

MINISTERS AND CHURCHES.

Evangelist F. W. Foster is assisting Rev. E. W. Lester in special services at Marysville.

The Fredericton Church certainly does well in their offerings. They took $28 in their December monthly missionary meeting.

The Bible Class at Moncton presented Pastor S. A. Baker with a Christmas gift of $25.00 Mrs. Baker was also generously remembered by her class.

The Moncton Church was filled to capacity at the annual Christmas entertainment, when an excellent program was rendered and all the children were made happy with a generous treat and gifts from their teachers, and the classes remembered their teachers.

Rev. P. W. Briggs says: Our people have continued to move away until we have just a very few remaining, but we are looking to the Lord for precious souls to take their places. Rev. R. C. Potter is assisting Brother Briggs in special services.

Dr. Sanders says: We are waiting upon the Lord and trying to push the battle. He is blessing and we see some victory. Praise his name. I am still trying hard to get a site across the Pongola for a mission station, but cannot as yet. We have had fearful storms during the summer season.

A note from Rev. J. H. Coy says that he is not very well. Also Sister Coy has not been enjoying her usual good health, but both are improving. Brother Coy wishes all of our readers a happy and prosperous New Year.

There are some folks that just will shine no matter where or how they are situated. Rev. T. W. Moses is one of this class of people. If you do the least thing for this class of folks, they go and tell the Lord all about it. In a letter just to hand he says: "When your letter came, we all fell on our knees and poured out our hearts in gratitude to God for his kindness to us, for he remembered our frame and knows we are but dust." We are glad to learn that Sister Moses is enjoying better health than usual this winter.

Rev. W. W. Howe reports good meetings at St. John last Sunday with three at the altar Sunday evening.

Several of our pastors took part in the week of prayer and general exchange in union with the other denominations at Moncton, Fredericton, Woodstock, Hartland and Fort Fairfield, Maine, and we support all other places where our churches are located where the week of prayer is observed.

The people have been very generous and kind with their pastors in the Christmas season, as reports will be noticed from all quarters.

Rev. L. T. Sabine is in special services at Sandford, N. S., assisted by Rev. W. E. Smith.

Rev. H. S. Dow reports a good day Jan. 9th at Fort Fairfield with some requesting prayer in the evening service. A good missionary meeting was held on the evening of the 7th inst, and a good offering taken.

The Moncton Missionary Society held their first monthly meeting for the new year on the evening of the 11th. Mrs. S. N. Grass presided, Mrs. W. A. MacCallum organist, Mrs. Charles Cook secretary. Excellent duets were sung by Brother and Sister MacCallum and Misses Grace and Nellie Good. Readings were given by Misses Ethel Bradley, Hazel MacCallum and W. A. MacCallum and Carey Berry. A good offering taken.

The Reformed Baptist Sunday School held their annual Christmas exercises and treat on the evening of the 23rd of December. There was a good attendance and the program well rendered by the little ones. The pastor and Mrs. Clark were very kindly remembered by the members of this Church and congregation.—Calais Advertiser.

Rev. and Mrs. Clark and son, John, were entertained at the home of Rev. and Mrs. R. O. Norris, at Calais, Me., Christmas Day.

PERSONALS.

Brother C. Clark Foster is attending school at Woodstock and likes it well, and feels that he has a better chance than at a boarding school, with the privileges of school and church. He would like to supply Sundays, if brethren in the vicinity wish a supply. Brother Foster is ready for service.

Brother George A. Rogers spent Sunday Jan. 2nd, with Pastor H. C. Stebbings at Everett, Mass., and led the young people's meeting in the evening.

All of the many friends in many places will be glad to know that our dear sister, Mrs. S. Hayden Shaw, has been able to attend the special revival services during the past few weeks, and to help in and enjoy them, and also to make herself very helpful to her friends. Some folks never grow old, no matter how long they have been on the way. The editor is delighted to have a nice letter, personal note of eight pages closely written from her and not a gloomy sentence in it—all sunshine.

Brother M. B. Cox of Hartland is reported to be in very poor health.

Brother Hartley E. Mullen has been at home in New Tusket, N. S., during his vacation, and has been helping Brother Briggs during his stay. He returned to Wollaston, Mass., to re-enter college on the 7th inst. He says: God is blessing me these days and the old home looks smaller than ever, the farm that was my highest ambition to own and work is but a trifle compared to the ambition I have to see souls saved and sanctified, and fit for heaven. Brother Mullen is making excellent progress in his studies.

Rev. Russell O. Norris, for the past two years pastor of the Knight Memorial Methodist Church of this city (Calais, Me.) has resigned his pastorate, and with his family left for New Jersey.

Rev. A. Kinney, of Westfield, Maine, is visiting friends at Cliftondale, Mass.

Sister Mrs. Margaret Marsten has returned from an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. G. B. MacDonald, Mars Hill, Maine, and is now visiting the other daughter, Mrs. Monroe, 101 Orange St., St. John, N. B.

Rev. M. H. Turner has taken the pastorate of the Baptist Church at Littleton, Me. Miss Luella R. Brown, of South Devon, spent the week end, Jan. 8-10, with Mrs. S. A. Baker and other friends in Moncton and vicinity.

Brother Robson Gibbs, who is a skilful engraver, has begun business on his own account in St. John.

We are glad to learn that Brother Thomas W. Whitten has so far recovered his health that he has bought a farm at Mapleton, Maine, and returned to farming again.

Brother and Sister Allen J. Brown and son, Clyde, of Smyrna Mills, Maine, spent a Sunday at Riverside Camp Meeting last year. Sister Brown says she is planning to make a longer stay at the next meeting.

MARRIED.

Davis-Dudley.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dudley, West Pembroke, Me., was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Jan. 21st, when at 4 o'clock their eldest daughter, Attie May Dudley, was united in marriage to Roy E. Davis, of Cutler. Miss Dudley is well known here, having attended the Pembroke High School, from which she graduated. She has been teaching school since. Mr. Davis is a prosperous young weir fisherman of Cutler, Me. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will reside at Cutler, Maine. Both bride and groom are well known and highly respected young people in their respective communities and have the best wishes of a host of friends for a happy and prosperous journey through life. Rev. T. W. Moses, grandfather of the bride, officiated.

Howard-Dunlap.

At the residence of the officiating minister, 117 Albert street, Woodstock, by Rev. J. H. Coy, Mr. Eben W. Howard and Mrs. Maud A. Dunlap, both of Littleton, Maine.

Cogswell-Andrews.

The home of Wm. T. Andrews on Forest Avenue, Fort Fairfield, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday, Jan. 1st, when at 12 o'clock his daughter, Miss Hazel Kimball Andrews, was united in marriage to Mr. Elwood Hudson Cogswell by the Rev. H. S. Dow, pastor of the Reformed Baptist Church, in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few friends. The single ring service was used.

The happy couple left on the afternoon train for a short honeymoon, and on their return will make their home with the groom's mother. They have many friends who wish them every happiness throughout the voyage of life.

Turner-Archibald.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Archibald, 273 Robinson street, on the 14th inst., their only daughter, Effie Lucilla, was united in marriage to Mr. Harris J. Turner, of Halifax, N. S., Rev. S. A. Baker officiating.

Hickey-McLaughlin.

At the minister's residence, 117 Albert street, Woodstock, Jan. 12th, by Rev. J. H. Coy, Mr. Merrill C. Hickey and Miss Margaret M. McLaughlin, both of Grafton, Carleton Co., N. B.

"Great peace have they that love thy law and nothing shall offend them."
