ENEMIES.

1. We are commanded to love them.—(Luke 6:27, 28).

2. It is our duty to pray for them.—(Luke 23:34; Acts 7:60).

We should bless them.—(Matt. 5:4; Rom. 12:14).

4. We are not to recompense evil for evil.—(Rom. 12:17.)

5. We should heap coals of fire on their heads by having compassion on them when in need.—(Rom. 12:20.)

THOUGHTS FOR WORKERS.

You do not test the resources of God until you try the impossible.—F. B. Meyer.

Man is looking for better methods. God is looking for better men. Man is God's method.—E. M. Bounds.

Sin travels faster than salvation. Salvation must press forward at all hazard to overtake and quench the prairie fire.—General Booth.

Efficiency may go a long way, but only sufficiency can go all the way. Many of God's workers are efficient, but between efficiency and sufficiency there is a wide gap. Our sufficiency is of God.

DO YOU PRAY FOR EDITORS?

It is impossible to estimate the amount of good or evil accomplished by the press. Its product goes to thousands of homes, and allowing an average of four or five readers in each home it can readily be seen that the editor's audiences are large indeed. Moreover, the editor's words are not like the minister's—spoken and apt to be soon forgotten, but they are written so that they may be read and re-read until they become firmly fixed in the mind of the reader. How important, then, that the words be right words, even words of wisdom and truth.

In view of these facts, is it not important and necessary that Christian men and women should engage in earnest supplication for those on whom is laid the responsibility of conducting our papers. Editors are human and liable to make mistakes. They appreciate when you write to them and tell them frankly and kindly what you think about their work. But above all, do not regard the request lightly when they say 'Pray for us.'—Christian Monitor.

MARRIED.

Harris-Somers.

A very impressive and pretty church wedding took place in the Reformed Baptist Church at Victoria, N. B., at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the 15th inst., when Jasper L. Harris and Anna Hope Somers, both of Victoria, were joined in holy wedlock by their pastor, Rev. H. C. Mullen. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the auditorium was filled to capacity with the relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The groom was attended by his brother, Perley, and Miss Lea Farnham, of Hartland, was bridesmaid. After the ceremony the invited guests to the number of about one hundred repaired to the home of the bride's parents where a sumptuous supper and most excellent reception was given. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents, but best of all they are two wholly sanctified young people and enjoy the best gift of heaven, the smile and blessing of God. They will reside at Victoria. Their large circle of friends join heartily in wishing them a long and blessed married life.
