TO THE BRETHREN.

We would like to have a definite holiness sermon for the Highway from each of our ministers, having one for each issue during the fall and winter. It will do the brethren good to write, and we feel assured it will be very beneficial and interesting to our readers.

Will you comply with our wishes, brethren? If so please send a card to the editor stating the date we may depend on you for a sermon.

REV. DR. MCINTYRE.

Rev. Dr. W. E. McIntyre, one of the best known and most highly respected Baptist ministers, passed away on the 28th inst., at his home in St. John. Many of our readers will remember Dr. McIntyre as one of a committee of the Baptist association who visited the Reformed Baptist Alliance a few years ago.

"We pave the way for a happy future by living a blameless present."

Dear Highway,—

I thought I would drop you a line and let my friends know I am still in the good work and in full sympathy with your good work. The Lord is blessing our labors much. We still hold four meetings each week and three services on Sunday. At our last communion service forty-eight sat at their Lord's table. It was a blessed season. Last Sunday we had the pleasure of burying three happy souls in baptism—two men and a woman. We received them into the church in the evening. We have given the hand of fellowship in this church, since coming here, to fifty-six persons. The whole place seems ripe for a glorious ingathering. We are trusting the Lord to bring it about. I am much interested in the movement to buy Balmoral Farm. I trust the dear Lord will put it into the hearts of the people to respond. Surely those missions are worthy of the support they get in the great work they are doing.

Yours for Jesus and precious souls,
H. H. COSMAN.

Dear Highway,—

The church at Port Maitland realized more fully the demands of the war on Sunday evening, the 19th inst., when Brother Charles F. Adams came to the service wearing the khaki uniform.

The pastor's sermon from 1 Tim., 6-12—"Fight the good fight of faith," and the hymns sung were suitable to the occasion.

Many prayed as never before for the boys at the front who are so nobly sacrificing all for their King and country.

On Wednesday evening, the 22nd, the members of the church gathered at Brother and Sister Adams' home after the prayer meeting, and gave Brother Adams a surprise. After a few selections of instrumental music, the pastor on behalf of the church presented him with a substantially bound pocket Bible, to which Bro. Adams feelingly replied, saying in substance that the steps were not hastily taken, but after much thought and prayer. Brother Adams' father was a native of Belgium, and up to the outbreak of the war he was in correspondence with his relatives in that country, but has not heard from them since. The Port Maitland church will not cease to pray for our Brother's safe return and the speedy end of this great struggle.

Ministers and Churches.

Rev. C. S. Hilyard writes: Diphtheria has broken out again at Beals, Me., and that his little daughter Etta had the misfortune of breaking her arm. Trials are coming thick and fast, but God is sufficient.

Rev. W. B. and Mrs. Wiggins returned to Moncton on the 25th inst. Brother Wiggins was in St. John on the 29th mailing "The Minutes of the Alliance." Pastors and others receiving them will please distribute them among those who paid into the Alliance Fund.

Rev. W. B. and Mrs. Wiggins spent last week with relatives at Penniac, N. B. The editor and wife enjoyed a pleasant call from them.

Rev. H. H. Cosman continues to enjoy a good revival interest on his circuit in Aroostook Co., Me.

A CHRISTMAS BOX.

Some of our churches are talking of sending a general Christmas box to our missionaries; others are suggesting that each society should send a small box by "parcel post," composed of articles of clothing for the family. Freight at the present time is very high, and we believe that heavy goods can be bought in Africa cheaper than it will cost to buy here when you add duty and freight. Things sent should be started soon to reach them by Christmas.

"YE CANNOT SERVE GOD AND MAMMON."

This declaration of our Lord still holds good. Many great and brilliant men have tried to disprove it only to go down to defeat and shame.

The case of Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, the successor of Henry Ward Beecher, one of the most famous writers and preachers of America, now being published by the daily papers, should be a warning to all preachers who are dabbling in business schemes.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Mrs. Whitman Williamson$5.00
S. A. BAKER, Treas.

We are glad to note the ready response to our appeal for money to purchase the missionary farm by some of the people. The whole amount could be quickly raised if all would respond at once.

We do not want the Balmoral Farm Fund to lessen the usual missionary contributions. These we must have to carry on the work. Let the Balmoral Farm Fund be a free will offering of itself.

The man who complains of so much being raised for missions, has no part nor lot in the missionary work, for he never gives for this purpose, and very rarely for any other.

The Balmoral Farm Fund is a necessity to save our mission, and make the missionary work permanent.

All intemperance is nothing but evil. There is certain to be a runaway and a wreck whenever a person loosens the reins on appetite."
