MISSIONARY SOCIETIES.

Less than two months remains before the meeting of the Alliance, and our missionary societies will please collect the missionary funds and have all in readiness for the meeting of the general society.

S. A. BAKER, President.

A righteousness imputed, and not possessed and practiced, will not avail where God judgeth according to every man's work. It would be well that those sinners and spurious believers, who fancy themselves safe and complete in the righteousness of Christ, while impure and unholy in themselves, would think of this testimony of the apostle.—Dr. Adam Clark.

Mrs. Woodworth Cann 2.00

Notice.—Please remember that all money for this fund should be sent direct to the treasurer, Rev. H. C. Archer, Fort Fairfield, Me., and thus save further expense in the matter.

I do not believe that we are going to be able to maintain our faith without the baptism of the Holy Spirit. The tide is running so high and the stream of worldliness is so cold, and the current is so swift that those who are not weighed down with this blessed experience will be swept away.

The same men who were denying the baptism of the Holy Spirit are today denying the preaching of regeneration, and those who have denied that, are denying the deity of Jesus.—Rev. H. C. Morrison.
