

CORRESPONDENCE

Lisbon Falls, Maine.

Dear Highway:

It has been a long time since I have reported to the Highway. I have been confined to the house all winter, still I have no complaints whatever.

He only is my rock and my salvation. He is my defence. I shall not be moved. I am very glad that I ever learned to trust him, for I don't know what might have become of me if I hadn't learned in my early life to trust him. And at this time in my life he is very real to me. The blessed Holy Ghost, the abiding guest, hasn't left me a moment, for you know he has said I will never leave or forsake thee. I have trusted him when I had no strength of my own. But the blessed Holy Ghost has kept my feet in the narrow way ever looking unto Jesus, the Author and Finisher of my faith. Brethren, I am speaking to you all now: Be thou faithful unto death and you shall receive a crown of life.

I am spending the winter with my daughter Florence at Lisbon Falls.

Yours in Christ,

T. W. MOSES.

Rev. Percy Trafton: Millstream

Dear Sir: As I was to Beulah Camp Meeting last year and heard you appealing to the people for help to build a new dormitory, and as I did not pledge anything then, I thought I would send you a little now.

Yours saved and kept each day.

MRS. STANLEY KEITH.

Barton, N. S.

Dear Brother Trafton:

Enclosed find my renewal for the Highway. I enjoy reading the letters from the mission fields. My testimony is, Jesus saves and keeps me each day. I find day by day that God's grace is sufficient. My only desire is to follow where he leads me.

Yours in Christ,

MRS. F. E. SULLIVAN.

South Devon, N. B.

Dear Brother Trafton:

Please find enclosed postal note for renewal of Highway.

Praise the Lord for His abiding presence.

Dear Highway:

I would like space in your columns to write a few words of appreciation to the people on this field whose care and generosity towards us has not slackened but continues to keep up not only at Xmas time, but all the year around, even through the cold months of January and February. Why, one cold Sunday morning right in January a man put a twenty dollar check in the collection plate, and then one evening a man came to our home and wished me to trim up his hair. I evangelist always chose a man like himself—safe and sane." Ahem! I have heard that bave him the best trim I knew how to give, then he talked with us a while and when he arose to go I saw him reach in his pocket and get something, and I knew then that when he left I would be richer than I was before he came; well, he handed me a bill. I thanked him and put it in my pocket, but after he had gone I took it from my pocket to inspect it a little more closely and lo, and behold, it was a twenty dollar bill—some price to give for a hair cut, don't you think? Well, praise the Lord, he knows we appreciate these expressions of love and care; and then there are those other good brothers and sisters, who give Sunday after Sunday, week in and week out, until we wonder how they can give so much. God bless you, dear saints and kind people for your love and care. I visited W. B. Cronkhite's lumber camp a few nights ago and had a service, at the close of which they gave me an offering of nineteen dollars and fifty cents, and sent me on my way rejoicing. Well, praise the Lord, the end is not yet, but this will do to show you that this preacher is a long way from starvation yet. We have some real good services, not so very large, but God is there and that means a lot these days.

May the Lord bless you all and keep you on the high white line of purity and power.

Rev. P. J. Trafton:

Dear Sir: Enclosed find our renewal to the Highway. I enjoy reading it very much, especially the letters from Africa.

Yours truly,

MRS. J. T. GORDON.

Dear Highway:

Our monthly missionary meeting was held Friday evening, March 4th. The meeting was opened by our Vice President, Ruby White. Opening hymns were sung, followed by prayer. Dues and offering were then taken to the amount of $7.35 (seven dollars and thirty-five cents). Responsive readings were then given, followed by Scriptural reading and discourse by F. T. Wright. There was a reading by Etta Hilyard, and one by Jean Kimball.

The meeting was opened for testimonies followed by benediction by Jean Kimball.

Yours,

PEARL HILYARD,

Corr. Secretary

Dear Brother Trafton:

Enclosed you will find money for renewal to King's Highway for another year. This is the first year I have taken this paper, and it is a blessing to us. I am glad to say this morning I have the victory, and it is because he saves, cleanses and fills with his Holy Spirit. Pray for us here in Knoxford that the Lord will have his way in everything; he is working and blessing, but the devil is not dead yet, but if Zion will go to her knees and stay there she will hear from heaven.

Yours in love,

ROLLIE H. BARTLEY.

Dear Brother Trafton:

Enclosed find renewal for the King's Highway. My testimony this morning is that the past is under the Blood. I am enjoying the present, and the outlook for the future is glorious. Praise the dear Lord.

Yours in Christ,

I. E. KILCOLLINS.

Editor of the Highway:

Dear Brother: I was much impressed by your leading article in the last issue, from the pen of Rev. Smith Dow, on "Building Against Loss." His warning especially in the matter of the material we put in the building, is very pertinent. It needs to be carefully observed by preachers today.

If the Adversary can get a pastor to work with superficial methods, in a holiness church, he has little to fear, for soon that Church will be stranded on the rocks of worldliness; the pastor will be anxious to swell the numbers, and will seek by broad appeals to draw the people his way. Such a preacher, if he is genial and of pleasing personality, even though he be very weak in the pulpit, can work up a superficial success. Immediately you will hear holiness opposers on the outside commending him for his sociability and spirit of co-operation. "He is different from some others the church has had." They were narrow and dogmatic. Why they wouldn't even have unsaved members in the choir. But, dear Brother Broad says, "You must catch the young people by any means." And so he organizes a little whip-poor-will choir and lets the bobbed hair flapper have a place therein. They sing, "Naked, poor, despised forsaken, thou from hence my all shall be." And Brother Broad thinks it just lovely. Yes, they are naked and that is all the truth there is for them in the hymn they sing. If they would go and dress up it would be better.

God pity the faithful Holy Ghost man that has to take a run down worldly so-called holiness Church and begin to trim things down. He must suffer in his reputation. They say, and some good people are carried away with the worldly crowd, to take sides against the man who dares run a church on real spiritual lines, that "he is narrow and not at all like Brother Broad."

Brother Broad when he employed an
