

HE WOULDN'T LIE.

Sam Jones, the evangelist, asks the following pertinent question: "Do you know that boys are more particular with they go with than girls? You may think it a strange statement, but it is so. A girl will go on the streets in open day with a boy that gets drunk, but the minute a boy finds out that a girl drinks he drops her. I wish our girls would be as particular with whom they go as the boys are."
