RIVERSIDE CAMP MEETING.

This Camp Meeting is a point of interest to our people scattered abroad over this continent who for years past attended and helped to establish this grand, and to many hundreds, sacred place. As a very large number have found Christ as their great Saviour, and the Holy Spirit as their Sanctifier at this place during the past twenty years. As we write we think of Brother E. M. Smith and Brother and Sister J. H. Seeley, now of California, who were specially active workers here for a number of years, and others who attended services here, and drank from the streams of spiritual blessing, and felt the stirrings of holy love which flowed from heart to heart. Also the evangelists who brought messages to the thousands of people who came year after year, are still interested to know about Riverside, and its welfare. Hence we feel it is worth while, and our pleasant duty to give them an outline of the meeting of 1919.

The Ground has changed considerably this year as the woods have all been cleared away from around it, and all the trees now standing are within the limits of the Camp Ground. This lets in more sunlight, also the heavy winds, one of which recently swept over this section of country, doing considerable damage, carrying down a few trees, but did no damage to the camp ground buildings.

The first Sunday was showery, and early looked as though the attendance would be small, but the people kept coming until the big tabernacle was packed to capacity, and a good number to spare, and fully 2,500 people were on the ground, and there was never better attention given to the word preached than by this fine company of people. "The love feast" at 9 a. m. was led by J. C. Downing, of Island Falls, Me., and was a feast to all present. Rev. H. Smith Dow preached an excellent sermon at 10.30 a. m. and Evangelist David Anderson preached a telling sermon on Sanctification at 2.30 p. m. that was listened to with the deepest attention by a packed tabernacle, both sitting and standing. Evangelist Anderson preached again at 7.30 p. m. a searching and profitable sermon. There were a considerable number at the altar in all the services.

Rev. H. C. Mullen had charge of the services and was much appreciated by all. Brother J. F. Bullock was the organist, and fully sustained his place, won by his ability and faithfulness, by his many years of service at Beulah and Riverside Camp Meetings.

Rev. P. J. Trafton was the leader in the singing, assisted by Rev. E. W. Lester.

The Grounds Committee composed of Rev. I. F. Keirstead, T. W. Whitten, F. T. Kimball, and L. S. Kinney, done their work well. Much credit is due Brother Keirstead in preparing the grounds and gathering the hay.

The hotel committee, composed of Rev. H. C. Archer, Rev. E. W. Lester, Rev. L. J. Alley and Brother John Mantor, managed their department very commendably and made it a success despite the many difficulties that is encountered in procuring the supplies.

The following ministers and their wives were present: Rev. J. H. and Mrs. Coy, Rev. W. B. and Mrs. Wiggins, Rev. S. A. and Mrs. Baker, Rev. P. J. and Mrs. Trafton, Rev. H. C. and Mrs. Archer, Rev. F. T. and Mrs. Wright, Rev. L. J. and Mrs. Alley, Rev. H. S. and Mrs. Dow and Revs. C. S. Hilyard, E. W. Lester, I. F. Keirstead, H. C. Mullen, Rev. B. Colpitts and Miss M. Ella Slipp.

Several ministers of other denominations were present at some of the meetings. Among them were Rev. H. H. Cosman and wife, Rev. A. Kinney, Rev. J. W. Williams, Rev. Frank Sabine, Rev. I. F. Cheney, Evangelist F. W. Foster, Rev. Stephen Kinney, Rev. Harold Bickford, Rev. M. H. Turner and Rev. Mr. Foster. Rev. H. E. Thomas, Rev. Mr. Howard and Evangelist Guy made short calls as they passed to other points.

It would be quite impossible to give a list of the many hundreds of people who attended the meetings, but we will give a few names from among the many.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

The monthly missionary meeting of the Reformed Baptist Church at Grey's Mills, N. B., was held on the evening of the 5th inst.

Pastor G. B. Trafton presided and the following program was rendered:

Singing, Prayer and Scripture reading. Instrumental selection by Miss Zella Rodgers.

Reading—Miss Ella McCarthy.

Reading—Miss Alice Donnelly.

Duet—Misses Lena and Grace Williams.

Reading—Miss Scott.

Recitation—Master John Rodgers.

Reading—Miss Ethel Bradley.

Reading—Miss Daisy Williams.

Reading—Miss Lucy Bradley.

Short addresses were given by Mrs. Secord, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Mann, Mr. Patterson and the president, S. H. Bradley.

One of the pleasant features of the meeting was the presence of Mrs. Secord, through whose efforts the society was organized, and who was present at its organization March 9, 1909. She has resided in Toronto for some years. She expressed her great pleasure to be at the meeting of the society again, and was much encouraged by its growth and progress, and urged all to do their best to give the blessed news of full salvation to those in foreign lands.

An offering was taken for missions.

After singing, the meeting was closed by prayer by the pastor.

L. A. BRADLEY, Secretary.
