Sweetness of character and life comes out of sanctified trial. Testing softens under divine grace. God's furnace is intended to refine and purify. It is not for us to repine under his chastening and moulding operations. He knows best how to rub off the rough angles, to sweeten the temper, to subdue the wayward spirit, and to bring into meekness for heaven.—Ex.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. Editor: Just a few lines as I am passing along toward Westchester, where a glorious work was begun by a Macedonian cry, to which M. S. Trafton responded, which resulted in a glorious awakening, and immediately God's presence was particularly manifested; backsliders reclaimed, sinners saved, church refreshed. The work advanced so it was thought best to call on P. J. Trafton, pastor of Fredericton church. He gladly responded, it being made possible by me supplying his pulpit for two Sundays. He remained over another Sunday and M. S. passing through was kindly invited to supply, which he did very acceptably; souls were refreshed by the messages. I am on my way to Westchester to supply for a month at least, if all is well, health good, soul enjoying salvation. Praise the Lord!

A. H. TRAFTON.

Dear Highway: We are glad to be able to report once more. We never expected to write again in this world, but God has answered prayer and delivered me from the grave. I did not know at the time who was praying for me, but heard that Bro. Colpitts had prayed for me, and I know God hears a righteous man's prayer.

I now want to thank the dear people of Beals church for standing by me and coming to see me in a time when there was no hope of my life; also their pastor and wife. I also want to thank all of my kind friends for their kind remembrances and words of comfort sent to me and dear wife in our affliction. May God bless you all is my prayer, in return for your kindness.

T. W. MOSES.
