Mrs. Brooks was a daughter of the late John and Eliza (Hale) Tedlie, and was 68 years of age. She had been in a weak state of health for several years, and since the death of her son, Ernest, a little over a year ago, had been failing rapidly, but her passing away, although not wholly unexpected, came with a shock to her many friends. Mrs. Brooks was the mother of seven children, three sons, John, Norman and Ernest, have gone before; four daughters, Mrs. O. R. Estey, of Woodstock, Edith and Mabel, professional nurses of Houlton, Me., and Helen, recently graduated from the School of Social Work, Simmons College, Boston, Mass., survive; also six sisters, Mrs. Melvin Hovey, Mrs. Maurice Haley and Miss Mamie Tedlie, of Houlton; Mrs. Norris Brown and Mrs. Stephen Nixon, of Lower Brighton, and Mrs. Augustus Hand, of Woodstock.

The funeral service was held Monday p. m., Jan. 15th, and was attended by Rev. P. J. Trafton, of Fredericton, assisted by Rev. L. J. Alley. The pallbearers were four nephews, Howard and Austin Nixon, Willard Hovey and Fred Brown. The body was taken to Lower Brighton and laid to rest in the family lot beside her husband, who predeceased her twentytwo years.

Sister Brooks lived a life of faith in the Son of God and died in hope of a glorious resurrection. To God be all the glory. Appropriate selections were rendered by the choir of the Reformed Baptist Church, Woodstock. The text used by the preacher was the same as used at the funeral of her late husband, I. Cor. 15-57.

Wm. H. Yearigle was in Shadow of 90.

Wm. H. Yearigle, who made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Frank T. Clark, at 102 Hancock St., Malden Mass., passed away Friday afternoon, Jan. 12th, after an illness of two days, in his 90th year. He had been confined to his home only a short time and old age and complications were the cause of his death.

The deceased was born at Bear River, N. S., and spent the early part of his life there when he moved to North Head, Grand Manan, remaining there until six years ago when he went to Malden.

Mr. Yearigle is survived by his wife, who is in her 88th year, a son Burwell, and a daughter, Mrs. Clark; also four grandchildren and eight great grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Eliza Cochran, of Florida, who is in her 94th year.

The funeral services were held from the home of his daughter, Monday morning and interment was at Beverley, Mass. Rev. H. H. Crane, of the Centre Methodist Church, officiating, and Miss Ruth Small sang very sweetly. Abide with me, In the Garden, and Good-night. There was a profusion of flowers.

Lester E. Hodgdon, Jr.

On Jan. 11th, 1923, at the U. S. Veterans' Hospital, No. 41, New Haven, Conn., Lester E. Hodgdon, Jr., of Jonesport, Me., passed away from this life at the age of 21 years, 3 months and 30 days. Until five years ago Lester had lived with his grandmother, Mrs. Amanda Cummings, who had cared for him in his childhood as his mother, Mrs. Velma Cummings Hodgdon, had died when he was only eleven months old. He was formerly a member of the Reformed Baptist Sunday School, Jonesport. Some time after leaving Jonesport he enlisted in the U. S. Navy, where he remained until overtaken by his last illness.

A beautiful devotion existed between the young man and his grandmother, and we extend sincere sympathies to her whose heart is so rent by her sad loss; also we would very kindly remember the other relatives and friends.

Leverett W. Clark.

The death of a respected and esteemed citizen of St. Stephen, Leverett W. Clark, occurred on Friday at his home on Elm street, following an attack of pneumonia, after being ill for several years with bronchial trouble.

Mr. Clark was born at Hainesville, York Co., N. B., in 1855, and came to this county thirty-one years ago to enter into a business enterprise at Oak Bay, a member of the firm of Morrison & Clark. Nine years later he removed to St. Stephen. He was a skilled mechanic in wood working and for several years had been millwright with Haley & Son. He sought no place of prominence in the community, but by his upright character and kindly manner quickly won and steadfastly held the esteem of all with whom he came in contact and his passing hence has caused sincere sorrow.

He is survived by his beloved wife, two sons and two daughters who have the sincere sympathy of all in the loss of a fond and devoted husband and father. The sons are Guy L. of St. Stephen, and Earle of McAdam, and the daughters are Gladys, Mrs. Charles Andrews, of Woodland, and Winnifred, Mrs. Gordon C. Lasky of Hartland. Rev. S. H. Clark, pastor of the Reformed Baptist Church in Calais, and Edgar Clark, of Millville, N. B., are surviving brothers; Mrs. Wm. Wiggins, of Upper Hainesville, Mrs. James Greenlaw, of Topsfield, Me., and Mrs. Charles B. Houghton, of Newport, Me., surviving sisters.

The funeral service was held Monday afternoon, conducted by Dr. Goucher, pastor of the Union Street Baptist Church, of which the deceased gentleman was a worthy and devout member, a large number being in attendance.

The pallbearers were John Lowe, Fred Pierce, Frank Duplissee and Thomas Watters, fellow employees of the deceased.

Brother Clark was a man that knew God and walked in fellowship with Him. His sympathies and experience were with the Holiness cause. His home was always open to Holiness preachers, of which a number can testify. He has been a subscriber to the Highway for years. In fact just about a month ago he wrote the editor a very kind letter and enclosed his own and his son's subscription as a new subscriber, in which he said: "I love to read the Highway; it draws me nearer to my Heavenly Father." Our beloved brother fell asleep in Jesus and passed into the life eternal. How blessed!—Ed.

We join with the many friends in sympathy with the bereaved family and relatives.

THANKS!

Rev. G. B. and Mrs. Trafton wish to thank their many friends for kind remembrances at Christmas and New Year's. We wish all our friends a Happy New Year.
