

men who have endured great hardships, made great sacrifice, and invested great energy to plant the gospel of full redemption in the Province of New Brunswick. We of this generation salute these pioneers of the yesterdays and pledge ourselves before God to prosecute this work, so well begun, with all the vigor of our virile manhood!

My heart was greatly encouraged as I observed the type of our young men who are entering the ministry. With hard study and holy living on the part of these young men the big history of the Reformed Baptist Church is to be written. God grant that none of them shall waive or falter, or fail, until the standard handed on by the fathers shall have been planted on the fire-crowned summits of the mountain range beyond.

The Camp this year was, to me, a most interesting camp. There was a beautiful spirit of fellowship and harmony in which it was as easy to preach as it was to breathe. I felt no restraint whatever. I heard no criticism nor fault-finding, there seemed to be no drawing back from truth, and all hearts seemed to welcome the message of God with a gladness which was refreshing to see. There were a goodly number of seekers, many of whom seemed to be happy finders. It would require only an invitation on the part of the committee to at once get the consent of the writer to come again.

It would have been impossible for the people to have been more courteous and sympathetic and kind. Everyone seemed to be seeking an opportunity to show his or her appreciation of the labors of the stranger preacher, and to, in some way, minister to his comfort. Frequently, either in the woods, or in my room, my eyes were moist at the remembrance of so many kindnesses, and I pray God to scatter blessing upon all who had a part in making this to me the most pleasant camp of the season. Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you.

THE STUDENTS' FUND.

At our late Alliance a motion was passed to revive our Students' Fund. We hope there may be a liberal response this year on the part of our people to assist our young brethren who are struggling to obtain an education that they may be better fitted to preach the gospel. When laying aside our tithes and our free-will offerings let us generously remember the students' fund.

BIRTHDAY PRESENTATION.

Friday evening, June 23rd, members of the Bible class of the Reformed Baptist Church, Woodstock, met at the home of Mrs. Henry Britton to congratulate her on her 76th birthday. A purse of money was contributed by those present and presented by the pastor with an appropriate speech. After refreshments we sang that old hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds," and united in a closing prayer for the blessing of God to sustain our dear sister in these declining years of life.

"Expect great things from God; attempt great things for God."
