NOTES.

July 31-Aug. 9 inclusive are the dates. Don't forget to pray for the Camp Meeting at Riverside.

Don't forget to go to the meeting at Riverside. Be sure and take your song book, Songs of Perfect Love.

You had better take an extra covering for your bed, a pillow and a sheet.

Go to stay through, pray through and pay through, a great combination for a successful meeting.

Brethren don't forget to send us notes about your work, our people are interested to know what is going on.

We will send out notices ere long to those in arrears. Look at the label and send us your renewal at once.

TO THE MINISTERS AND MEMBERS OF THE REFORMED BAPTIST DENOMINATION AND FRIENDS.

We wish to express through the columns of The King's Highway, our very deep appreciation of the kindness shown and services rendered during the illness and death of our dear husband and father. It seemed to us that the Lord just honored His servant before He exalted him to be a priest and king unto God his Father. It certainly was a demonstration of the truth taught in the first epistle of John.

BEULAH-ON-THE-SAINT JOHN

After being absent from Beulah for three years, to me it was more beautiful than ever before. Brother Bullock and his staff of workmen have done much to improve its beauty by laying out new walks, making new rustic bridges and installing more places of usefulness. Jacob's Well is always admired by many; the Lake of Galilee is surely unique. The Grove for children's meetings, and the inclosure for young people's meetings, are all that could be desired, and shows much thoughtful care had been taken to maintain the sacredness of the place.

The very atmosphere inside the beautiful gates seems pregated by the Holy Spirit's presence, so that a holy hush is on many of the people.

The clean gravelled walks, spraying fountains, beautiful flowers and trees, can only be seen to be appreciated. It was a real pleasure to meet so many old friends, and new ones. Although our Camp Meeting was the saddest we ever attended, by much sickness, a death and funeral, and a memorial service, yet we had a grand time of victory.

Our Evangelist, Rev. Rowe, preached well, and got down to the needs of the people. He was a good altar worker, which resulted in the salvation of many precious souls. Our visiting preachers, as well as our own, preached earnestly and with the blessing of the Lord upon them.

The public missionary meeting was very interesting and out of the ordinary, as the program was carried on by the young people exclusively. The special singing was enjoyed by all, and was a real inspiration. Our souls were blessed as we listened to the testimonies coming from sincere and honest hearts. Sunday, "the last great day of the feast," was full from the 6.00 a. m. meeting until after 11 o'clock at night.

Many hungry souls prayed through at the altars. It was a grand sight to see about sixty grouped on the platform at the close of the meeting, praising the Lord for definite blessings amid tears of joy; among them were several young boys, some of them ministers' sons, which gladdened the hearts of their parents. They afterwards sang together.

The day was beautiful, so thousands were in attendance. Those who could not even find standing room in the great Tabernacle were very respectful and quiet as they walked through the beautiful grounds.

The prayers from Mount Horeb were listened to by many. We feel sure that hundreds of souls left for their different homes with greater courage to face the coming days, and more determined to live and shine for Jesus than ever before, because of the blessings received during the encampment of 1925.

Our Foreign Missionaries were remembered in prayer and thanksgiving for the grand work accomplished during the past year.—I. M. K.

CORRESPONDENCE.

McKinleyville, N. B.

Dear Brother Trafton:

I am sending my renewal for the Highway for another year. I could not do without the paper as it is a good help and comfort to me.
