STEAMBOAT EXPLOSION AND LOSS OF LIFE .-On Monday morning the Ben. Beveridge, a small high-pressure steamer, plying occasion-ally between Fredericton and Woodstock, exploded her boiler when about half a mile from figurar, Bronchitts, Asthma, Croup, Hoarse-ness, Hooping Cough, Tickling in the Throat, Pain in the Chest, Night Sweats, Incipient Consumption, and all other Dis eases of the Throat and Lungs. The great superiority of these Pastiles over all other medicines for lung complaints, either lozenges, waters, or those in a liquid form, con-sists in a great measure in their possessing, as a part of their compound, the medical virtues of several rare and uncommon Indian Roots and HERBS, which are not contained in any the former place. Two men were killed and several severely injured. Captain Dougan was among the latter. One of the firemen is missing, and the engineer, who was seen chortly after the accident has not since been heard of. Some were scalded, and one or two persons were thrown some distance from the scene of disaster. Fortunately the number of had it been otherwise the results would have been melancholy. The cause of the accident was, that the water was allowed to get too low in the boiler, which burst as soon as the working of the engine injected fresh water in to it. The boat was scattered into fragments. She was owned by Mesers. Connell and Chase, and we are informed that her boiler was equal to that of any boat on the river. Her ordi-mary rate of speed was 12 miles per hour.-We are glad to learn that the Government will immediately make a strict investigation formed that the parties connects with the boat r<sub>1</sub> with the number of the engineer. It is generally supposed that he is not among the living.-The time he was last seen was a minute or two previous to the ensualty. We hope that steamboat owners and commanders will de passengers on board at the time was small; had it been otherwise the results would have
