ONE MONTH TOO LATE.

At a prayer meeting in a country neighborhood in Western Washington a young man appeared to be much convicted of sin. He was urged to give his heart to God immediately. He hesitated, but finally said: "No, I will surrender to God when I am done hauling logs; I have a month to work yet." Four weeks from that day he and a young friend went bathing in Lake Lacomas. He was using profane language while undressing. Plunging into the lake, he swam into the deep, cold water, was taken with a cramp, screamed wildly for help, then sank to the bottom—drowned. He was one month too late.—Exchange.
