The church was well filled Saturday night when Rev. J. H. Coy preached an excellent sermon from Heb. 4-3. There was a testimony service at the close.

Sunday was a fine day and the morning service opened as a social meeting at 9.30 led by Sister Keirstead. There was a good tide on and the church well filled when Brother P. J. Trafton preached on the baptism with the Holy Ghost; a number rose at the close, asking prayers that they might receive him. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock Rev. E. W. Lester gave a good sermon from John 17-6, Christ revealing himself to us that we might reveal God to the world. A number were at the altar as seekers. In the evening Brother Trafton spoke on the coming of Christ and the preparation necessary. Several were at the altar as seekers and found what they were seeking. The meeting continued as a praise service till 11.40. Our Baptist brethren were kind in giving us the use of their church for the day which was filled to overflowing all day. Mighty conviction was on the people. Many were definitely helped. It was a grand meeting throughout. To God be all the glory.

P. J. TRAFTON, Secy.

THE STORY OF THE FACE.

An infidel Swiss artist was converted merely by studying the faces of a very humble band of Christians. He was commissioned to make a caricature of a Salvation Army meeting in Sheffield, England. "He went there on that errand and scanned the faces of the people; he—with his heart like the troubled sea that could find no rest, tossed and driven by tempests of passion and tormented by a conscience burdened by sin—looked on the assembled worshipers and saw peace written on their faces and an inward joy beaming from their countenances. The sight convinced him of his sinfulness. He saw those people had what he had not, and what he needed; and their faces were the means of leading him to Christ and the peace which Christ alone can give."

The face of the Christian may not shine as that of Moses did when he came from Sinai; but Christ's seal is set upon it, and in proportion as he lives Christ it reflects the purity and love and peace of the Lord and is a help and inspiration to weaker souls.—Lutheran Observer.

Sad Drowning Accident—Rosevelt Fraser.

A very sad drowning accident occurred at Seal Cove, Grand Manan, on the afternoon of Aug. 7th, when Rosevelt, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fraser, was accidentally drowned while fishing. He was sixteen years of age and a quiet, promising young man, well thought of by all who knew him. He was a regular attendant at church and Sabbath school and the deep sympathy of the church as well as the entire community goes out to the grief-stricken family. Besides the sorrowing parents he leaves to mourn their loss a brother, Kenneth, of Acadia College, Wolfville, and two sisters, Mrs. Fletcher Harvey and Miss Agnes Fraser.

The Camp Meeting at Admiral Park, Aroostook Falls, was a success, being fairly well attended during the week and on Sunday having a big crowd. Rev. C. S. Hilyard, of the Reformed Baptist Church, preached several sermons besides having charge fo some of the meetings. Rev. T. F. Jones, of the Methodist Church, also preached some, while Fred W.
