

PERSONALS.

Helen, the young daughter of Rev. E. W. and Mrs. Lester, who underwent a serious operation at the Victoria Hospital, Fredericton, is recovering.

Miss Luella Brown, who was seriously injured by ice falling from a building in Fredericton, was reported slightly improved on the 25th inst, but she had not recovered her sight. She was unconscious for several days, and completely lost her eyesight.

Brother G. H. Colwell, of Vancouver, B. C., says: "We look for the Highway as a true friend, and are always glad to read it, and hear from the holiness people. I often think of the meetings at Beulah, and would like to be at some of them again. I am looking forward to meeting the holiness people on the other shore. It is blessed to have this hope. Praise God, he saves, keeps and sanctifies. I am glad I am under the blood."

Sister Mary McAllister is seriously ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. D. Patton, Sussex, N. B.

Mrs. J. M. Harris, who is so well known throughout the country through her inspiring singing at Camps and special meetings, has passed on to her eternal home.

Mrs. Harris attended a meeting held at Caribou, Me., a few years ago. She composed some of the holiness hymns we use in our services.

Monday evening twenty-two invited guests were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kimball in honor of Mr. Kimball's 60th birthday. A fine turkey supper was partaken of and a pleasant evening spent. Rev. C. S. Hilyard, pastor of the Reformed Baptist Church, in a few well chosen words, presented to Mr. Kimball in behalf of those present a nice Bible.—Fort Fairfield Review.

We received a letter from Brother D. F. Knight, who arrived safely at Liverpool on January 9th, and at the home of his niece in Birmingham, the same night. Brother Knight reports a very pleasant passage over, and that he was always at his place at meal time. The people here will be very glad to hear from Brother Knight frequently.

Thanks to Rev. L. T. Sabine and Brother Robson Gibbs for new subscribers for the Highway.

QUARTERLY MEETING.

The quarterly meeting of District No. 1 will be held with the Church at Fort Fairfield, Me., beginning Thursday night, March 13th. Churches please send written reports as well as delegates.

P. J. TRAFTON,
Secretary.

MARRIED.

Mason-Hayes.

At the Reformed Baptist parsonage, St. John, N. B., Feby. 3rd, by Rev W. W. Howe, Ates Garfield Mason, of Apohaqui, N. B., and Iris M. Hayes, of Millstream, Kings Co., N. B. Mr. and Mrs. Mason will reside at Apohaqui.

MINISTERS AND CHURCHES.

Sister M. Ella Slipp, of Jonesport, says: The tide is rising in our services, and the interest is increasing. This is in answer to prayer, and encourages us to pray even more earnestly.

Rev. H. C. Mullen reports that the North Head Church is in the best spiritual condition in the three years of his pastorate, having received a great lift in the recent special services held there. There was one genuine conversion, a considerable number reclaimed, and some professed to be sanctified wholly. The services were held three weeks. Brother H. S. Mullen was wonderfully helped in preaching the Word, and everybody was deeply stirred. The services were well attended and the money for the expenses was very easily raised. Brother Mullen baptized one convert on the 16th inst. and received her into the church.

Rev. C. S. Hilyard says: God is blessing us abundantly, some conversions Sunday night (16th). Preached to a full house, saints got happy, had a great prayer meeting on the 18th, 54 out. Held meetings at Grimes, and three got through to victory.

Brother Hilyard resigned as pastor of the Fort Fairfield Church, but the people are urging him to remain.

One of our older brethren, while preaching on one occasion during the past year, became exceedingly happy during his sermon, and jumped about with such youthful vigor that his false teeth flew out, and naturally the congregation were convulsed with laughter, and the brother undergoing another wave of great joy, jumped high, as only an old man can, and declared he would preach holiness if he flew all to pieces.

The new churches at Meductic and Jonesport, Maine, will be dedicated in the early summer.

The Moncton Church will be ready for dedication in about four weeks.

The Middle Southampton Church is also undergoing quite extensive repairs, and will also be re-dedicated.

These dedication services will be made special gatherings with special sermons and the gathering of zealous workers, and generous givers.

The Moncton Church is the most extensive, and most expensive of these churches, but nothing more than was needed for a growing city like Moncton, which has now a population of 16,000, and rapidly increasing. While not so large as the Woodstock Church, it will be equally as convenient, and good in appearance.

It looks as though there might be some changes among our pastors this coming summer. Several of the brethren have already resigned, to give their churches a chance to arrange for pastors to succeed them, if a change is desired. This is a matter which should receive prompt attention so as not to disturb the work of the churches.

A special meeting of the Alliance Executive was held at Woodstock on the evening of the 18th.

Rev. P. J. Trafton led the prayer and testimony meeting at Woodstock on the evening of the 18th inst. Revs. H C Archer, H S. Dow and S. A. Baker were present at part of the service. A good meeting was enjoyed. Pastor W. B. Wiggins was detained at home with a badly sprained ankle.

Rev. S. H. Clark is preaching a series of sermons on "The sermon on the Mount" to good congregations Sunday evenings, at Calais, Maine.

Brother Clark is not in very good health.

Rev. F. T. Wright is preaching at Roy-alton every Sunday.

Rev. P J Trafton has resigned the pastorate of Hartland circuit, which he has most energetically and very successfully served for a number of years. We doubt if the people let him go without strong effort to induce him to remain. Brother Trafton has set a pace on that circuit that will be hard to keep up.

Rev. W. W. Howe visited Sister Mary McAllister at Sussex last week, and found her very sick, but happy in the Lord, and asks the prayers of the brethren and sisters for her recovery if in the divine will.

Rev. H. S. Dow visited Moncton on the 25th inst., returning to Fredericton the same evening. While here he bought the pews and pulpit chairs from the trustees of the Lewisville Presbyterian Church. They will be sent to Meductic to be used in the new Reformed Baptist Church there. Help Brother Dow by paying for a pew, or a seat in one of them. Send it to him, addressed to Meductic, N. B. How much? Well, $5.00!—if you can't do that, send him a dollar.

Rev. H. S. and Sister Mullen are to hold their next meeting at Seal Cove, Grand Manan. They expected to close at Wood Island on the 23rd.

The work is going well at Meductic, and the Sunday is growing.

The Woodstock Church is to begin special services on March 2nd. Brother F. W. Foster assisting Brother Wiggins.

Rev. P J. Trafton has had several calls to assist in revival services.

Rev. S. H. Clark wanted to hold a series of special services at Calais, Maine, but was unable to get help just for the present

NOTICE.

Some time ago I had my article, entitled "The Sin of Immodest Dress," which was given such general reception by the religious press throughout the country, printed in leaflet form for distribution. I have quite a supply of these on hand. Anyone wishing some may have them for the asking, by simply addressing Rev. H. C. Mullen, North Head, Grand Manan, N. B.

QUARTERLY MEETINGS.

The 2nd district quarterly meeting comprising the churches of St. John, Moncton, Westchester, N. S., Norton and Grey's Mills and Mercer, and Millstream and Salem, Lutes Mountain, will meet with the church at St. John on Friday, March 7th, and continuing over Sunday. The time for preparation for this meeting is very short, so the churches will need to appoint their delegates and prepare their church reports at once.

"The greatest good meets with the greatest opposition."
