

CORRESPONDENCE.

Lower Brighton, N. B.

Dear Highway:

I wish through your pages to thank the many friends and our recent pastors for their kind letters of sympathy which I appreciate very much; also Brother and Sister Bennett Trafton, for which I have great reason to thank God for; they have been the means in God's hands to bringing me to a knowledge of a loving Saviour, Jesus Christ.

Some of my old pastors would like to know how I am standing at this time. I can truly say "The Lord is very precious to me. He is my refuge, a present help in time of need." Glory to His precious name.

I have been through some terrible tests of late, but He has kept me and today I can report victory in my soul. "Many are the afflictions of the Righteous but He will deliver them out of them all." Glory be to His precious name.

Yours in Christ,
MRS. GEORGE NIXON.

Dear Brother Trafton:

I am enclosing my renewal to the Highway. I look forward to its coming as it has been a great comfort to me. I have been shut in on account of sickness in our home. I do praise the dear Lord for what He is to me in all the testings of this life. I find Him a very precious friend. I intend by his grace and help to stand true. I am so glad that I let him have his way in my heart. He saves and sanctifies.

Yours in Jesus,
MRS. T. DICKINSON.

Dear Brother:

You will find enclosed my renewal for the Highway. The Lord is my fortress, my strength and my God, in him do I put my trust. I have more testings now than ever in the past, but praise his dear name. I am going through with him whatever the cost.

Sincerely yours,
MRS. W. H. WILLIAMSON.

Dear Highway:

Perhaps a line from this corner of the field will not be amiss in your columns. The crops are all gathered and prices good for potatoes, causing the farmers to take on more hope and a more cheerful aspect.

Our work has been much hindered this fall from the very many rainy Sundays and bad roads, nevertheless the faithful ones at Belvedere are standing shoulder to shoulder with their pastor and our meetings are good. Our young people's endeavor meetings are regularly kept up and are seasons of blessing. We have one outpost we enjoy going to for a week night service, but owing to bad state or road only been able to be with them for a couple of services this fall, which we felt were profitable seasons. The young people of Belvedere on the 23rd of October brought their endeavor meeting to the parsonage at Crystal which was so much enjoyed they repeated it again on the 30th, but their numbers were greatly augmented by a number of the old folks from both churches coming in to the number of over 50. After the service of song, prayer, reading of the word and a number of testimonies interspersed with songs. The services closed and a short time was spent in social chat in which the pastor and his wife were given to feel that God was providing them in a substantial way, for in their departure they left in goods and cash a pleasant reminder, for all of which we praise God and endeavor to press the battle a little harder.

Yours for souls,
S. H. CLARK.

My dear Brother Trafton:

I enclose my subscription to the Highway.

Our appreciation for the Highway grows with every issue. It is a little sheet but it is heavy with real spiritual food. We expect to continue in your subscription list.

With all good wishes, I am,
Sincerely yours,
RUSSELL O. NORRIS.

Eastern Nazarene College.

Dear Highway,—We desire to acknowledge that we received ($57.00) fifty-seven dollars from Rev. M. Ella Slipp, treasurer of the Students' Fund. Thanking every individual who has contributed to the fund, we remain, your brethren in the Lord,

G. A. ROGERS
C. R. HAGERMAN,
S. T. HILYARD.

Knoxford, Oct. 28, 1925.

Dear Brother,—I am sending in the money for the Highway. The Highway has come to our home since its first issue and I would not like for it to be discontinued. Dear Brother and Sister Margison have gone home and the paper comes in Sister Margison's name. I expect as daughter-in-law to take it so long as it is printed. I love a clean paper and one that stands for true Holiness.

Yours truly,
MRS. WILMOT A. MARGISON.

Dear Highway,—A few words from this part may be permitted as we wish to report a few items. We greatly enjoyed the meeting of the friends who came from Port Maitland and Sandford for the quarterly meeting, beginning October 29th. We were not successful in securing special help as expected, but the preaching by the brethren who came was good. Brother Stilman Mullen preached on Thursday evening, leaving for home on Friday. Rev. Hartley E. Mullen preached Friday and Saturday evening, also twice on Sunday.

Not sufficient delegates came for a business session on Saturday.

Many of the people expressed themselves as being much helped by the services.

On Monday evening, October 26th, we were taken almost by surprise when about fifty of our friends, old and young, gathered at our home and spent the time pleasantly together. Before leaving, a purse of money was given us and, including a few dollars coming later, amounted to about $16. Also groceries and produce were brought in, totalling about $40. We appreciate very much the donation of vegetables, apples, meat, chicken, lamb, preserves and groceries, etc. All was very acceptable and upon the donors we would ask the blessing of the Giver of every good and perfect gift, and may they not be forgotten.

Friends, we thank you and pray and believe that together we are working for the extension of the Kingdom of God.

Trusting for souls and victory,
Yours in Him,
L. T. AND MRS. SABINE.

"THEN THOU SHALT HAVE GOOD SUCCESS"

By R. A. Zahniser.

God raised up the Free Methodist Church to spread Scriptural holiness over these lands. He has greatly blessed us in the past, but in recent years our accomplishments have been far from satisfactory. What of the future? Can we succeed? If we will we can for He wills that we should.

Our supreme need at this time is a fresh baptism of faith, hope and love.

Faith in God is necessary for grace within and for kingdom progress both at Jerusalem and beyond. Faith exclaimed in words of undying memory, "Let us go up at once, and possess it" (the land); for we are well able to overcome it." Faith sees morning at midnight, and the star of success gleaming through a world of shadows. "Have faith in God."

Hope. We need a supernaturally, divinely inspired hope; a hope that yields happiness and joy, for joy makes the heart strong, and a strong heart can do a great work. It is an indication of spiritual decay, and of the fact that gray hairs are coming on, when the following, or a similar comment is made, concerning an enthusiastic brother who contemplates coming victories in God's work. "We had similar symptoms once; just wait till he has bumped up against a few difficulties and gets a little more experience, etc., etc." Dying hope will eventually yield a dead faith; but living hope inspires faith and sets head and hands and heart to work.

Love. Divinely begotten and supernaturally sustained love is the supreme grace. "The greatest of these is love." Genuine love for God begets love for His work and love for souls. We must have an ever-fresh and ever-growing love. Says Mrs. Stowe: "Love needs new leaves every summer of life, as much as your elm tree, and new branches to grow broader and wider."

Enthusiasm might well be mentioned, as its possession is imperative, but since it is a by-product of the above trinity of graces we refrain. May the good Lord help us all to seek and obtain a fresh anointing, a baptism of faith and hope and love and holy enthusiasm. Amen!
