

MARRIED

MacCallum-Blakney.

A very pretty wedding took place in the Reformed Baptist Church, Moncton, N. B., Wednesday, Sept. 1st, at 7 o'clock p. m., when Milford Dawson MacCallum was united in marriage to Lucy Marion, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Blakney. The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her sister, Blanche V. Blakney, as bridesmaid, and little Frances Stewart as flower girl. The groom was supported by Clyde W. Blakney, brother of the bride. The bridal party entered the church, which was beautifully decorated, and crowded to capacity, to the strains of a wedding march rendered by Mrs. Rose Thompson, sister of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. J. Trafton, of Saint John, N. B., after which a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Sunny Brae, and a dainty buffet luncheon was partaken of. The gifts were very numerous and beautiful, consisting of checks, silver, cut glass and linen. The happy couple left on the 10.30 p. m. train for Blasdell, near Buffalo, N. Y., where the groom holds a responsible position, and where they will make their future home. The best wishes of a host of friends accompanied them.

Dear Highway:

Just a few lines from us from this "Island of the Sea." We have had delightful weather here during the summer, and a large number of tourists have visited the island. This is the busy season here, so that not as many get out to the services as do at other times in the year. For the past six weeks I have been suffering from a sprained ankle, which has interfered much with our getting about among the people, but we have been able to be present at all the services of the church. The quarterly meeting has just closed and was a time of refreshing. All the pastors in the district were at the meeting, and each preached the word in the power of the Holy Ghost. At the closing service there was much conviction on the meeting, but no one would yield. Satan surely has a great hold upon people these days, especially the young. We are pressing the battle for God and Holiness, and are much encouraged for we have here of the true and tried soldiers of the cross.

Yours in the work,

H. C. ARCHER.

Dear Brother Trafton:

Enclosed find remittance for our renewal to the Highway. We certainly enjoy reading the clean pages of our paper, the testimonies of our brothers and sisters, also the good letters from our missionaries in South Africa. We are trusting in the blood of Jesus that cleanses from all sin and keeps us saved by faith. Praise His Holy Name.

Your brother and sister in Christ,
MR. AND MRS. ALTON H. URQUHART.

Just a little space in your excellent paper to state to the many readers thereof, that the fire of Divine love is still burning in my heart, and I seem to be possessed with a stronger determination than ever to press the battle against the forces of hell and preach Jesus as a Saviour Who is abundantly and sufficiently able to save from all sin in this present life. I simply haven't the ability to express my appreciation of the privilege God gave me of meeting and co-laboring with your splendid people at Riverside Camp this year. WHAT A GLORIOUS AND VICTORIOUS TIME GOD GAVE US ALL! Not one ripple of division throughout the whole camp. May the richest blessing heaven affords be yours continually. Shall greatly appreciate an interest in your prayers. My slate for this fall is full and includes Fort Fairfield, Maine, Oct. 13th to 28th.

Yours for the Master's sake,

EARL E. CURTIS

TRUE COURAGE

What is courage? Courage is not the act of performing some dreadful crime, nor is it the shrinking back from some difficult task. A fighting spirit does not depict courage. Courage is that unseen power within a man that keeps him steady in times of success and that leads him triumphantly on even in the face of defeat.

PRAYER.

1st Thessalonians 5-17, 18. Pray without ceasing. In everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you. No matter what comes into our lives, persecutions, afflictions, crosses, tribulations, etc., we can live in such sweet communion with God, that none of these things move us.

Prayer is the Christian's vital breath,

The Christian's native air,

His watchword at the gates of death;

He enters heaven by prayer.

—(Montgomery).

All great revivals were brought about in answer to prayer of certain individuals. We need not be discouraged, but keep on praying. God will hear and answer in his own good time. The more there are united in prayer for the same object, the greater will be the effect.

If you hear a prayer that moves you,

By its humble pleading tone,

Join in: Do not let the seeker

Bow before his God alone.

Why should not your brother share,

The strength of two or three in prayer

Jesus admonished his disciples not to be like the Pharisees when they prayed,

but to enter into thy closet and shut too thy door, and pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly. It is a great and glorious privilege we have of being alone with God, and pouring out our hearts to him. Let us pray more.
