportionate sums for the religious elevation and reformation of the masses. We want a more liberal devoting for the Lord along educational, missionary, reformatory and ecclesiastical lines. The wealth of the land is largely in the hands of the Church, and the world will not be converted until she uses it without stint according to arising need.—Ph. Presbyterian.

—At the end of 1899 there were 2,797 Protestant missionaries present in the Gospel to the natives of India or 329 more than in the previous year. Of these the Church of England has 528, the Presbyterians 467, the Baptists 436, the Methodists 298, and the Lutherans 263. Nearly all the denominations show an increase in the number of missionaries, but the Baptists show a decrease of 17.
