The Camp Meeting season is at hand. We note the importance of our Quarterly Meetings being retained and the blessing to those attending, but is it not of greater importance that our Camp Meetings be well patronized. God has in the past put his seal upon them in the quickening and maintenance of the spiritual life of the churches. The spiritual inspiration derived from the association with fully consecrated believers, the union of earnest prayer and inspiring songs, the spirit inspired sermons and heartfelt testimonies in regard to a definite full salvation experience, cannot but give encouragement to those of weaker faith.

It may cause some sacrifice or self-denial to come; but surely to deny self for Jesus' sake will bring joy to our hearts. Jesus denied Himself to save the world. What self-denial we make is very small in comparison with what He made. This may be the last camp meeting you will have the privilege of attending. Come then and ask your friends to come. Come and bring your boys and girls. Come praying. Come to pray that the presence of the Holy Spirit may be manifest in all the services. Let each do his or her part and I am sure the blessing of God will be upon all and great good be done, and God will be honored in souls being saved and sanctified. Amen!

YOUR SUMMER VACATION.

You are planning to take a vacation some time during the summer! Why not plan to take it or part of it attending Camp Meeting where you will get some rest from the daily toil of life and real spiritual food for your soul.

You cannot find any rest or vacation that will help you in body and soul so much as attending a real Holiness Camp Meeting. If you believe in such meetings come and encourage them. If you do not believe in them, come with an open mind and heart and be convinced that you had the very best vacation of your life.

Have you noticed what Rev. H. C. Morrison, D.D., has said about our coming evangelist, Rev. A. P. Gouthey, D.D.? If you have not, just read this:

"Dr. Gouthey is a man of almost limitless resources. He has great natural gifts as an orator, and the use of the finest English in word pictures and descriptions that attract and interest the people while he pours in his gospel message."

Come to the Camp Meeting at Beulah Camp Ground and hear for yourself and be convinced of the truth of the above opinion of Dr. Morrison.

BEULAH CAMP GROUND.

The late Rev. C. J. Fowler, D.D., who was at one time our evangelist for Beulah, wrote after his visit there the following:

"Our meetings at Beulah, New Brunswick, were gracious ones as they always are, and it is one of the most delightful spots on the continent of North America. The people in that part of Canada have a fine history in relation to Holiness and its propagation in the past 30 years."

I am sure the Grounds are more beautiful now than when Dr. Fowler wrote the above, some 10 years ago. Come to our Camp Meeting and be convinced.

AN UNHAPPY CHANGE.

Some of us have been praying and hoping for a return of the blessed old revival effort to regenerate sinners and sanctify believers, but carefully reading and studying the situation and candidly we have little to hope for in a return of the old time effort for experimental Christianity outside of the holiness movement. The need of the old time effort and power of the supernatural religion was never so great as now, but we find leadership in the ministry denying the supernatural and practically sneering at any new birth. These are sad days to the lovers of experimental Christianity. Well, thank the Lord for what there is of the holiness movement, for we are indebted to it as our last hope for a genuine return of experimental heart holiness.—E. S. D. in Christian Witness.

These are days when God's people need to cry out against sin of every form not fearing the people, but fearing God. We are battling against a subtle foe—he is wise, he is cunning, he is deceitful. He has been on the job for these centuries. He plans to overthrow God's children. But if we keep looking to Jesus He will bring us through.

Those who deny the doctrine of depravity ought to read the daily papers and ponder the question: Why are these things so? Never was the carnal mind more asserting itself in spite of the culture, law, civilization of two thousand years. If there is no depravity of human nature how are we to account for what is going on in these days. And the end is not yet unless there be a great revival soon.

Revivals and spasmodic efforts to reach large masses of the people at once and lead them to a definite decision for Christ will never be worn out as a means of forwarding the kingdom of God in the hearts of men. They will never pass away for the simple reason that they are divine methods.

The duty of the Church is to promote a revival of full salvation and, if we are wise, we will not permit ourselves to be turned aside into secondary service for humanity.

He who is successful in soul-winning must be wise. He cannot afford to indulge cheap or questionable methods. He should shun unkindness; he should avoid mere human effort; he should despise a paltry sensationalism. Humble, fearless, love-impassioned, and empowered with the Spirit, he should give himself to the art of soul-saving.

KINDLE REVIVAL FIRES.

Do not wait for the evangelist to come along. Every pastor and every lay member of the church should work for a real revival. This is what the church needs above all things. And this is what she may have if she will pay the price. It is within reach of every society. Oh, for agonizing prayer. The Lord is pleased to have His people in earnest for souls. He is intensely interested in saving the lost, and desires that we shall share His passion.

Do not be content to go on month after month and not see any people converted. So far as one can judge from what he hears and sees in some places, the having a revival does not seem to occupy a very prominent place in the church program. But we are persuaded that this is the chief business of God's people and all of the machinery of the church should be operated with this end in view.

Let us pray earnestly that the Lord will graciously visit us with a special outpouring of the Holy Spirit and give us many souls.—Free Methodist.

"A Chinese preacher speaking of robbing God of time and money and service used this illustration:

"It came to pass that a man went to market with a string of seven large copper coins. Seeing a beggar that asked for alms, he gave the poor man six of the coins and kept one for himself. The beggar instead of being grateful, followed the good man and stole the seventh coin also. What an abominable wretch! Yes, and would you to whom God has given six days, steal the seventh also?"

There is no sorrow I have thought more about than this: That one who aspires to live a higher life than the common should fall from that serene height into the soul-wasting struggle with worldly annoyances.
