HEALTH IN APRIL.

Use the World's Greatest
Spring Medicine
Paine's Celery Compound.

It is the One Remedy Gladly and Universally Recommended by the Ablest Doctors.

It is well known that almost every condition of winter life has been detrimental to the health of thousands of men and women.

The blood has become clogged and impure; the skin is unhealthy and muddy, showing eruptions and pimples; the eyes are dull and sunken; the nerves are unsteady; there is loss in weight, and stomach troubles, rheumatism and neuralgia make life a misery by day and night.

Paine's Celery Compound is the only spring medicine that the best physicians are now recommending, because no other remedy can so quickly bring new and vigorous health to ailing, half-dead and broken-down.

Paine's Celery Compound cures disease by first purifying the blood and enriching and strengthening the nerves. It makes the weak strong; it regulates and invigorates the entire nervous system from the brain to the minutest nerve filament.

Seeing that the experience of tens of thousands has proven that Paine's Celery Compound is the greatest of all spring medicines—the one remedy that the world could not lose to day at any price—it is foolish and suicidal to defer its use. One or two bottles used at this season will surely banish all symptoms of disease and fit you for the work and duties of spring and summer.

When you are buying Paine's Celery Compound see that you get the genuine with the name "Paine's" and the "Stalk of Celery" on the label; other compounds are frauds and deceptions.

The deaths from the grip numbered 40 last week, against 21 in the week before. Pneumonia took off 100 victims and consumption 46. There were 51 cases of diphtheria reported, nine of which proved fatal.

Mrs. Reynolds and one son were killed with an axe, another son badly injured, and the house burned to the ground. Then Reynolds ran through the streets flourishing his axe. He was arrested. It is thought he is insane.

Fred Reynolds, who killed three members of his family at Red Beach is held for the grand jury. The prosecution established reasonable belief of Reynolds' guilt. From the defence outlined, which, however, was not carried far, the supposition is that Reynolds' defence at trial will be that of insanity. Judge Fowler committed the prisoner to Machias jail without bail for the grand jury, which will sit prior to the April term of court.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

The Russian government is considering a scheme for a large increase in the Russian navy.

The Sebastopol correspondent of the Daily Graphic says:—
"War alarms fill the naval headquarters here. The whole Euxine squadron is fully equipped for instant services. Troops with full war kits are daily arriving from the interior. The garrison will be a powerful army corps."
"There is much excitement among the staffs of both services, and all the talk is of bringing Turkey to her senses by forcible measures."

Archibald Forbes, the famous war correspondent, died March 30. He had been ill several months.

[Archibald Forbes was a Scotchman, and was sixty-two years old. He served in the Royal Dragoon for several years, and then took up journalism. His first great success as a war correspondent was gained in the French-German Daily News. He afterwards saw fighting in Spain, Serbia, Turkey—anywhere, indeed, where fighting was going on. He wrote a number of books, and made several lecture tours.]

This is the Way of It.

The glycerine in Scott's Emulsion soothes the rough and irritable throat. The hypophosphites tone up the nerves. And the cod-liver oil heals and strengthens the inflamed bronchial tubes and air cells.

A UNIVERSAL LANGUAGE.

A universal language has long been one of the pressing needs of the world. In the commercial world this need is being fairly well supplied by the English language, and if it continues to spread for a few decades it has done during the last quarter of a century, business men of all nationalities and in the remotest corners of the earth will soon be able to communicate freely with each other.

Next to the universal language a universal system of shorthand by which business and literary men can freely correspond with each other, or which will enable others to use their notes as occasion may require, takes perhaps the second place.

The only system that bids fair to accomplish this is the Isaac Pitman. Besides being almost exclusively used throughout the British Empire, it has during the last ten years made great headway in the United States, where till recently a number of modifications of the Pitman system were extensively used. Lately it has been officially adopted in the High Schools of Greater New York, and in leading educational institutions all over the United States.

It is the only system recommended for use in the High Schools of Ontario. Dr. A. H. McKay, superintendent of education for Nova Scotia, makes a strong plea for its adoption in the Nova Scotia public schools, largely on the ground that it is the only system that stands any chance of becoming a universal system.

