

CORRESPONDENCE.

Dear Brother Wiggins:

And to all of like precious faith, we would have greatly enjoyed meeting with you at Beulah Camp this year, but that is not possible. We trust there will be a great time of the supernatural power of the old glorious gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ in convicting, saving and sanctifying power of the three in one. We are in need of the Divine, all atoning, all sufficient, life-giving power that kills before it makes alive. These are perilous times indeed.

The times are calling not for slackers, but for valiant hearted men, who are not afraid to die: The powers of darkness that are against every possible means used that places the crown on Jesus' head, should urge every loyal citizen of the King of Kings and Lord of Lords to a united faith and God-inspired zeal that would turn back the awful tide of satanic worldly devices that would sweep overboard everything that transforms from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God. The forces of evil are a unit and the air is fairly polluted with the foul breath of hell; and the only hope of this sin stricken, idolatrous pleasure-loving, maddened age is going down, down, down in humility before God that will bring all self-interest that prevents a united faith in the mighty to save. My heart gets greatly stirred at times, over the great need of these last days, and had I strength equal to my ambition, I would say good-bye to all earth's ease or environments, as the grace of God enabled me to do nearly half a century ago. There is great danger of the cause of holiness going down with its weight of professed friends or members that have something to serve besides holiness. Satan is busy on his old lines of compromise that makes things seem so much like the real, that if it were possible he would deceive the very elect. We need a revival of the primitive stamp which stands square on the rock of ages and that builds with silver and precious stones.

My love for the Lord Jesus Christ and the communion with the blood washed saints increases as time is bearing me along to my eternal home. At times the storms beat heavily against this frail bark but with the pilot in charge there is nothing to fear with the blessed assurance that holiness here and now with its possibilities of enlargement, and its eternal verities and its hallelujah glories and outgoing after Him who has loved us and washed us in his own precious blood, will be my only source of eternal wealth and everlasting praise. Please give our heavenly greetings to what is left of the old guard of 1882, and also to those who are standing for the truth as it is in Jesus, and gives Christ the hope of glory full control.

Fare ye well,

A. HARTT,
MRS. A. HARTT.

Dear Highway:

Please find enclosed renewal for the King's Highway for another year. I like the paper very much and though I am a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church here and take the church paper I want the Highway also. It is very helpful spiritually to me.

Yours in the work for the Kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ,

MRS. ADA A. DAY.

Dear Highway:

As our church year neared its close we thought it would be nice to have a roll call of our absent members who are living in different parts of Canada and the U. S. So we sent letters to them asking each one to send a testimony to be read at the last covenant meeting of the year, the second Saturday in June. We also mentioned that we were starting a fund to get a communion service and would be grateful for an offering for that purpose. Only a few responded, but we were blessed with their testimonies and the friendly letters which accompanied them. But when we read the letter from Sister Mabel Brooks we said, "Before they call I will answer, and while they are yet speaking I will hear." She told us that she and her sisters had been planning to present the church with a communion service in memory of their parents, brother and sister who were charter members. We pray for God's richest blessing upon them and on all the dear ones who still feel an interest in the home church.

MRS. BYRON BROWN.

Dear Brother Wiggins:

I am able to sit up only a little each day, but am very weak and suffer very much. I am very disappointed not to be able to go to Beulah, but I am trying to believe this is among the all things, etc. It takes much grace to keep me patient, as I have been practically laid aside for a year, so I need your prayers.

The Highway is proving a continual blessing to the people. Praying for the success and victory of the Camp Meetings,

Sincerely yours,

IDA M. KIERSTEAD.

Dear Brother:

Just a line to let you know how we are getting along in Vancouver. Well, we are having great times in our church. Our pastor has received the baptism with the Holy Ghost and it has made a great change in him. He is preaching the whole gospel. People are falling under the power in every service. We do not get home until eleven o'clock at night. Rev. Dr. Charles S. Price, of California, held meetings in the Arena the largest building in Vancouver, for three weeks; the congregations were large, ten thousand each night and numbers turned away. He is a great preacher. He preaches the full gospel and faith healing. The last Sunday morning of the campaign he prayed for fourteen hundred. Sister Hale will tell you about our meetings. Surely the Lord is blessing us, for which we praise His Holy Name. We are enjoying the meetings. We have the upper room. Prayer meeting every Friday evening; it is only for believers.

I am so glad it has come to our church. We have been kept true all these years and God has honored our faith. Praise his dear name! I cannot tell half. People are getting healed, those that have faith. Our church is packed every Sunday night. We had to move our Wednesday night prayer meeting to the main auditorium. Used to have about 35, now 300; quite a difference, and are real live meetings.

We had a great day yesterday. Large congregations last night as the church was packed, a number standing. It was a great service. We have prayer meeting Sunday from 9 a. m. to 11, and 6 to 7 p. m. So you see Sunday is a full day with us. Praise the Lord for full salvation! I hope and pray God you will have times of refreshing at Beulah this year. We are all in our usual health. Hope you and Sister Wiggins are enjoying the same blessing.

Your brother in Christ, saved and kept by Power Divine.

G. H. COLWELL.

SOCIAL REFORM.

Your committee on Moral and Social Reform beg leave to report. In looking over the moral and social conditions of today, we are convinced of the reality of the words spoken by the apostle, "that evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse deceiving and being deceived."

Among the many devices employed by the enemy of our souls to break down the morals of the young of our country, is the moving pictures. Many of the crimes among juveniles can be traced directly to this source. Not only are the young being effected but older people as well.

Even the automobile has become a menace to the church as many who are members take the Sabbath for recreation and pleasure, instead of attending upon the worship of God, in this way becoming an evil influence to the young.

We are sorry that in our institutions of learning today the dance has become so prevalent, corrupting the morals of our girls and boys. Our public schools are becoming a training place for the theatres and the dance. We feel the parents of today should rise up and protest against these evils.

Card playing has become a popular amusement in many homes, starting the young on the way to become professional gamblers.

As to the dress question much might be said but the words of I. Timothy 2-9-10, 2 Peter 3-4, should be sufficient, "that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety; not with brodered hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array; but (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works. "Even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit which is in the sight of God of great price."

We strongly urge all our people who are heads of homes the necessity of keeping up the family altar, and in all the moral issues of the day our people should hold up the standard of holiness and make no compromise with sin.

Respectfully submbitted,

MRS. P. J. TRAFTON,
