"THE ALL DAY ANNIVERSARY MEETING."

The Mother Church at Woodstock was a scene of blessed fellowship divine and joy supremely sweet when on Nov. 3rd, she welcomed the saints, her offspring, to rejoice with her that 36 years had been victoriously spent in the cause of holiness. There were some present at this meeting that were present when the denomination and church were organized in 1888, namely, Sister S. Hayden Shaw, of Hartland; Rev. B. Colpitts, C. N. Scott, A. J. Marsten, of Woodstock. We thought of many others who had been called to their heavenly home, or who had gone out to spread the tidings to other places.

The following ministers and delegates were present to enjoy the feast of good things: Rev. A. H. Trafton, B. Colpitts, S. H. Clark, I. S. Keirstead, E. W. Lester, Perley Briggs, P. J. Trafton and the pastor, L. J. Alley.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thorne, Belvidere, Me.; Mrs. S. H. Clark and son, John; Mrs. Neil Clark, Crystal, Me.; Mr. and Mrs. Silas Burt, Royalton; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Nixon, Mrs. E. W. Lester, Mrs. Celia O. Sherwood, Henry McLean, Mrs. S. H. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Ziba Orser, their two daughters, Thelma and Evelyn, Hartland; Mrs. Charles Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tilley, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cox, Rosedale; Mrs. Tart Dickinson, Meductic; Murray Brown and William Nixon, Lower Brighton.

Three services were held, each proving a time of blessing to all. At 10.30 a. m. the pastor welcomed the ministers and delegates and after stating briefly the purpose of the meeting, the time was spent in prayer and rejoicing in song and testimony. At 2.30 p. m. Brother Briggs gave a short message from the talk of Jesus concerning the Rivers of Water. We all enjoyed this message much, and such a time of rejoicing we had. Brother Briggs was a blessing to us all, especially when he would demonstrate in the Spirit. 7.30 p. m. P. J. Trafton brought us a message showing us the characteristics that governed the movement in the early days. He exhorted us to continue in the same way, and mind the same things.

This meeting closed at a late hour with two seeking souls for the blessing of full salvation. This was considered by those present as a meeting typical of the early days. Brethren, God is yet alive, and putting his sanction on the preaching of Second Blessing Holiness. The clear cut testimonies along this line prove to us that folks are yet getting through into the blessing of sanctification. Some of our leaders are being called home. It is for us to pause but briefly in their memory, and quickly fill in the broken ranks.

NEW MEMORY SYSTEM.

"How is it that you have such a good memory, Norah?" her mistress inquired. "Well, mum, I'll tell ye. Since me childhood never a lie have I told, and when ye don't have to be taxin' yer memory to be rememberin' what yer told this one or that, or how ye explained this or that, shure ye don't overwork it an' it lasts ye, good as new, till ye die."—Christian Advocate.

CONVENTION OF PRAYING BANDS.

After some thought and discussion, it was decided to hold a convention of Praying Bands at Hartland, N. B., to cover four days. The meeting began on Thursday evening, Oct. 23rd, and continued over Sunday, the 26th. There were three services each day. There were present at different times during the meeting representatives from Fort Fairfield, Caribou, Knoxford, Woodstock, Fredericton, Lower Brighton, and the local band. The first service was under the leadership of the writer as the ones appointed were late in arriving, two auto loads coming from Fort Fairfield. The first meeting was a good start, one was at the altar. The service on Friday morning was led by Hollis Kimball, of Fort Fairfield; in the afternoon George DeLong, of Fredericton, took the service and in the evening Chas. The Spirit was present in all the services. Mutch, of Woodstock, was the leader. The Spirit was present in all the services of the day. Saturday morning Murray Brown, of Lower Brighton, was the leader; in the afternoon Hollis Kimball had charge as also at the evening service. All these meetings began with a song service and season of prayer. A short business session was held at the close of the Saturday evening service and it was decided to hold another convention (D. V.) the middle of June at Fort Fairfield, Me. The central thought was that we might concentrate our efforts to help the weak churches. The convention next fall will probably be held at Knoxford, N. B. Sunday was a great day. It began with a love feast at 10 o'clock led by Brother Kilcolins, of Fort Fairfield, after which Buryl Kimball gave a talk on the Judgment. At the afternoon service Evangelist Lee Good of Monticello had charge and preached from Rom. 1-16. Havelock Knox led the singing. The evening service was in charge of Frank Watson, of Woodstock. This service did not close till after 12 o'clock. Five seekers were at the altar. There was large crowds all day Sunday and a grand spirit manifest and the people were mightily stirred. It was a wonderful convention all through and a means of the boys getting together which aims for closer co-operation. The friends of Hartland entertained the convention in the good old hospitable way. To God be all the glory for what was accomplished.
