GRAND HARBOUR SOCIETY.

Just a few lines from the Woman's Missionary Society at Grand Harbour. I hope to see the reports of other Societies appear more frequently in the Missionary department of the RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCER, as they are helpful and encouraging to us who read them. I enjoy very much reading the letters from our missionary worker, Rev. J. N. Barnes. Certainly "the goodness and mercy of God shall follow him all the days of his life;" hence "he shall dwell in the house of the Lord for ever." We greatly miss Rev. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McLeod, as for the past two years they have been very kind, willing, and faithful workers in our midst. They have done a great deal for our church and societies. May the blessing of God continue to follow them. We are now without a minister, but there remains with us a good interest in society and church work. Sometimes we feel that we are making but little progress in the work, and that at most we have done but little for the Master; but an encouraging thought comes to us that we may leave it all to our heavenly Father's care, knowing that our weakest efforts if blessed by Him, shall not be in vain. The bread cast upon the waters shall return though it be after many days. There is a good interest in our Society and in the Mission Band. We held an entertainment Feb. 16th. The success was good, both socially and financially. The programme was as follows: Opening chorus, Church Rally Song; address of welcome, by Maude Leighton; A little girl's Question, What can I do? by Sadie Dakin and Isabelle Cronk; recitation, A Shining Sixpence, by Alice Guptill; solo and chorus, What Shall the Harvest Be, by Florence Holmes and choir; exercise, The Reason Why, by nine girls; recitation, by Belle Foster; drill, Little Lightbearers, by ten children, each carrying a lighted candle, choir singing "Send the Light;" duett, A Song in my Heart, by Mary and Iva Dakin; tableau, Simply to Thy Cross I Cling; recitation, The Best we Have, by Edna Cheney; flower exercise, by five girls; solo and chorus, Only an Armour Bearer, by Cora Dakin and the choir; recitation, Harold's Missionary Money, by Fred. Wilson; solo, The Sheltering Rock, by Mrs. Howe; dialogue and tableau, Help for our Sisters; double duett, Where Hast Thou Gleaned Today, by four girls.

We need more love in our hearts, more of the spirit of Christ in our midst, then will we be enabled to do the work that has been allotted to us; then will we as church members be alive in the interest of each department of work. So, let us be more earnest in the work, and not grow weary in well doing, for "in due season we shall reap if we faint not. LYDIA K. BROWN.

BRIGHT BABIES.

Only those perfectly well are good Natured and happy.

When a baby is cross, peevish or sleepless, the mother may be certain that it is not well. There are little ailments coming from some derangement of the stomach or bowels which the mother's watchful eye may not detect, which nevertheless make themselves manifest in irritability or sleeplessness. A dose of Baby's Own Tablets given at such a time will speedily put the little one right and will give it healthy, natural sleep, and you have a positive guarantee that there is not a particle of opiate or harmful drug in the medicine. Thousands of mothers give their children no other medicine, and all mothers who have used the Tablets praise them. Mrs. A. McDonald, Merton, Ont., says: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best medi-
