NOTICE.

To the holiness people in general, and those in attendance at the Cincinnati meeting and familiar with its history, in particular,—

Greeting:—The holiness commission appointed at Cincinnati, in a late session deemed it wise to dissolve itself, which it did by unanimous vote. Since, therefore, there is no appointed head toward which the holiness people will now look for suggestion and arrangement relative to the systematic holiness rallies and conventions suggested at the Assembly, also the future Assembly; and since the National Association for the Promotion of Holiness conceived and carried out the commanding meeting at Chicago in 1913 from which the Cincinnati meeting evolved; and since the National Association is interdenominational in its membership and organization; the sub-executive committee of the National Association for the Promotion of Holiness wish to announce that, as in the past, they will continue their policy of holding holiness rallies and conventions, and will endeavor to keep their finger on the pulse of the situation, and will call another general assembly when the providences of God seem to indicate that the time is again ripe.

Charles J. Fowler, George A. McLaughlin, George J. Kunz, Sub-Executive Committee.

We regret to note the death of two of our subscribers who have taken the Highway for many years. Brother George Draper of Berton, formerly of Campbell Settlement, York County, N. B., and Sister M. J. McLeod, of Sussex, N. B. Sister McLeod passed away very suddenly. We received a letter from her a few days before her death.

"The liquor traffic is the highest tax being paid by the people today."—Gov. Vessey of South Dakota.

"I am a total abstainer from alcoholic liquors. I have always felt that I had a better use for my head."—Edison.

Ministers and Churches.

Rev. H. C. Mullen has adopted a good plan in accommodating his people by holding his prayer meetings in their homes. This is an excellent plan for winter in scattered districts.

Rev. Minot S. Blaisdell and family will some time this month move from Fort Fairfield to Hubbardston, Mass., where they will move onto a farm, doubtless to make their home there for the future. A great many Fort Fairfield friends will be sorry to see them move away. —Fort Fairfield Review.

Brother Blaisdell has his heart set on completing his education, and we understand that he is making this move to enable him to attend college. The Lord bless him in his determined effort.

Licenciate F. T. Wright has gone to Grand Manan.

Woodstock Sunday School is steadily increasing, and church services good.

Rev. P. J. Trafton and Brother F. T. Wright were present and took part in the monthly missionary meeting at Woodstock on the 11th inst.

Rev. T. W. Moses says:—We are having good meetings. Some have come out of darkness where they have wondered for ten years, to which they testify with tearful eyes. I am looking to God with much prayer. Our people are few but honest in heart, and I believe when they get the fullness of God they will make good soldiers of the Cross. I can truly say with Paul, "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto Salvation to everyone that believeth." We need your prayers on this field. Your brother kept by power divine.

Rev. A. J. Trafton preached on the 13th at Clearview. Brother Trafton may arrange a circuit in that part of Carleton County where he will preach regularly during the winter. Brother Trafton is the oldest Reformed Baptist minister now in active service.

Rev. H. H. Cosman is engaged in revival services a few miles from his home. About twenty have signified a desire for salvation.

Rev. C. S. Hilyard reports victory in the special services at Beals, Me. Brother F. W. Foster has been assisting him for two weeks. Quite a large number have been graciously blessed in these services. Brother Hilyard has a men's bible class which is rapidly increasing in membership.

Rev. L. T. and Mrs. Sabine expect to spend Christmas with friends at Millville and Maple Ridge, N. B.

The latest from Brother Hilyard says,—God is giving us a sweeping revival here. Bro. Foster is preaching some wonderful sermons, and they are taking hold of the people. Up to the present writing twenty-nine have prayed through to victory. Last night we tried to close the meeting three times but the people would not go, so we held another service.

Personals.

Rev. I. W. Hanson, of Haverhill, Mass., visited his brother at Woodstock, N. B., in November.

Brother S. Hayden and Sister Shaw of Hartland, after a visit with their nephew, Dr. W. R. Tracy, at Pittsfield, Mass., decided to return to their home, where they arrived on the 8th inst. All are glad to welcome them home again.

"It is much better to form a character than to reform one."

MARRIED

At the R. B. Parsonage at Woodstock on December 12th, 1914, Harold Worthley and Minnie Ross, both from Maine, were united in marriage by Rev. H. S. Dow.

As we go to press we have received the sad news of the accidental drowning of Kenneth Barr, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Barr of Lower Queensbury. He was on his way home from Hammondville, where he had gone to get some blacksmith work done, and in the darkness skated into an airhole.

The Fredericton Sunday School will hold their Christmas tree and treat for the children on the 16th as the students leave for their homes on the 17th.

Letters just received from Dr. and Mrs. Sanders, but too late for this issue. Dr. Sanders needs money for native workers. We hope those who wish to support native workers would send their names and money to Brother Archer, our missionary treasurer.

Deacon D. F. and Mrs. Knight are both confined to their home with colds.

UNCHARTED ROCKS.

Many a gallant vessel that leaves her port with the fairest prospects for a successful voyage, is never heard from again. During the past three years ships totaling 136,000 tons, and having on board more than a thousand lives, have disappeared without leaving a trace. An unknown hidden rock has inflicted serious injury to many a vessel as it was rushing onward. There were but a few moments of agonizing struggle, and then the bosom of the great deep was placid as before—another tragedy of the sea had been added to the many of the past. Efforts are now being made by the naval authorities of Great Britain and the United States, to locate all uncharted rocks, thus removing a prolific source of danger to navigation. Equal vigilance is required on the great voyage of life, lest our frail bark strike a hidden rock and be disastrously wrecked. Only as we, in full dependence upon the "Great Chart," make our way most carefully toward the haven of eternal rest, can we hope to escape the threatening dangers of life's tempestuous sea. Only the greatest vigilance will ensure the final triumphs and the blessed "Well Done" of the Father.—Selected.

Perservance is a great element of success. If you only knock long enough and loud enough at the gate you are sure to wake up somebody. —Longfellow.
