

CORRESPONDENCE

Saint John, N. B.

Dear Sir:

I am enclosing Post Office Order, renewing my subscription to the King's Highway.

I enjoy reading this paper very much and wish to continue taking it.

Sincerely yours,

MISS EDNA CRUMP

Dear Highway:

Some time has gone into the irrevocable past since this field was reported, so we offer a few remarks. We greatly enjoyed the excellent quarterly meeting held with the Millville Church, Sept. 1-4. It was a profitable season to all, and we are anxious for it again next season.

Following this meeting Rev. E. W. Lester came with us for services during the week for two weeks, and was a blessing to those who attended.

Since then we have had another baptismal service, adding to the several before, when a young lady followed in this beautiful ordinance, witnessed by a large company.

On October 2nd the Church building at Maple Ridge was re-dedicated. The interior has been refinished and in its new dress of Douglas fir and metallic ceiling of very artistic design looks very becoming as a place of worship. The work was accomplished by sacrifice on the part of some at least who will receive the greater blessing.

Rev. H. S. Dow, of Hartland, was the special speaker, and his addresses during the day were inspiring, and the day will not soon be forgotten by those present.

That community has recently sustained a severe loss in the removal of our late Brother Henry Hoyt to Fredericton a few weeks before his passing to his eternal reward.

We have greatly missed his cheering testimony and timely counsel.

We have held special services at Norton-dale for two weeks, where a few found their way to God, we believe, and others were helped. Rev. F. A. Dunlop was with us two evenings at this place.

We are sorry to have met with disappointment in not having special services at Millville this fall, as it is the best time for meetings here, but trust to succeed next season (D.V.)

On the evening of November 11th a number of our friends at Millville gathered at the parsonage and after a pleasant evening together, Brother Abner Sharp, on behalf of those present presented us with a substantial purse. (Several not present gave later). For this tangible token of friendship and esteem we sincerely express our thanks and appreciation of the care taken of us by this people. May the Lord reward one and all, and bless the efforts put forth for the extension of his kingdom.

We wish soul prosperity to all the Highway family.

In His service,

Dear Friends:—

At Beulah this year, the Mission Board appointed me to the Home Mission work for six months. I was told that I was not supposed to hold any special meetings, but simply to be a temporary pastor to our pastorless churches, visiting around among the people and conducting the regular services. They told me that at Riverside I would be given my appointments. In the meantime I rested at Beulah, visiting Grey's Mills and Apohaqui and holding services over Sunday in each place.

The Lord withheld our Board from making out a list of appointments, and at Riverside I was told that from there I was to go to Westchester until Sept. 1st, when I was to attend the Quarterly Meeting at Salem, and stay and help them for a while. During the ten days spent among the dear Westchester people I visited and prayed in sixty homes, and held ten services and had the joy of seeing sixteen souls claim victory.

Of the quarterly here, you read in the Highway. The very evening of our arrival, at prayer in the field, the Lord put such a burden on my heart for these poor pastorless people that I could not stay my tears even on my return, and got the folks in the house to pray with me. The young man who so earnestly prayed through to sanctification that night has been pressing on ever since, and his prayers have been a factor in the salvation of a number of souls. He now confesses a call to the ministry.

That the Lord has sent a revival to Salem was apparent to us all before the close of the Sunday services, so though neither Brother Trafton nor Brother Mullen could be spared from their charges, the services were announced and started, and when they have not been here to help, I have had to carry on "alone."

For twelve weeks the services have continued, and neither the interest nor the blessing have abated. There has been no great break, nor excitement, many hard and discouraging things, still fighting all along the way, but slowly and steadily the work has gone on. Souls first saved, have pressed on to sanctification, and these too have grown stronger. Thirty-eight have claimed salvation and thirty-one pressed through to Holiness.

It has been wonderful to see God work, drawing the people, in spite of bad weather and poor roads. After a long hard day on the farm, trying to get their crops harvested in the wet, fathers and mothers, with their little ones, young men on bikes, some walking for miles, came and filled that little Church night after night. Often through the pouring rain, when one would not think a service possible, a faithful hungry little handful would gather, and some of our sweetest services were given. Family altars have been repaired, others started, drunkards saved, tobacco slaves delivered, brethren reconciled, confessions and restitution made, folks given a new vision and a burden for unsaved friends and relatives, and two promising young men have been called to His harvest field. The strength and health He has given me, to carry on so long has been nothing short of a miracle, and I am very grateful.

The large hearted hospitality of our precious Brother and Sister Martin, unwearied through the months, when they have warmed, lighted and cleaned the church, and entertained crowds of outsiders over Sunday, and provided a home for his children here has contributed largely to the success of the meetings.

The Salem folks are the old fashioned hospitable kind, and as I have gone about constantly visiting among them, spending a night or two first in one home and then in another, their love and hospitality have comforted and refreshed me. Both in this and in many other ways they are a great people to work among.

I have been deeply thankful for the privilege of working with our faithful Brothers Trafton and Mullen, and in the hearts of these people their self-sacrificing services here have found them a big place.

Friends, here we have a little flock of faithful souls, in a community favourable to the doctrine of holiness, and possibilities opening out on every side. If this work is to stand, we must have a pastor. With the Head of Millstream and Norton folks, they would not find it hard to support him, and the right man has a great work awaiting him here. Who will come? Let us pray the Lord of the harvest to send him while the tide of blessing still flows.

Yours in the battle for Holiness,

FAITH SANDERS

Dear Brother:

I am enclosing my renewal to the King's Highway. We enjoy it very much and would not want to be without it.

Your sister in Christ,

MRS. C. M. BLAISDELL

Milltown, Maine

Dear Highway:

Greetings in Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

As I sit in my study I am startled at the rapidity of time. I am approaching the second year of my stay at Calais. It seems but yesterday that I faced my people for the first. Time takes the wings of the morning and rushes in upon us; no sooner does it approach, than it passes and is gone, and we see it no more. Today we plod up the eastern slopes of youth; but tomorrow we will glide down the western hills of life. A few more days and our steps will become feeble, our eyes will grow dim, and our ears will be dull of hearing; a few more days and this world will be lost in the gathering mist of death, and beyond that pallid mist shall illumine the eternal shores. It is then that we shall stand face to face with God, our Creator, Christ our Redeemer, and the Holy Spirit our Sanctifier, Keeper and Comforter. It is then that we must give an account of our stewardship.

There are times when I stand upon the threshold of a parting year, and survey the past. I wonder if I have made any impression upon the world about me. There seems to be so much to do, and so little time to do it. After all we are but a fibre in God's great web, and although our part is but small, it has its place.

God truly has been with us as a Church. I am much encouraged with the work here. Brother Dunlop and Brother Cosman were with me for a meeting. They did not come empty-handed; the power and unction of the Holy Spirit was manifested in a marked way upon them. I feel that we had a good meeting. We are told in God's word, "The foolishness of God is wiser than the wisdom of men." God knows the deception, the devices, the strategy of Satan; if he is given an unhindered chance to lead the battle, there will be no miss-moves with him. God knew just what we needed here to break through the