Isaac Pitman during his life time enjoyed many gratifying evidences of public appreciation, the most notable of which, perhaps, was the honor of knighthood conferred upon him by Queen Victoria in recognition of the great benefit of his invention to the English speaking people. Could he have lived to witness the more recent successes of his system he would have realized even more fully than was permitted to him the importance and success of his life's work.—Daily Telegraph, March 15.

The Isaac Pitman is the system taught at the Saint John Business College.

POLITICAL NEWS.—The following appointments to government offices in St. John have been made: W. A. Lockhart to be collector of customs; John E. Wilson to be inspector of gas; James V. Lantaulum to be immigration agent.

Statistics of an interesting and gratifying sort have been collected and published showing the state of religion in forty-five colleges and universities spread over twenty of the forty-five states in the Union. They embrace an attendance of more than 30,000 students, and three only report a depressed religious condition. In Yale University sixty-five per cent. of the academic and scientific students are Christians, and the percentage in the senior class is still higher. The same proportion obtains at John Hopkins University, while that of Nebraska is rated as high as eighty-five per cent.

Advice to Consumptives

There are three great remedies that every person with weak lungs, or with consumption itself, should understand. These remedies will cure about every case in its first stages; and many of those more advanced. It is only the most advanced that are hopeless. Even these are wonderfully relieved and life itself greatly prolonged.

What are these remedies? Fresh air, proper food and of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Be afraid of draughts but not of fresh air. Eat nutritious food and drink plenty of milk. Do not forget that Scott's Emulsion is the oldest, the most thoroughly tested and the highest endorsed of all remedies for weak throats, weak lungs and consumption in all its stages. Scott & Bowne, Chemists, Toronto.

LITERARY NOTES.

People who are contemplating a visit to Paris this summer will enjoy the pleasant sketch of "Paris and the Exposition" which The Living Age for March 24 translates from a recent article by M. Gabriel Hanot-ux.

W. M. Flinders Petrie, the famous Egyptologist, contributes the leading article in Appleton's Popular Science Monthly for April. In it he gives a brief popular account of the discoveries which have been made during recent years in Egyptian exploration. Professor Petrie has charge of the fund set aside by the British Government for archaeological work in Egypt, and is unquestionably the greatest living authority to-day on Egyptology. The historical importance of the work done by this fund, and the amount of light which it has thrown on doubtful questions of early history, make its publications interesting and valuable.

Rudyard Kipling's new animal story, "The Elephant's Child," is a feature of the April Ladies' Home Journal. It is the first of a series of "Just So" stories, and describes, with Kipling's inimitable drollery, how the elephant got his trunk. Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady begins an interesting series of articles on his experiences as "A Missionary in the Great West," and Julian Ralph writes of "The Choir Boys of England." Edward B. Kirk, in describing "The Eve With Which We Marry," suggests some restricting, uniform legislation, and speaks plainly on divorce. Ian McLaren pays his respects to "The Gentle Tramps in Our Churches." To every branch of activity which concerns the homemaker the April Journal brings helpful suggestions or advice. The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. One dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

FASHIONS.—The April number of McCall's Magazine comes to hand with three colored plates. It also contains illustrations of patterns of artistic fashion designs for ladies', misses', children's and infants' wear. The first article is devoted to spring millinery.

Of further interest to ladies are The Importance of Being Well Dressed, Hygienic Hint, Information on the Housewives, Hints About Children, What Children are Wearing, How Long You Should Sleep, What You Can Make From Old Glasses, Useful Recipes, &c. Each yearly subscriber receives a free pattern of her own selection. Published at 51, a copy—50c a year.—The McCall Co., 138 to 146 W. 4th St., New York.

The Baptist Argus tells that the deacons of a large city church were recently canvassing several names which had been placed before them, getting ready to recommend to the church a pastor. One of them said: "This man is a smoking preacher. I move we pass him by." The motion was carried unanimously.

A remarkable religious movement in Havana has followed the American occupation of the city. There is now a strong Protestant church there which represents all classes of society. It is supported by General Brooke and his officers and even the membership. The prayer-meetings are sometimes attended by as many as 300 persons. A committee of twenty-six ladies has been formed under the presidency of Mrs. Brooke for the distribution of tracts and portions of Scripture from house to house. The war with Spain appears to have opened a wide door for the Gospel in the capital of Cuba.
