THE HIGHWAY.

Don't forget, brethren and sisters, that we will have to take a real live interest in the Highway this year; the expense for printing it is much heavier than ever before and all will need be prompt in sending in their renewals at the increased price to meet the present cost we will need an average of two renewals, or two new subscriptions every day, Sunday included.

For years we have managed to keep a small surplus to our credit. Now we don't want it to drop. So let us speed up in sending in our new subscriptions and renewals. We don't want to devote any space to urge our subscribers to pay. This would be unbecoming to our profession of scriptural salvation. So let us "Adorn our profession" and keep our little continental preacher, "The King's Highway," with a good bank account to its credit. Our experience with the hundreds of our readers assures us that we will receive an overflowing response. So we thank you.

RIVERSIDE CAMP MEETING.

The Riverside Camp Meeting for 1920 was a grand success from start to finish. The weather continued beautiful throughout the whole meeting. There were no continued wet days to hinder. The days were warm but no extreme heat. The services were good. Evangelist Joseph Owen sustained his merited reputation as an excellent preacher, which was always effectual and almost every meeting closed with seekers at the altar, and the altar services continued sometimes until midnight. Besides our own ministers and Evangelist Owen, Rev. W. E. Smith and Rev. H. H. Lee and Evangelist F. W. Foster preached, the latter at a mass meeting on the square. Brother and Sister Mullen drew the closets attention to their messages in songs, not only of those seated in the Tabernacle, but many hundreds stood in the doors and about the big auditorium.

Sister S. H. Clark did excellent service as organist.

The Hotel department and rooms was well managed by Revs. H. C. Archer, L. J. Alley and the brethren and sisters who helped, and the young ladies who so efficiently waited on the tables. Between services some of the brethren and sisters supplied their tables with fine raspberries, which grew in abundance in and about the camp ground, and beautiful bouquets of cultivated and wild flowers and ferns added to the attraction of the tables of the dining room, and quite covered the pulpit in the Tabernacle. Including the two Sundays well nigh 10,000 people were in attendance at Riverside Camp Meeting, and it would be difficult to gather a more representative, respectful and more attentive company of people of the same number than those who attended this season. There never was so many children on the grounds as there was this year. This was just as it should be—the whole families came. It was a beautiful sight at the dinner hour to see groups everywhere among the trees, with their white cloths spread, and the families gathered about them happily, and yet quietly, partaking of their noon day meal. While many more prefer to go to the dining room.

Another phase of the camp meeting is the financial side. We wish to say that we never attended two camp meetings when it required so little effort to raise the money to pay the expenses of the meetings, as our two camp meetings this season. It required about five hundred dollars each to pay the incidental expenses. This amount was freely contributed by the people besides a public missionary offering, and many private gifts for different purposes. One young lady voluntarily took upon herself the support of a native worker in South Africa. After twenty-seven years at Beulah and seventeen years experience at Riverside we have proven that camp meetings conducted as the Reformed Baptists conduct them, are a growing success, and has really become the people's meeting. Unmistakably approved of God, as he continues to save and sanctify the people who seek him with their whole hearts in these great gatherings.

A STARTLING THOUGHT.

Albert Barnes, the commentator, says in expounding the Seventh Chapter of Second Corinthians, "If any man is conscious that the idea of being made at once perfectly holy would be unpleasant and painful, he may set it down as certain evidence that he is a stranger to religion."

There was some matter too late for the last issue. Among it the notice of the quarterly meeting of the first district, which is now in session at Fredericton.

MARRIED.

Dunham-Grant.

A very pretty wedding took place at the Reformed Baptist Church at Middle Southampton on Wednesday, Aug. 11th, when Edna L., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Grant, was united in marriage to Frank G. Dunham, of Pinder, N. B. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. C. Archer. Immediately after the ceremony a luncheon was enjoyed by the guests. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion. The many presents received revealed the esteem in which the young couple were held by their many friends. They left by auto for a trip to Grand Falls. On their return they will reside at Pinder.

THE STUDENTS' FUND.

The Alliance Executive will compose the committee to receive and disburse the Students' Fund. Rev. W. B. Wiggins, B. A., Elm street, Woodstock, has been appointed treasurer of the fund, and money for the Students Fund can be sent to him, and all correspondence relating to students can be addressed to him. There are seven of our young men now ready to fit themselves for the ministry. This fund is an urgent and immediate need.

S. A. BAKER.

TWO SAD INCIDENTS.

The first Sunday of the Riverside Camp Meeting a young man brought his mother from Houlton to attend the camp meeting, intending to come after her the following Sunday. While engaged at his work he was accidentally killed. The mother was attending a service when she received the heart breaking message.

The second Sunday of the camp meeting Brother W. H. Wright and his son, Percy, attended the services. On their way home in the evening Percy became ill, and it proved to be cerebro-spinal meningitis. Despite the skill of several leading physicians, who were called, his death occurred on the 17th inst. These bereaved ones have the sincere sympathy of all in their sudden and deep sorrow.

PLEASE NOTE THIS.

This year will be a financial test with the Highway. The success depends on the promptness of our readers sending their renewals, and new subscribers. To avoid constant reminding let every one who is paid to 1920 or further back renew immediately. Duns and reminders should never be needed in a paper devoted to teaching scriptural holiness.

The Highway readers everywhere are paying the increased price even joyfully. No complaints, many saying, we love it, must have it.

The Highway never received so many expressions of commendation at the Riverside Camp Meeting as this year, especially from people who are not members of the Reformed Baptist Churches.
