

CORRESPONDENCE.

Dear Highway:

I am impressed today to send in my testimony for your columns to let my friends and brothers and sisters in Christ know that I am still on the upward way and new heights. I'm gaining every day and praying. As I'm onward bound Lord plant my feet on higher ground. While I am up in the woods away from church services I am conscious of the abiding presence of the Holy Spirit. I never felt more like being true to my blessed Saviour and going through with Him. These are days of blessed faith and trust in the all-sufficient Saviour having this abiding presence and joy in my soul amid my many testings and trials. The half has never been told of love so full and free and the Blood it cleanses me.

Yours saved and kept by the power of God,

MRS. HERBERT JONES.

Millville, N. B., January, 1919.

Dear Highway:

We have much to praise the Lord for these days. Many of our people are recovering from the influenza, who have been seriously ill. We have not had our church closed again as some of the brethren have, and are doing the best we can to extend Christ's kingdom.

We had a public missionary meeting the last Sunday of December, and in response to my appeal, through the Highway some time ago we had a special offering of $40.00 for Missions.

Then the U. B. Minister's wife and myself got up a Christmas concert which was held in the church. All seemed to enjoy it. A good offering was taken for missions also.

Friday night after Christmas about fifty of our friends (including children) came to the parsonage. After spending a pleasant evening the ladies served a lunch, and then Deacon Sharp in behalf of those present and others unable to come, presented us with $50.00. We appreciate these friends coming into our home, and are very grateful for their great kindness in providing for our needs at this time. May the Lord bless them one and all.

We wish all the readers of the Highway a happy and victorious new year. Let us all be much in prayer that our work may extend in the home land as well as in the foreign field, that many who are now unsaved may be brought into the fold, and the weak ones made strong, and especially would we ask fervent prayer for our preachers and missionaries that we may have greater wisdom, and be more efficient workers and have greater victory in our home work.

In Him,

I. M. K.

"Some people have their guns so trained on holiness people as to have little time or disposition to fire into the camp of the enemy of souls."

"God's commandments do for us what rails do for a train; they may keep us from going where we please. but they assure our safety."

THE BELIEVER'S CONFIDENCE.

Rev. D. H. Kenney.

Upon the Rock of Ages

I'm standing firm and sure;
And while the tempest rages
I'll ever stand secure:
What tho' the rain descendeth,
And chilling winds may blow,
While God—my child—defendeth
No harm my soul can know.

I'm trusting in my Saviour

My brother and my friend;
The riches of His favor
Will be mine 'til the end.
In storms of tribulation,
My heart shall feel no fear.
For He my strong salvation,
Is always, ever near.

In Him my soul confideth

I trust Him for his grace;
For He my spirit hideth
In His most holy place.
There no foes e'er can harm me
Washed in the cleansing blood
No terrors can alarm me,
I'm hid with Christ in God.

I place on Him reliance

My Master and my King;
When hell bids me defiance
His arm will succor bring:
And as my steps shall lengthen
Towards my heavenly place,
He will my spirit strengthen,
From boundless stores of grace.

THE CALL OF THE NEW YEAR.

Mrs. D. C. Eby.

Before us in mystery, all untrod,
Lies a beautiful year, just sent from God.
Its pages are each so pure and bright,
And seem to be pleading—"Oh, keep me white."

Opportunity there on the threshold stands,
Inviting us on with beckoning hands,
Giving us glimpses of work to be done,
In the great harvest fields—souls to be won.

Calling us onward to more faith and prayer,

To ventures all new; to do and to dare:
Knowing that precious days long will not last,

And that this new year soon will be past.

Calling for workers for some heathen land,

And for others to toil in the fields close at hand.

But whether we labor at home or abroad,
It's all in the great harvest field of our God.

Opportunity's voice will come new and clear,

Calling each morning throughout the new year.

God grant us the courage to meet every test,

And do all we can to make this year the best.

KANSAS NEVER QUILTS.

Although the great prussianized nicotine trust has resorted to all the criminal and underhand methods long practised by the old alcohol trust in an effort to defeat the prohibition laws of the States, Kansas never quits. Her people have never been known to give up a fight. Our people are wide-awake to the fact that nicotine, chiefly in the form of the cigarette, is the greatest despoiler of our growing boys. They know also that through the use of their dirty little cigarettes, it has been made possible for them at this time, to take a toll of $25,000,000 or more annually from the pockets of the people.

Recently, while we were bending every nerve of energy toward the winning of the war, the big trust kept up its brutish underground campaign to enslave our boys. Now the war is over and we are going to put the Duke of Nicotine with the Kaiser where he belongs.

The following have pledged their support of our fight on the cigarette in Kansas:

1. The State Federation of Clubs.
2. The State Teachers' Association.
3. The State Editorial Association.
4. The State Woman's Christian Temperance Union.
5. The State University.
6. The State Agricultural College.
7. The State Normal at Emporia.
8. The State Normal at Hays.
9. The State Normal at Pittsburg.
10. The State Superintendent's Office.
12. The State Attorney General's Office.
12. The State Organization of County Superintendents of Cities of First and Second Class.
13. The State Organization of Superintendents of Cities of the Third Class.
14. The State Organization of County Superintendents.
15. The State Industrial Welfare Commission.
16. The State Congress of Mothers.
17. The State Reformatory at Hutchinson.
18. The State Industrial School for Boys.
19. The State Sunday School Association.
20. The State Medical Association.
21. The State Young Men's Christian Association.
23. The State Organization of School Board Members.
24. The State Commercial Travelers' Association.
25. The State Library Association.
26. The State Societies of the Young People of the Churches.—Dr. Wm. A. McKeever in the No-Tobacco Journal

"With God on our side a spider's web is like a wall of adamant, but with God against us, a wall of adamant is not better than a spider's web."

It's good to have money and the things that money can buy; but it's good, too, to check up once in a while, and make sure that you haven't lost the things that money won't buy.—Dr. Lorimer.