THE GREATEST NEED.

There are many great needs that appear to us as we observe conditions in State and Church, but the greatest need is a real old time revival of salvation, on Bible lines. There never has taken place a real work of grace in any nation, but what all parts of that nation felt the effects for good. The Wall Street Journal states that "America needs a revival of religion," and I am sure that anyone who has given any thought to the Spiritual, sees how much a revival is needed. Can we have a revival? We answer yes. But it will not come easy. It will come by the way of humility. We are loving ease and comfort too much these days; but a revival can be had, if the preachers and people will humble themselves before God; put away the idols and give up conformity to the world; confess their pride and haughtiness of heart, weep between the porch and the altar, spend night in prayer and days of fasting, confessing faults, etc., God would get a chance to do something. The devil is delighted with the spirit of ease in Zion, but God has pronounced a woe on such. We need to stir ourselves tremendously these days to lay hold on God. Modernism is getting a mighty grip on the Church today and the only hope is in a great awakening among the true followers of Jesus. We must get the spirit of importunity and do our best to extend the Kingdom of God or he will never say, Well done, good and faithful servant. God's time is now. Let us begin at once.

* * * *

We never can hope to accomplish much on the line of deep spirituality, if we lower the standard and yoke up with the opposers of entire sanctification. Nehemiah said to Sauballat and Geshem, when they wanted him to meet them in the plain of Ono: I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down. God has given us a great work to do in the propagation of Holiness, and he wants us to keep on the job. If we have made failure, no fault can be found with God. Let us see to it that the old land marks are not obliterated. Keep the blessing in its fulness and the glory on our souls. God will do the rest as we sing, shout, preach and live holiness.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Dear Brother Trafton:

I have been thinking a few words from this part of the field would not be amiss at this time. I can report victory in my own soul and feel I have great reason to be thankful. God has been mindful of us, giving us all needful things, for which we praise him. We were well remembered at Christmas time by friends here and elsewhere. We enjoy the Highway and pray God's blessing may be upon you in your work. We expect to hold revival services in Wood Island and Seal Cove Churches, Rev. H. S. Mullen will be the evangelist at Seal Cove. We covet your prayers for these meetings.

These are awful days of departure from the old paths. The lukewarmness of this age is appalling, people seem to have time for everything else but to worship God. We are thankful for those here and there who love the truth and will go through at any cost.

Yours in the Master's service,

HARTLEY E. MULLEN.

Dear Highway:

Greetings in Jesus' name. I thought a few lines from this part of God's moral vineyard might be appreciated by the readers of the King's Highway. I am able to report victory in Jesus, bless his dear name. I thank the Lord for the privilege of labouring with the people at Liscomb. God has honored his truth, and a holiness church is to be erected in the early summer, the frame for the same is under way already. To God be all the glory. I would like to ask all the readers of the Highway to pray that God will bless the effort the people are putting forth in this way, to spread the gospel of full salvation. We are praying for a greater outpouring of the Holy Spirit in the near future. There is surely a great opening through this county, for the preaching of holiness. I trust God will help us as his people to enlarge our borders, and go into all the world and preach this gospel of full salvation.

Yours for souls and holiness,

G. W. HENDERSON.

Dear Highway:

We are glad for your welcome visits to our home with your messages of gladness as well as those of sadness at the remembrance of those departed, but we are encouraged to press the battle for second blessing holiness. We have also been encouraged by the many remembrances in many gifts and cards of greeting from those on the circuit and others as well. The members of the church and congregation gathered in our home just before Christmas one evening and spent a pleasant time in social chat, reading and singing. Words of appreciation were spoken of the pastor, his wife and family. They left us enriched in many needful things. The pastor had to buy a sleigh in the fall from Mr. H. N. Boyer (who has since been elected mayor of the town) and when he went to pay for it, found to his glad surprise it was about all paid for; friends over the circuit had contributed. For these and all other benefits received we are very grateful to our Heavenly Father and all those who have been so thoughtful in remembering us, we wish in this way to express our appreciation.

REV. E. W. LESTER AND FAMILY.

There seems to be times and seasons to the Christian, a time when the revival spirit is on and then a time of "rejoicing bringing in the sheaves." After the above time is a danger period, when Christians and the new born ones into the kingdom are inclined to settle down to enjoy themselves; but before they get very far, interest begins to lag just a little, the prayer time is shortened and occasionally is missed and the new found joy seems to be waning, but please take notice right here and begin to bestir yourself and renew your covenant with God; take time alone with Him, pouring out your heart's desire and as you begin picking up the lost threads you will be surprised how the peace begins to come back and how the heart takes on courage and instead of making excuses to stay from prayer meeting, you will find yourself looking forward to it and enjoying it, adding something to interest others, making the things of salvation attractive, getting help for one's self and going home happy with the benediction of heaven upon your soul.

People listen! There is nothing like it. It takes, yes more than takes the place of pleasures given up for Jesus' sake. God will supply all your need in that line, "build you up in the faith, help you to quit yourselves like men, make you strong." "Shaphan the Scribe."

The Ford plant at Detroit recently turned out its 10,000,000th car. The last million were made in just 132 working days. Ford proposes to grow his own rubber and has bought 1,000 acres in Florida for which it is said he paid $1,000,000.
