RIVERSIDE CAMP MEETING.

The Camp Meeting at Riverside this year opened with only a small force of workers and there was some misgiving as to how the meetings would succeed, as there were many difficulties to be surmounted, which naturally would weaken the faith of those who had charge of affairs. But in spite of all that seemed to be mountains, prayer and faith in God surmounted the hill tops and the blessing of the Lord attended every service and God gave us a signal victory. Bless the Lord!

Our evangelist, Rev. J. L. Glascock, was early on hand ready for the battle and never once flinched in the fight. He was indeed a noble leader, well versed in all the attacks of the enemy and skilled, not only in repelling but in carrying the battle into the enemies' camp to a successful conclusion. He indeed gave us rugged truth, which was indeed needed, but it was done in love and from a tender heart saturated by earnest prayer. He was nobly supported by all the ministerial brethren, and by laymen and the sisters as well. To this union of effort the success of the Camp Meeting is largely due.

From the first service until the last the presence of the Holy Spirit was manifested. There never was a more earnest spirit of prayer manifested at Riverside than this year. Under the leadership of our president, Rev. P. J. Trafton, there were meetings for prayer daily. The early 6 o'clock prayer in the Tabernacle, the family prayer at 8 o'clock, the ministers' prayer meeting at one o'clock, the ladies' prayer meeting at 4 o'clock, besides the seasons of prayer at the beginning of all the services, and then the season of fasting and prayer on Friday morning from 6 o'clock until 8.30 o'clock, when the power of God was greatly manifested. To this must be mostly attributed the success of all the services. It always will be the case. Where there is little prayer, little success, where there is much earnest prayer, much success. Nothing else can take its place.

The attendance was good, considering the busy time of the year, as the farmers were not done haying. On Sundays the crowds came in hundreds, as not less than 1500 to 2000 were present each Sunday.

The Fort Fairfield Praying Band in conjunction with young men from other parts held grand services at one o'clock in the grove as also at 4.30 o'clock on Sundays, when undoubtedly much good was done, as we noticed that when the call for prayer came some came and knelt on the green and got salvation.

The closing service was full of praise. As to results, who can tell? No one but God. But it was evident by the testimonies given that a number of souls were converted, reclaimed from backsliding and sanctified wholly.

It was victory from beginning to end. Glory to God! Besides, the evangelist who preached each day in the afternoon and evening, there was a preaching service each morning at 11 o'clock. Among those who preached were Rev. P. J. Trafton, our president, who preached on the first morning, and Rev. I. F. Keirstead, who preached on the last Sunday morning, also Revds. Perley Briggs, L. J. Alley, W. B. Wiggins and H. E. Mullen, and licentiate Stillman Mullen, besides the daily people's service led by Brothers Hollis Kimball, Arthur Baird, Eugene Kimball and others.

Rev. E. W. Lester led the Love Feast at 9 o'clock on the first Sunday and Rev. C. S. Hilyard on the last Sunday. Rev. H. S. Dow assisted in all the services as long as he was present, as he was present only part of the time, having urgent duties at home. The Lord assisted Rev. Ida M. Kerstead, is that she was enabled to be present several days to enjoy the services and assist in altar work. Note her article, "A Spiritual Feast." Others assisted also, among them Revds. Mark Turner and B. Colpitts, Fred Wright, and Licentiate George Rogers.

The Children's Meeting each day at 1 o'clock was conducted by Mrs. Cecile Ireland and Mrs. Perley Briggs and was the delight of the little ones, of which there were quite a number on the Grounds.

The Young People's Meeting each day at 4 o'clock was under the care of Mrs. L. J. Alley, who appointed leaders from among themselves, and was held in the Tabernacle as also were the children's services.

The Ladies' Prayer Meetings were held in the different cottages, where they were invited, and led by each sister in turn.

The Ministers' Prayer Meetings were always held in the Ministers' cottage.

The Music was splendidly sustained and inspiring. Brother Jno. F. Bullock presided at the organ as also at times at the piano, and Miss Helen Lester most of the time at the piano. We had solos, duets, quartettes and chorus by Rev. P. J. Trafton, Rev. E. W. Lester, the Cogswell Brothers and Kimball Brothers, as also a ladies' quartett consisting of Mrs. Arthur Baird, Mrs. E. W. Lester, Mrs. Geo. W. Bates and Miss Helen Lester.

The Hotel Department was good. Sister Geo. Nixon was our efficient cook, Mrs. Arthur Hovey had charge of the dish washing and was assisted by the ministers' wives and others. The young lady waitresses were: Pearl Hilyard, Eula Lester, Jessie White, Helen Lester, Myra Cogswell, Ruth Dow, Muriel Lester, Helen Timery and Edna White. Revds. E. W. Lester and C. S. Hilyard had charge of this department; they were assisted in the rooms department by Rev. Perley Briggs and Licentiate Stillman Mullen.

The Grounds and Tabernacle and barn were efficiently looked after by Rev. I. F. Keirstead, and Brothers Frank Kimball, Thos. Whitten and Karl Keirstead.

Riverside Camp Meeting this year will not be soon forgotten.

The finances were met and a start was made to raise money for the re-shingling of the Tabernacle which it greatly needs, as we found out during a heavy thunder storm which came during the end of the last Sunday afternoon service.

A start will be made soon but we expect to continue and to finish up next year as we believe the Lord will give us funds through those who have the cause of holiness at heart.

A SPIRITUAL FEAST.

By I. M. K.

It was a wonderful privilege to attend the Riverside Camp Meeting even for a few days.

The pleasure of meeting old friends and the fellowship with the saints was grand.

The hotel committee was untiring in their efforts to provide wholesome food, and make everything pleasant to those who came. The cook and her assistants prepared the food in the good old way, and the dear young people served with goodwill and courtesy. This was a labor of love and greatly appreciated.

The Camp Ground Committee did good work and were kept pretty busy. The president, Rev. P. J. Trafton, and vice-president, Rev. L. J. Alley, were always at their post and filled their positions with dignity and wisdom.

Our own ministers preached well and the evangelist, Rev. J. L. Glascock, quickly won the hearts of the people. He is surely a man of God, filled with the Holy Ghost. His preaching was with power and yet with simplicity, all could understand as he clearly taught the two works of grace, which makes the heart glad. It was a rich spiritual feast for the Lord's people from beginning to end. A volume of prayer was ascending the throne almost continually. The early morning meetings at 6 o'clock were seasons of refreshing to those who could attend.

At 8 o'clock the bell rang for family prayer at the hotel and dormitories as well as at the cottages, parents gathered their children about them for worship. At 9.30 a social service was held, led by one of the brethren. Old and young testified to the saving and helping power of Jesus. It was a delight to hear their varied experiences.

At 10.30 preaching by one of our ministers.

At 1 o'clock the children's meeting was held in the Tabernacle, led by Sister Ireland. At the same hour the ministers held their prayer meeting in the cottage.

At 2 o'clock song service and 2.30 the evangelist preached, followed by an al-
