

MINISTERS AND CHURCHES.

Rev. H. Smith Dow has received a call to the Fort Fairfield church.

Evangelist F. W. Foster preached at Fort Fairfield on Sunday, the 15th inst. As will be seen in the report of the dedication, Fort Fairfield was well represented at that meeting.

Rev. J. H. Coy was taken ill while visiting at Bridgewater, Maine, but we are glad to report that he has quite recovered and we hope to see him at his accustomed place at the Alliance.

The little church at Jonesport, Maine, has contributed $46.00 to the missionary work this year, and Lutz Mountain Sunday School, that has been without pastoral help this year, $45.00.

PERSONALS.

Sister Louisa B. Everett, our oldest member of the Reformed Baptist denomination, was 93 years of age on the 14th inst. She still retains her interest in the salvation of precious souls.

Sister Mrs. R. K. Jones is to visit her old home at Woodstock this summer.

Hastings Golding, son of Brother and Sister John Golding, of Peel, N. B., has returned from overseas.

Port Maitland, N. S., will be represented at Beulah Camp Meeting by Brother Warren Sollows and wife. Brother Fred Sollows, Sister Sollows and children.

Sister Silas Burt says: Jesus is very precious to me today. I had the privilege of attending the quarterly meeting at Meductic over Sunday and my soul was blessed.

Sister Mary Doane says: Please find enclosed my renewal for the Highway. I cannot afford to do without it, I love to read its clean pages, it helps me so much. I am glad that Jesus still abides with me. He is my best friend.

MARRIED.

Fullerton-Reid.

At the residence of the bride's uncle, Long Reach, Kings Co., June 11th, by Rev. G. B. Trafton, Frank S. Fullerton and Mrs. Maud Mary Reid. They will reside at Long Reach.

This issue of the Highway closes its thirtieth volume or year.

The world is in a state of unrest, but it is not needful nor right that we as Christians should be. Rest in the "Lord, and wait patiently for him." "His rest shall be glorious." "For he that is entered into His rest, he also hath ceased his own works, as God did from his." There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

We should see to it that we keep the unity of the Spirit in the bonds of peace, "That they may be one, even as we are."

"In the world ye shall have tribulation." Don't blame your brethren for all your trials. A magnifying mind is responsible for many of our troubles.

We appreciate very much the notice given of Beulah Camp Meeting by the Fort Fairfield Review in their bulletin of coming events.—Thanks!

"A man once said to Sam Jones, 'Jones, the church is putting my assessment too high.' Jones asked, 'How much did you pay?'"

'Five dollars a year.'

'Well,' said Jones, 'how long have you been converted?'"

'About four years.'

'What did you do before conversion?'"

'I was a drunkard.'

'How much did you spend for drink?'"

'About $250 a year.'

'How much were you worth?'"

'I rented land and plowed a steer.'

'What have you got now?'"

'I have a good plantation and a pair of horses.'

'Well,' said Sam Jones, 'you paid the devil $250 a year for the privilege of plowing a steer on rented land, and now you don't want to give to the Lord, who saved you, five dollars a year for the privilege of plowing horses on your own plantation! You are a rascal from the crown of your head to the soles of your feet!'"

ECLIPSE OF THE SOUL.

The moon, in an eclipse, complained to the sun: "Why, O my dearest friend, dost thou not shine upon me as usual?"

"Do I not?" said the sun; "I am sure I am shining as I always do. Why do you not enjoy my light as usual?"

"Oh, I see," said the moon, "the earth has got between us."

"Why, O my Saviour," says the back-slidden Christian, "do I not as in former days, walk in the light of thy countenance?"

I am sure, troubled soul, I have not changed. The rays of my love are warm and bright as ever. What can prevent them reaching thee?"

Canst thou not see, O troubled Christian, that the earth has got between thee and Christ?—Selected.

CLOUDLESS LIVES.

Mrs. D. C. Eby.

"I do not know," she said to me, "Why these dark clouds hang over me, While others pass along the way With cloudless lives from day to day."

"I've heard," said I, "the Arabs say, That where they live in cloudless day All sunshine makes a desert drear, Where nothing grows from year to year."

"'Tis clouds that make the earth so green, Ere fruits of harvest can be seen; And Nature uses clouds, you know, On which to paint the sunset glow."

"And these dark clouds that grieve you so Will make a background that will show, How God can paint in colors bright Those virtues precious in His sight."

Paul's life was full of heavy clouds; Of prison bars and jeering crowds; And Christ, whose name we so adore, The title—"Man of Sorrows" bore.

"Creed without deed is useless. Emotion without motion is null and void. To hold a service and not do a service is folly. The Word must become flesh. Doctrines must be incarnated. The tree must be vindicated by its fruit."

THE UNANSWERABLE ARGUMENT.

There is one unanswerable argument for holiness. That argument is holiness itself. There was a good deal of wisdom in the remark of someone who said, "I do not believe in holiness, but I believe Sister S. has it." The beauty of holiness beaming from the countenance has convinced men of its reality where both argument and Scripture were in vain. Holiness as an experience surpasses the utterances of men and angels. It is greater than greatest faith. It convinces the doubter, disarms the critic and confounds the reasoner. We believe in the profession of holiness, when it is possessed and would encourage it all we can, but we believe even more in its possession. The church and the holiness movement need more holiness.—Christian Witness.
