THE LATE WILLIAM KINGHORN.

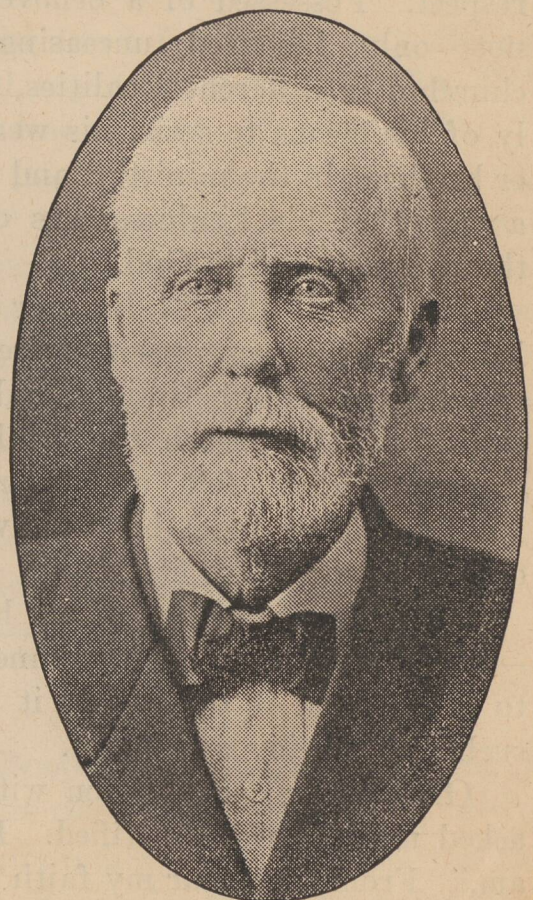

THE LATE REV. WILLIAM KINGHORN.

A sketch of his life, by the late Rev. G. W. MacDonald. Written for the "King's Highway" and published January 15th, 1895.

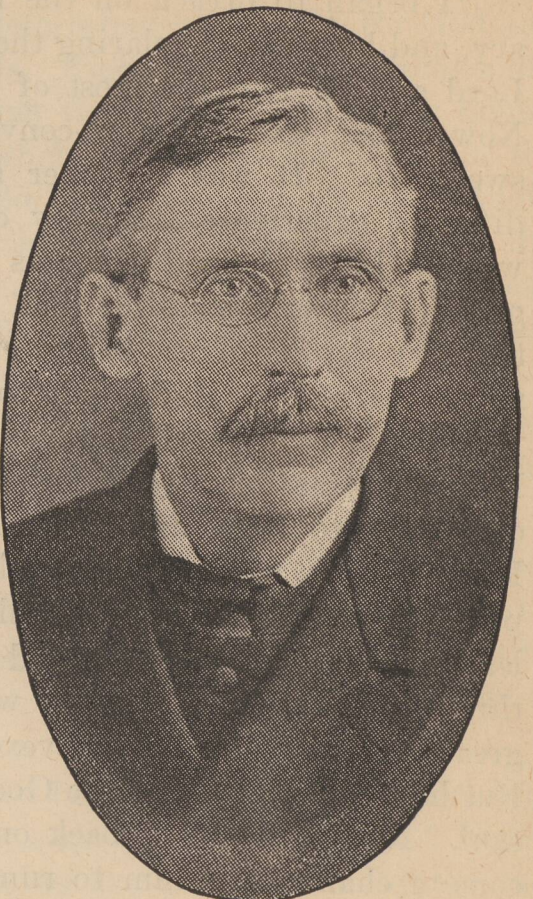

The late Wm. Kinghorn was born in England in 1823 and was in the best sense of the word an Englishman. His straightforward, honest manner, his quaint humorous expressions, his plain blunt manner in conversation, coupled with his rich native dialect plainly indicated his English extraction. His early home was in Cumberland County, England, where he was converted at the early age of twelve years.

He was baptized July 27, 1842, and was ordained as a preacher of the Gospel in January, 1848. Previous to his ordination he had been preaching five years as a licensed preacher, supporting himself and labouring unceasingly in the midst of multiplied difficulties and persecutions, as is stated in his letter of recommendation which he bore from his church, in which it is said he carried with him to America the prayers and good will of his brethren among whom he had lived and laboured.

On coming to New Brunswick he became a member of the Free Christian Baptist

REV. G. B. TRAFTON,
Pastor of the Reformed Baptist Church at St. John, N. B.

"Trust in the Lord and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed."—Psa. 37, 3.

How often those called to preach the glorious gospel, look about them and seeing threatening circumstances, cease to trust in the Lord, and begin by some means to provide for themselves, thus absorbing their time and talents, and to a certain extent if not altogether cease to do good, and spend their lives with a divided heart and mind, and make a decided failure as a gospel preacher, and as a business man. "Ye cannot serve God and Mammon."

THE LATE REV. G. T. HARTLEY.

THE LATE REV. GEORGE T. HARTLEY.

Brother Hartley was an ardent advocate of holiness. He did not engage in pastoral work, but held meetings as he had opportunity. We were unable to obtain a sketch of his life and work in time for this issue of the Highway, but will endeavor to give one later.

So many of us are like parrots, catching the opinion and ideas of others. God wants individual characters and individual messages and every one of us to be himself filled and taught of the Holy Ghost.—A. B. Simpson.
